This book is dedicated to Maria and Louis who will await me at the peak of the mountain.

WHAT THIS BOOK CAN DO FOR YOU

Are you short of money? Does your love-life disappoint you? Are you a victim of poor health? Is the world against you? Do you feel that you are in a rut from which you may never escape? Does day-to-day living frustrate and annoy you? Do you seek power over your enemies? Would you like to know what the future holds for you, and to be able to change it? Is there anything about your life which you would like to change?

If your answer is "Yes" to any of those questions, read on. This book is for you—and it is totally different from any other book you have ever had in your hands.

By the time you reach the end of this book—possibly long before you read the last chapter—you will know the way to change your life in any way you wish.

You may have already seen books that promise self-help, and then offer miracles provided you carry out long and complicated mind paths for 24 hours a day, perhaps for years.

When you have read a few more of these pages, you will recognize why this book, above all others, will reshape your future in the way you want it to be. From hundreds of sources, some old, some new, the easy steps to mastery of your destiny are given to you. The method works—hundreds of my students will attest to that. These pages contain the very essence of a course I have been giving for the past four years. I have rewritten the lectures into easy-to-use form, retaining the whole heart of the method without tedious and time-consuming explanations.

There are no long philosophical meanderings here. The instructions are given to you in straightforward, simple language; and if you want to find out why they work, you can read up on them in other books.

My sole purpose here is to give you a practical way of getting ahead. No wishy-washy "ifs" or "buts." Just solid information that your mind will soak up the way a sun-dried stone absorbs water.

Agreed, you will find mysteries in these pages. The Words of Power and incantations given here in plain words—some for the first time ever—defy explanations as to why they work. But work they do, and you can leave the discussions and arguments to others, while you happily move out from under your present frustrations and see your biggest ambitions becoming reality.

This miracle is going to be accomplished by training your mind to turn on its inner mystic power—the power that has been known from the dim and distant past, yet mastered by so few people.

I DID IT—SO CAN YOU

Several years ago I was a nobody. I was working long hours in a factory, with little chance of seeing any changes until I retired on a small pension. My health was poor. I was always short of cash. I had no car, no television, just a few sticks of furniture, and my wife and I lived in a third-floor walk-up in the wrong end of the city.

In my spare time, I was studying occultism and magic, as I have been doing since I was 15 years old. Gradually, I learned to apply the practical teachings of old mystics, psychics, and occultists. Somewhere along the line I found the secret that had been evading me for so many weary years. This book contains that secret—in a shape your mind can understand and use easily.

In two brief years I soared from nothing to something, from poverty to luxury, and I've never looked back. I now drive an expensive British sports car—many of you will have seen me driving it around North America. I have appeared on television and radio across the U.S. My bank balance is in five figures, and climbing steadily, thank you. My wife, Maria, and I now live at the top of a luxurious air-conditioned hi-rise in the fashionable heart of Montreal, Canada. I write a weekly column for two wide-circulation American periodicals, and act as occult research editor for one of them. Other editors are accepting my writings all over the world.

My health is perfect. Every tiniest detail in my life has changed for the better. For example, my barber, Mike, commented earlier this year that my hair has grown again.

"Remember two years ago how I used to tell you that you were going bald?" he said. "It's all grown back, thicker than before. How did you do it? Usually, when anyone loses as much as you did, it just goes on getting worse. I'd call it a miracle. What's your secret?"

I told him, but I'm not sure if he believed me.

"It's one of the smaller miracles of New Avatar Power," I said. "You should try it."

A small miracle, perhaps, but Mike will be pleased to confirm it if you ever drop into Guy Street Metro Station, Montreal, for a little bit off the top. Ask Mike—he'll remember the bald patch that grew hair again.

NEW AVATAR POWER IS FOR REAL

Those preceding paragraphs are not deliberate boasting on my part. I have told you about myself to show you that the Miracle of New Avatar Power is no pie-in-the-sky.

When you meet a person, or read his words, and he promises you miracles, ask yourself one question: "If it's so good, why doesn't he do it himself?" Check into his background a little and see if his own situation backs up his claims.

After all, if he's got what he says he's offering to you, naturally the first person who will use it is himself—right?

In fact, he should use it, to make certain he's not handing you a rehashed and unworkable bunch of theories from someone else. I've used my own method, and you can check on me all you like. You'll find every last word of the foregoing is literally true. I'm now exactly what I've always dreamed of being—a successful lecturer, psychic researcher, and writer.

NEW AVATAR POWER IS THE ANSWER

In this world where so many people are lost, hopeless, and frustrated, one or two persons always stand out in the crowd. They sail effortlessly through their affairs. They are always smiling, they seem to have money whenever they need it, and they are always the center of a circle of admiring friends. The beat and burden of the mundane world just does not touch them, and their luck is incredible.

But is it just luck that makes them so happy and harmonious? What secret do they have that makes their lives run so smoothly?

The simple answer is that these people, whether they know it or not, have found how to tap their New Avatar Power. That Power can do anything—and this book gives you the simple methods of harnessing it.

As you latch on to these methods, you, too, can join the rich, happy, and successful people of the world. I'll go further than that: It's not a case of you can become successful and wealthy—you will do it, whether you want to or not, unless you stop reading this book right here and now.

HOW JOE P. WON $800 AT THE ROULETTE TABLE AFTER LISTENING TO THE GUIDANCE OF NEW AVATAR POWER

Some people take to New Avatar Power like ducks to water. Joe P., from Lathrop, California is one of them.

I met him in his home in September, 1972. It was our first meeting, and we talked far into the night. Joe was interested in my theories, and I gave him the barest outline of the method.

His inner mind listened, just as your inner mind is listening right at this moment.

Next day, Joe and his wife Nancy took me to Reno to see that fabulous city. Naturally, we visited one of the big casinos.

"I feel right," said Joe. "I think I'll try a few chips at the wheel."

Nancy looked uncertain.

"Just a few spins, Joe," she said. "You know how you always lose."

Joe grinned ruefully, but he bought a few of the cheapest chips and joined the game. I strolled off to look at the one-armed bandits and to have a coffee.

Twenty minutes later I came back to see how Joe was getting along. When I reached the table, a large crowd had gathered round. Joe sat there, placing bets, and I could hardly see him for the great pile of chips of all denominations in front of him.

"Am I hot," he grinned when he saw me. "Something inside me seems to be placing the bets."

Certainly it wasn't old Loser Joe who was gambling there. On almost every spin, the croupier pushed more chips over to Joe.

Finally, Nancy and I pried him away from the table. When he cashed his chips, he had won just over $800 in slightly over an hour.

"I did like you said," Joe whispered. "Man—I'll be back next week and clean this place out."

Did he win again? Sure he did. I had a telephone call from him around Christmas. He had just returned from Reno after entertaining two friends to a royal time there for a week.

Joe had won enough from the tables to pay every last red cent for their vacation, and still go home with hundreds of dollars in his pocket.

"I've only got one complaint," he said. "It takes all the thrill out of gambling, knowing you're going to win all the time."

Remember, Joe only had part of the method. You've got the complete method right in your hands at this moment.

THE NEW AVATAR POWER IS HERE FOR YOU TO USE

You should understand that everyone has Avatar Power. The only difference between an unsuccessful frustrated person and a happy successful person is that the successful one has tuned in to his Avatar Power—either by accident or design.

What Is This Mysterious Power?

Quite simply, it is what the Ancient Egyptians, the Essenes, and many other ancient races of men used to call "The Power of the Mysteries." It is the same Power that was sought in the Middle Ages by witches, warlocks, sorcerers, theurgists, and alchemists.

Yet those magical researchers of the Middle Ages were only partly on the right track. Many of their accessories, some of their chants and incantations, tools, spells, alleged Words of Power, and other ingredients were totally unnecessary. In fact, most of the old magical books contain a great deal of useless material that was put there merely to confuse the layman.

Now, after years of occult research, I have found out which are the useful pieces of the old spells and rituals, and which parts can be safely discarded without affecting the desired end results. From that research I have put together the necessary parts of the Avatar Power working in a form that anyone can use.

The result is that, with the help of this book, you can now work any miracle you wish.

Why Doesn't Everyone Use Their Avatar Power?

"Where's the catch?" you ask. "If it's so easy and efficient, why doesn't everyone use their Avatar Power all the time?"

Good questions—and the answer to both is that most people just don't realize they can do it. Or maybe their fears of the occult—planted by years of wrong-thinking about witchcraft and other "spooky" things—prevent the Avatar Power from getting to work for them.

Whatever the reasons may be, up until now 999 people out of every 1,000 still go on desperately from day to day, knowing that others can be happy and successful, but without being able to find the secret themselves.

This book gives you that secret—and it matters not one iota that you may be afraid of witches, or you have been taught to sneer at the occult.

READ ON, AND YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER WILL WAKE UP

This book has been written in a special way. Every word has been carefully chosen to speak deeply to your mind. No matter whether you believe these words—even if you totally deny their truth—the thoughts will slip far down into your mind, waking up forces, commands, and powers that have been slumbering unused for years.

As you are reading this, the meanings behind the words are sinking into your Inner Mind. No matter what your conscious reactions are to the ideas given to you here, your Inner Mind is busy recognizing the concepts—and acting on them.

Most of the challenge of writing this book was to get in under the conscious disbelief of you, the reader. We are considering here things that you have been told for years are impossible to do. I know they are possible—because I've done them—and your Inner Mind knows they're possible because deep down inside you are ancestral memories of the time when these miracles were free to every man and woman who used his or her Avatar Power.

So in order to wake up your Avatar Power from its long sleep, I have had to use words and phrases that will by-pass your conscious mind where doubt and disbelief may exist.

Many, many books, similar to this one, have been written and they worked for some people. Yet a great many of their readers found that the methods described wouldn't work for them. Those books failed because they did not offer the instructions in a shape that the inner mind of the average reader could accept, digest, and work on.

However much you may want to believe these words and put them into joyful practice, your own prejudices can impede you. Hence, the special way the words of this book have been put together.

You will find very little rehearsing or repeating or learning by rote here. All you have to do is to read this book through once, maybe twice, and your Inner Mind will get the message.

You can then find your own New Avatar Power and work any magic you want. If you feel you want a better life, a fine home, money, possessions, a loving partner—anything to make your life more worthwhile—all you have to do is to read on to the end of this book.

POWER, MONEY, LOVE, HEALTH—YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER WILL GIVE THEM ALL TO YOU

Your intelligence, education, background—none of those have any effect on your New Avatar Power. If you are alive, you have it—and you can use it.

Even if you feel your life is pretty smooth, there must be some area where it can be improved. Money? No problem to your New Avatar Power. Love? Use your Power to draw whomever you want toward you. Health? The Rituals and Words of Power in this book have healed thousands of people who have been condemned to a life of misery by medical science.

You name it—and I mean that quite literally—and your New Avatar Power will bring it to you.

Will Working with Your New Avatar Power Take Up All Your Time?

No, it will not. A unique feature of this method is that once you have stated your desire, the New Avatar Power goes ahead and brings it into reality with almost no further efforts on your part. In fact, once you have set a chain of events in motion, trying to help your New Avatar Power along will only delay the results.

Within these chapters you will find a practical, easy path to follow. The words are the result of years of research into old magical texts, hundreds of books, self-help courses, and arcane documents.

All the confusing parts of the old texts have been discarded. The remaining instructions have been tested by myself and my students—and this method works.

YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER IS ALREADY STIRRING

As you are reading these words, old memories are stirring deep within your mind. Continue to read on and those memories will waken and bring forces and energy flooding in to you. These forces are the Avatar Power used for centuries by magical adepts to perform their miracles.

Now you can do the same. Sit back for a moment and consider. What do you want, most of all, at this moment? Money? Health? Youthfulness? Love? To know what someone is doing or thinking? To have command over others? To dispel evil around you? To win at the track?

Something in your life needs changing for the better. Quietly say aloud what you most want to happen.

Have you done that? Good enough—you have placed the thought with your New Avatar Power and Hidden Forces are already working to bring your desire to reality.

Continue to read, and let the words of this book focus your New Avatar Power. No matter what you have asked, a mighty Cosmic Machine is spinning into action to satisfy your request.

So spend just a few minutes each day recalling some of the words within this book, as later chapters instruct you, and you will become anything you want to be, and have anything you want to have.

So mote it be!

HOW THE SECRETS OF THE ANCIENTS CAN BE USED TO BRING YOU AS MUCH HAPPINESS, SUCCESS AND MONEY AS YOU WANT

You have just taken the most significant step in your life so far. Yet what has happened up to now is nothing to what will be happening to you in a joyous and expanding future.

Follow these words through to the end of this book and you will discover a new world—a world where you can be master of your destiny, where you can have anything you want or need.

You have a power within you that can be woken. Long ago, men and women knew how to use that power to shape their lives and futures. The stories of the wonders of Atlantis, Egyptian magic, Tibetan mysteries, and the miracles that magical adepts used to perform are true.

Those stories have been distorted by time and by the vagaries of memory, but at the root of all miraculous stories is a strong vein of truth.

Yes, it is possible to work magic. Anyone—and that includes you—can be all-powerful. Within your mind and body, sleeping quietly right now, is a power so awe-inspiring that until you use it, your imagination cannot hope to comprehend its strength.

MEN WERE ONCE GODS

Long ago, perhaps 10,000 years in the past, many men knew the ancient secrets of the Universe. By magical means they could make gold, produce food out of thin air, make others obey them, win the love of a mate, disperse storms, repel their enemies, know the future, heal themselves and others, and solve each and every one of their personal problems.

That ability was known as the Old Wisdom, and from the feats of those men and women grew legends of the power and might of the "gods." Those stories survive today, and no matter what country you visit in the world, you will find stories of the gods who used to work miracles. Yet, even though these people became known as "Avatars"—a Hindu word meaning the incarnation or appearance of a god—they were ordinary folks, just like you and I. They merely had a knowledge of the Old Wisdom that enabled them to do anything they wished.

Not surprisingly, their secrets were jealously guarded, and soon the Avatars found themselves being persecuted by envious rulers and politicians who saw the Old Wisdom as a great way to gain ultimate power.

The Avatars took the line of least resistance. Some of them used their magical powers to transport themselves to remote hidden places in Tibet and the Himalayas. Others migrated to South America, North America, England, Germany, Wales, Scotland, Norway, Sweden—any place where they could find peace to practice their powers.

Gradually, the Avatars grew old. Some, of incredible age, still survive in Tibet, but as the centuries have passed, most of the Avatars have chosen to vacate their aging physical bodies. After all, they had done everything there was to be done, enjoyed every pleasant experience, and they passed on their way to Heaven knows what mystic realms.

THE AVATARS VANISHED—BUT THEIR KNOWLEDGE SURVIVES

So the years rolled on, and all but a few of the Avatars had left this earth. They left behind books, scrolls, libraries, stone engraving, and other clues to their work. But most of their knowledge vanished into the mists of time.

Came the Middle Ages, and the upsurge of Witchcraft. Some of the Avatar teachings still survived. The Cabala, a Semitic mystic tradition passed "from mouth to ear" had some of the Avatars' secrets. The Egyptian pyramids held other secrets for those who could read the "picture-writing of the gods." Ancient scrolls held more of the message. The arcane Tarot cards held some of it.

Sorcerers, warlocks, witches and alchemists began to fumble for the secrets of the power that the Avatars had wielded so successfully. And although no one found the whole range of the secrets, even those who found part of them were able to work startling magic.

THE AVATAR POWER WAS ALMOST LOST

Not surprisingly, the true Old Wisdom became mixed up with all manner of trial-and-error fumbblings introduced by the new magic workers. Broomsticks, cauldrons, eye of newt, human sacrifice, blood drinking, robes, wands, mystic symbols, calls to Demons for aid, and a whole mish-mash of special effects were utilized in the attempt to switch on the Avatar Power.

Before the Inquisition began, the magical world was so confused that no two witches could agree on how to perform any particular spell, and that confusion has survived to this day. Yet the Avatar Power is still alive and well. What escaped the old sorcerers—and many of those operating today—is the fact that there is no need for physical tools to help the Avatar Power work: by simple mind processes alone, that shattering power can be called into use.

As in many very powerful reactions, the basic work is ridiculously easy—so easy that most sorcerers missed seeing it altogether. Recall that the simple formula $E = mc^2$ led to the invention of the atomic bomb. Simple mind application will enable you to call on a power that is more powerful than atomic fission: atomic power has so far been used chiefly for destruction. Your New Avatar Power can create or destroy, as you wish.

HOW JIM Z. USED HIS NEW AVATAR POWER TO GET A WELL-PAYING JOB AFTER BEING UNEMPLOYED FOR A YEAR

When I first met Jim Z. in Cape Town, South Africa, he was a threadbare derelict. His home was a tin shack in a suburb of that beautiful city. Jim was totally broke, having been out of work for close to twelve months, and he asked me for a hand-out when I first encountered him on Adderley Street.

I gave him the price of a meal, and went on my way. But Jim didn't forget me. About a month later he came up to me in the street and somewhat diffidently asked me if I would join him for a coffee. It seemed he had found some temporary work for a week and wanted to return the money I had given him.

One thing led to another until Jim and I were meeting regularly for a chinwag. When he found out I was studying and researching magic, voodoo, witchcraft, and the like, he was all ears.

"Can't you give me a spell and a couple of Words of Power to get me a job?" he asked.

He was so sincere that I didn't have the heart to laugh. I explained a little about magic to him.

"It takes a bit of time and practice," I said. "Here—read these leaflets. They'll give you a few clues."

He went happily on his way, clutching some of my notes on Astral Travel. Those notes are incorporated in Chapter 9 of this book.

Almost a year later I was wondering why Jim had dropped out of sight when a brand-new Cadillac screeched to the curb beside me in Adderley Street. I hardly recognized Jim as he grinned at me from behind the wheel.

He was wearing a superbly cut suit, a diamond ring sparkled on his finger, and he glanced at a gold watch on his wrist which must have cost a small fortune.

"Hop in, if you've got time. I'll buy you the best meal they can serve at the R—," he said, naming Cape Town's plushiest restaurant.

As we ate, he told me he was working as a sales manager for a large South African organization. His salary was over R16,000 ($24,000) a year. He'd already salted away close to $10,000, bought a house in one of the plush suburbs in the foothills of Table Mountain, and his sales were going up like a rocket. He expected to top $50,000 in commissions within another six months.

"It was all thanks to your notes," he smiled. "I read 'em, and went and tried that Astral Travel bit, lying on my back in the sun on the beach."

"It worked. You know, I could move out of my physical body, and send my astral body all over the town!"

Jim must have been a "natural." Not everybody does it first try, just like that. But Jim told me how he floated all around the city, invisible and weightless, peeping in at windows, soaring up the mountain, and generally having a high old time.

"Then I used it to look for a job," he grinned. "I was astral traveling down in the commercial area, drifting through an office block, when I heard two businessmen saying they wanted to start someone new on their sales force. They were discussing putting an ad in the paper."

Jim said he zapped back to his body, spent his last few cents on a quick shave, spruced himself up and presented himself at the office he had seen during his astral journey.

"Were they ever surprised," he grinned. "But I talked my way into the job."

From then on, Jim used his astral travel to get the low-down on sales business. He was able to eavesdrop, invisibly, on competitors, drift into the offices of clients and find out exactly what they were considering buying, and his success earned him promotion within the first two months.

"I'll be Area Manager for the whole of the Cape Province soon," he said. "That's worth about $100,000 a year. After that, the whole Republic. How can I lose with New Avatar Power on my side?"

YOU CAN DO WHAT JIM DID—AND FAR MORE

Remember, Jim had only a dozen or so pages with just a couple of minor secrets of New Avatar Power. Yet, he worked himself a miracle.

Astral Travel is only one of many aspects of New Avatar Power. Just imagine what you are going to be able to do when you have gotten the knack of as many as you want to master.

I am not kidding you when I say the sky is the limit. With New Avatar Power literally flowing from your fingertips—you'll see that flow later, by the way—you'll be able to alter any situation to suit yourself. Let your mind wander around that idea for a few moments.

HOW JANE P. DISCOVERED SECRETS
ABOUT HER RELATIVES AND INHERITED $500,000
WHICH SHE MIGHT NEVER HAVE RECEIVED

Jane P., a pretty young woman of 22, is rich today. She was one of my students in Johannesburg, South Africa. She used her New Avatar Power to inherit a great deal of money that greedy relatives were trying to get their hands on.

She was just 19 year old, still a minor, when both her father and mother died in a terrible car accident on the Bloemfontein Road outside Johannesburg. Her father, a well-to-do industrialist, had apparently left no will.

Jane, grieving, moved in with an aunt and uncle in Benoni, a small town about 30 miles from Johannesburg. They cared for her reasonably well, but they would never answer any questions about what happened to the family's money.

Jane was quite certain there must have been a tidy sum in the bank after her father's affairs had been wound up.

When she joined my study group, her face was still lined with grief, even though the accident had happened a year previously. One evening she asked me for advice.

"Aunt Peg wants to legally adopt me," she said. "I can't quite figure out why."

I advised her to retire to her room for three consecutive evenings, relax, and let her New Avatar Power tell her what to do. That led to a tremendous revelation for her.

"I received a strong idea that I should search my uncle's desk," she told me later. "I couldn't understand why. It seemed sneaky at the time—but I soon found out that he was being twice as sneaky to me."

While her guardians were out shopping, Jane stood doubtfully in front of the desk.

"Then my hands moved automatically to a slot at the back," she said. "I lifted a piece of wood which I thought was a solid part of the desk and a little drawer popped open.

"In there was a letter addressed to me."

The letter was from a Johannesburg lawyer. In legal language it explained that she would inherit almost $500,000 on her twenty-first birthday.

Delighted, she called the lawyer. He was puzzled. He had a letter on file which said that Jane didn't want the money, and asked him to give it to her adopted parents as soon as the adoption papers had gone through.

The letter had been forged by her aunt, but it didn't take long to sort the matter out. Jane's uncle and aunt went to prison for a long while, and Jane took a beautiful apartment in Hillbrow, Johannesburg. On her 21st birthday, the money was signed over to her.

"If it hadn't been for listening to my New Avatar Power I'd still have been living in Benoni working as a clerk," she wrote to me.

THE NEW AVATAR POWER IS HARMLESS

Those two previous examples show how the New Avatar Power, working quietly and gently, can change lives for the better. Yet the Power is harmless to the user.

Many people, when they hear the word "magic" or anything associated with it, at once think that the Devil or his demons are involved.

That is merely part of the confused attitudes of the Middle Ages. New Avatar Power needs no weird helpmates, or strange ingredients.

Agreed, we do call on Mystic Beings to help things along in some of the work, and do use certain valuable Words of Power, but using magical circles, bats' wings, or any other difficult-to-obtain items is not only very out of date, but also totally useless for many people.

HOW A MODERN AVATAR WORKER OPERATES

These days, anyone you meet may be an Avatar. Gone are the mystic robes, pointy hats, mumbled chants, strange postures, and eccentric behavior.

An Avatar, as part of his path which you will understand as you read further, looks and behaves no differently from anyone else—on the surface. But behind his or her quiet eyes is a mind that knows the New Avatar Power is there to be called at any time it is needed.

First, an Avatar learns to control the Power. Then he uses it for his benefit, or to help others. You are now well on the way toward being able to do the same.

HOW YOU BEGIN TO BECOME AN AVATAR

You may have expected that at this stage you would be told to give up all earthly pleasures and responsibilities, to suppress all physical desires, or other equally difficult disciplines.

On the contrary, you will not be giving up anything you want to keep, but you will be acquiring a great number of things you desire and will enjoy.

The basic, vitally important step toward letting your New Avatar Power flow free is to achieve physical relaxation, a complete slackness and letting go of your body. This removes the tensions that are, at the moment, keeping your New Avatar Power in check.

Do I hear you say: "I can't relax?" If I do, we're about to prove you are wrong. A few pages further on you will find the New Avatar Power Ritual.

It is carefully designed. You have a few wisps of New Avatar Power already at your command. The Ritual calls on that tiny amount of Power, and uses it to enable you to relax physically. This, of course, increases the flow of the Power that moves in even more strongly to help you to relax.

So you set up a splendid closed circle. The more you relax, the more New Avatar Power is available, and the more Power that becomes available, the deeper you relax.

All you have to do is sit down and read or listen to some words, saying some of them aloud. Your Inner Mind will recognize what is going on, and allow your New Avatar Power to flow.

HOW TO RELAX PHYSICALLY

A few short, simple steps separate you from entering a limp, relaxed state. You are about to learn to relax every muscle in your body, and it will take up just 15 minutes of your time each day.

Try to find 15 minutes every day for your New Avatar Power

Ritual. Ideally, it should be at the same time and in the same place, seated on the same piece of furniture.

Yes, you are going to relax sitting down. Later you will be lying flat on your bed, performing true miracles with your New Avatar Power, but for the moment you should use it while you're sitting in a chair. This powerful Ritual will send you straight to sleep if you practice it lying down at this stage of your development.

Find a place where you can be undisturbed for about quarter of an hour. Switch off the TV and radio. Decide which chair you will sit in: if it is too soft, you'll fall asleep. On the other hand, if it is too hard you will be uncomfortable. An ordinary padded kitchen or dining chair is excellent.

Place your chair in the room where it feels right for you. Against a wall, in the corner of the room, in the center of the room, by the door, by the window—anywhere: but when you sit down you should feel at ease. Most people choose to place their chair against a wall, facing the door.

Once your chair is positioned, use that spot each day during your New Avatar Power Ritual.

Darken the room by drawing the drapes or hanging a blanket at the window. Ideally, the room should be dim enough so that you cannot read the fine print of a newspaper—but it should never be pitch black during these sessions.

Some people find that a single candle burning, or a dim, colored lamp helps them.

Now arrange a single light to shine gently over your shoulder on to your lap so that you are able to read the New Avatar Power Ritual.

Sit back in your chair. Make yourself comfortable with your back straight, but not stiff. Tuck your buttocks into the back of the chair so that your spine is upright, with your chin held level without any straining to hold the position. Your head should balance easily on your shoulders without any tendency to drop either forward or backward.

Place your feet flat on the floor, almost touching. Loosen any tight clothing you may be wearing. What you wear is unimportant, as long as you are comfortable. You can be barefooted, or even totally nude if you wish.

Lay your hands in one of two ways, whichever feels easier. Either palms upward on your thighs, or palms downward on your knees. This is the position you should adopt at all times during the Ritual, except when you are holding this book to read the necessary words.

THE NEW AVATAR POWER RITUAL

Quietly read the following words aloud, listening to what you are saying. Read slowly and carefully, pausing between sentences, and stopping for about three seconds wherever you find three periods (. . .) in the text. It should take you a full four minutes to read the words aloud from beginning to end.

★ "I am beginning the New Avatar Power Ritual. I call on the Inner Planes to witness. I state my purpose thus: ANKAR YOD HAY VAW HAY."

"I begin to wind down, to let go and be rid of all the tensions of my body. To let my muscles relax, unwind and let go.

"The tensions are beginning to drain from my body. Soon, a gradual heaviness will start to weigh down my thighs, my arms, my hands, my feet, my legs, my body.

"My muscles unwind and let go. All my muscles are relaxing, unwinding and relaxing.

"Very soon I shall feel the unwinding, the letting go. Unwinding and letting go. Unwinding, letting go. Unwinding. Letting go.

"Deeper and deeper . . . letting go . . . unwinding and letting go.

"The tensions drain from my muscles and they will soon become loose, letting go, relaxing and unwinding.

"Noises round about me will drift into the background. I shall feel the relaxing, the letting go, the unwinding.

"Breathing easily and deeply. Easily and deeply.

"Unwinding and letting go . . . drifting into the peace and serenity of complete relaxation. And as my body unwinds and relaxes, so I enter the peace and quiet, where only these words have meaning, and nothing else disturbs me.

"Letting go . . . unwinding . . . letting go . . . unwinding . . . relax . . . relax . . . relax . . . let go . . . let go . . . let go . . . relax . . . relax . . . relax . . . let go . . . let go . . . let go."

"I call on Thee, Mighty Arzel, who stands in the East, to assist me in this and all my ventures. I know now that my New Avatar Power is flooding to the surface. ★ I now close my eyes gently."

Now sit quietly for about two minutes, letting your mind wander as it will, and then open your eyes.

From this point in the Ritual you always begin to perform a spell or other piece of magical working. For easy reference, think of the point where you open your eyes again as "Point A" in the Ritual. I shall be referring to Point A later in this book.

The instructions will say: "Carry out the New Avatar Power Ritual to Point A" and this tells you that you should prepare for the Ritual and say or listen to the words as explained from the initial instructions on p. 40 up to this point.

Also, for the sake of simplicity, from now on I will refer to New Avatar Power by its initials—NAP. Wherever you find "NAP" in the text, you will understand that this refers to New Avatar Power.

NOTES ON THE NEW AVATAR POWER RITUAL

1. If you own a tape recorder, you can make a tape of the above Ritual words, between the stars, from ★ to ★ After recording the words, let the tape run silently for a further 10 minutes, so that when you replay the tape, the Ritual words are followed by 10 minutes of silence.

Then instead of reading the words to yourself each day, you can start the tape recording speaking to you as you sit in the dim. In that event, you can dispense with the reading lamp shining over your shoulder, and you can listen to the whole of this part of the Ritual with your eyes closed. You will, however, need the lamp later for reading spells.

When the tape reaches the Words of Power "ANKAR YOD HAY VAW HAY" (which, like all other Words of Power in this book, is pronounced exactly as it is spelled), say the Words aloud, and near the end of the tape, begin saying the words aloud from: "I call on Thee . . ." through to Point A of the Ritual.

2. You should carry out the Ritual daily for best results; 15 minutes is the maximum you need for the Ritual and the magical workings that follow it. Try to make yourself a present of that daily quarter-hour—it will be the most stupendously valuable present you have ever given yourself.

If your day is really packed tight with things to do, set your alarm clock 15 minutes earlier, so that your first action of the day is to carry out your New Avatar Power Ritual and a magical working.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN DURING THE NEW AVATAR POWER RITUAL?

A great deal. Before you have been doing it for a full week, you'll actually feel your NAP flooding through your body. You'll feel a prickling of your feet and hands. You will see lights against your closed eyelids. You may smell a beautiful perfume for a moment.

These are all signs that the Mystic Beings who you command are moving to do your bidding. You can be confident that anything and everything that happens to you during the Ritual is to your benefit. You are following an ancient path toward releasing your NAP, so that the powerful and good Mystic Beings you call on can bring your needs and desires to you.

KEEPING YOUR BOOK OF SHADOWS

You may have heard of Grimoires, ancient hand-written books containing magic spells, chants, herbal recipes, incantations and other magical lore. These highly valued books were written by practicing occultists during their work, and a few of them still survive to this day.

You are going to write your own Grimoire to assist you on your way. Your Grimoire, or Book of Shadows as it is also called, will be of tremendous value to you in the future.

Any notebook will serve for your Book of Shadows. A stenographer's notebook is ideal, although you may wish to purchase something more ornate for this important tool that you will be consulting in the future.

Your first entries in your Book will consist of brief records of what happened during your NAP Ritual and magical workings each day. At the end of the Ritual you should scribble down a few words describing what happened during that 15 minutes.

Later on your brief notes will be expanded, as you record the fabulous things that have happened to you, both during the Ritual, and also as a result of your planned use of your NAP.

YOUR BOOK OF SHADOWS IS SECRET

Your Book of Shadows is your very first Avatar tool. Each day you will make notes of your progress, and many people get their first inkling of exactly what a fantastic power they are in touch with as they see the changes in their lives recorded in their Book.

Your Book of Shadows is your own private record. No one else should read it without your permission and you should keep it locked away from prying eyes.

WHAT NEXT?

Your initial tasks are simple, and they get no more difficult as you go along. Establish a time and place for your NAP Ritual and carry it out daily. Make notes in your Book of Shadows after each Ritual, and in Chapter 2 you will see how to add chants, incantations, and invocations to the basic Ritual to carry you along your successful and harmonious way, automatically bringing into reality every last wish you have ever dreamed of.

CHANTS, INVOCATIONS AND INCANTATIONS TO AUTOMATICALLY BRING YOU MONEY, HEALTH, LOVE, POWER, POSSESSIONS AND HAPPINESS

As you sit quietly after completing the New Avatar Power Ritual, you are channeling your NAP to the surface. Then when you perform the chants, invocations, and incantations that follow, you are using the Mystic Vibrations of the Universe to shape your future.

This is genuine ancient Magic and the results are going to amaze you. Automatically and simply, whatever you ask for becomes a reality.

When you have opened your eyes at Point A of the Ritual, remain seated and relaxed and open this book. Decide what you wish to achieve and find the appropriate section.

Then read the words aloud, firmly and decisively. When you come to an unfamiliar word, pronounce it exactly as I have written it. If you stumble over it the first few times, don't worry—but practice it until you can say the syllables clearly. You are commanding Mystic Beings to carry out your desires, and they will obey you.

These powerful spells are secret and have never been published before. As you begin to read the words, make certain that you have the object of your desire clearly in mind. In that way you will be attuning yourself with the Beings you are commanding.

When you have finished reading the spell, sit quietly with closed eyes for a minute or two, and then come out of your Ritual as I have explained on page 67.

Perform only one spell on any one day. In fact, you will bring much quicker results if you repeat one particular spell every day at the same time until the result is achieved. You can then pass on to satisfying your next desire.

You will find 10 different spells on the following pages. Those 10, plus the General Purpose Invocation on page 65, cover every possible need. Any requirement that will not fit under any of the 10 specific spells can be dealt with by using the General Purpose Invocation.

So proceed with your NAP Magic. You are carving a path that will automatically bring results within days or even hours.

INCANTATION FOR WINNING CONTESTS

I call Thee, powerful Labezerin¹ who has the power to bring good fortune to those who demand.

I require Thee to be my mentor and to be by my side and guide me to success as I select the chances in the contest I shall enter.

Know, Thou Genius, that this is my stated desire. I command Thee to fulfill my will and I seal this command by saying: SKI-MA-AH-MA-THEE-UH which Joshua called and the sun stayed its course. So mote it be.

HOW LYNN B. WON $750,000 WITH THE NEW AVATAR POWER INCANTATION FOR WINNING CONTESTS

Lynn B. from Reading, England, would be the first to admit that she is just an ordinary housewife from a family where money was always a problem, and the good things of life were always just out of reach.

When she came to attend a course of my lectures in Woking-¹Pronounced LAH-BEES-EAR-EEN. This incantation is equally effective for lotteries, track-betting, number games, bingo, roulette, card-playing, or other games of skill or chance.

ham, she was insistent that she was not psychic and had never shown the slightest evidence of ESP or any similar powers.

She wrote to me last August. Her letter reads:

"...I performed the New Avatar Power Incantation for Winning Contests. That night I had a very clear dream about filling in football coupons. (An English sweepstake or lottery, based on forecasting the results of football matches.—G.G.C.)

"In my dream I was looking for teams that would draw (tie) to enter them in the Treble Chance Pool.²

"Some of the printing on the coupon was lighting up like small neon signs.

"When I awoke I remembered my dream and told my husband about it. He laughed and handed me that week's football coupon.

" 'Go ahead and fill in your dream teams,' he laughed. 'You can't do worse than I usually do!'

"As I looked at the paper, the printing didn't light up, but the teams I had dreamed were in the same positions on the coupon. There were eight of them.

"I marked them on the coupon and my husband laughed again when I bought a postal order for sixpence (about 8 cents) and sent in a single entry.

" 'You have to enter hundreds of lines to stand a chance of winning,' he said. 'Some people have been investing for 20 years without getting a thing.'

"That was my first entry ever, and I really didn't know what I was marking down on the coupon.

"On the Saturday my husband turned on the evening TV to get the sports results. As the announcer was reading the football, he was checking my coupon.

" 'Well done,' he muttered. 'The first one was a draw . . . and the second . . . Wow! You've got the first three right!'

"A minute later he leaped in the air with a yell.

" 'I don't believe it,' he yelled. 'You've got all eight right. How did you do it?'

"I was numb. I didn't really believe I could have dreamed the results—yet I did.

²Treble Chance Pool: An entry where the investor has to correctly forecast eight tied games. The odds against winning the big prizes in that pool in any one week have been calculated to be 152,385,619 to 1.

"The following week the football pool company invited us to a grand reception in London, and I was handed a cheque for the biggest prize ever paid out to one person for sixpence."

Lynn received a check equivalent to over $750,000. All her troubles are over now, and she and her family live in their "dream" house overlooking the River Thames. They have two cars, a color television, and all the luxuries that money can buy.

"What a contrast with our previous hand-to-mouth existence," Lynn wrote. "New Avatar Power certainly turned up trumps for us!"

INVOCATION FOR MONEY

In the Power of the Names EH-HEH-YEH, YEH-HO-VO-EL-OH-HEEM and YEH-HO-VO-AH-VAY-DAH-ASS I place this Invocation with Thee, Nitika,³ Genius of Wealth.

Know that I require and command Thee to bring me gold. Thou hast dominion over wealth and Thou shalt begin this very instant to shape the future such that money shall come to me, enough and to spare, by the powers of these Words and Invocation.

Be Thou ruled by me in the Names SHAH-DYE-ELL-KIGH and AH-DOH-NIGH-HA-AH-RETZ. So mote it be.

HOW BOB D. WON $5,000 AFTER PERFORMING THE INVOCATION FOR MONEY

The following is an extract from a letter that is in my files. I will let it speak for itself:

"After performing the Invocation for Money I see colors on my closed eyes. I do not usually see these but they swim and swirl until I think the room is on fire.

"Then out of the colors comes a number 2, like it was built from bright yellow fire. Then a golden 3 appears, followed by a 4, then a 5, and last a zero.

"I ask myself, what does this mean? And the word Loto springs into my brain like someone had spoken it without talking.

"It is two days to the Quebec Mini Loto. After much searching of ticket sellers, I found ticket 23450.

³Pronounced KNEE-TEA-KAH.

"Last Friday the lottery is drawn. That number wins $5,000 for me.

"Signed: Bob D., Montreal, Canada. Jan 17, 1973.

CHANT TO BRING SUCCESS

In all my undertakings henceforward I conjure and command Thee, mighty Elubatel,⁴ to protect me, bear me up and carry me forward to the pinnacle of success.

Thou shalt give me clarity of mind to confound my opposers; Thou shalt bend the Laws of the Cosmos to my and Thy will, bringing each and every one of my desires to pass.

I shall be enwrapped in Thy faultless Powers, and tread ever higher to that glittering peak which I covet.

Hear this, and obey me: AH-NAH-FAX-EE-TONE which Aaron heard and spoke. Thou shalt guide me to success. So mote it be.

HOW BILL C. PAID EVERY ONE OF HIS CRIPPLING DEBTS AND WENT ON TO BETTER THINGS BY PERFORMING THE CHANT TO BRING SUCCESS

A man from Toronto, Canada, came to me recently and told me he would like to take my course of lectures, but he couldn't afford it.

"My name is Bill C." he said. "You may not have heard of me, but every collection agency in North America knows me well."

"Sit down and listen," I said. "You can pay me after the fifth or sixth lesson."

He laughed bitterly.

"I only came here tonight to get away from the debt collectors who knock on my door and call me up at work every day," he answered. "It's making me a nervous wreck. I'm so far in debt, I don't know which way to turn."

"But I suppose owing you a few extra bucks won't make things better or worse. I'll stay—but remember, I told you I'm flat broke."

He joined the study group. Even after the first lecture he looked more peaceful and relaxed, but he was still very worried about his money problems.

⁴Pronounced ELL-YOU-BAIT-ELL.

"When you get home tonight, perform the Chant to Bring Success," I told him. "Do it each night, and then come back next week and tell us what happened."

Seven days passed, and Bill walked into the lecture room as if he was strolling on air.

"I'm free," he said, "and I can't believe it. I don't owe anyone a dime. And I've got enough left over to pay for the course, just like you said I would."

I had him tell the class what had happened.

The day after he performed the Chant, he was given a check for $650 from his employers who had just discovered an error in his yearly tax deductions.

The next day Bill's insurance agent called to explain that a policy which Bill had been paying $1.00 per month into for 10 years had bonuses attached to it. Did Bill want them in cash, or did he want to increase his insurance coverage?

"A bird in the hand," grinned Bill. "I took the cash."

His tide of good luck continued, culminating in a small investment on the horses bringing Bill a neat $950.

Success piled on success. More money flooded in during the week, and Bill paid off his debts.

Before the course of lectures ended a few months later, Bill had received a promotion at work that pushed his salary up from $120 a week to $220. Everything began going his way, and when I last heard of him he had won a luxury home in a contest, had furnished it in style with his newly found wealth, and had then taken an extended vacation in the Bahamas.

Miraculous? Bill thought so, yet I know it was his NAP and the Mystic Beings he had commanded in the Chant to Bring Success.

INCANTATION TO WIN A LEGAL ACTION

Mighty Ieliah⁵ who holds sway over the decisions of men, Thou shalt bring Thy power to bear on my behalf in the legal action which is pending.

I command that I shall be successful in this, my hour of need. Thou hast the ability to aid me in achieving this desire. Hear the Word and be obedient to It and me: NAB-RAT-AGLA-SURE-AN-AT. So mote it be.

⁵Pronounced EYE-EEL-AH-HE-YAH.

HOW JOHN L. ESCAPED PAYING $18,000
IN A LAW CASE AFTER PERFORMING THE INCANTATION TO WIN A LEGAL ACTION

John L., a millwright, was in deep trouble. While he was driving his 8-year-old car in a western city, his front tire blew out. John lost control, and his car mounted the sidewalk, smashing into a store front. Luckily, neither John nor anyone else was injured, but the plate-glass window of the store was smashed, and the pieces had fallen on a display of expensive clothing ruining them.

The owner of the store promptly sued John for $15,000. John carried no insurance, and if he lost the case he seemed likely to spend the next ten years paying off the debt out of his meager salary.

"I would have been totally broke," he said. "There were also the Court costs to consider. My lawyer was very pessimistic and said if I was lucky, I would end up owing about $18,000 to him, the Court, and the store owner."

John heard of the NAP methods from a friend and came rushing round to my home late one night.

"I've heard you know a spell for winning a legal action," he panted. "Please, if you never do another favor for anyone, do it for me."

I explained that magic works best if you do it yourself and gave him the necessary leaflets, telling him to perform the Incantation to Win a Legal Action in the morning before his Court appearance.

He performed it, but he was still in fear and trembling as he waited in Court for his case to be heard.

Then, just before John's lawyer was about to address the judge, the plaintiff's lawyer stood up.

"My client wishes to withdraw all charges against the defendant, and agrees to pay all Court costs, including defendant's legal commitments to his own counsel," the lawyer said. "My client will also reimburse the defendant for damage to his vehicle, provided the defendant agrees that he will not proceed against my client for any reason arising from the incident that occasioned this action at law."

John turned to his lawyer. "What does all that mean?" he asked.

His lawyer smiled. "It means you don't owe a penny, and you'll get your car repaired free of charge," he said. "Something has convinced the store owner that you had grounds for proceeding against him for damages.

"We'll never know what changed his mind, but don't question it. Take your money and breathe a sigh of relief. I was sure you were a goner."

What made a hard-nosed store owner change his mind and back down from suing for thousands of dollars?

"I don't care what reason the store owner thought he had," said John. "I know it was the Power of the Incantation."

INVOCATION FOR PROTECTION FROM EVIL

I invoke Thee, Gadiel,⁶ in Thy power and wisdom to place around me a shield against which evil shall be powerless.

Those who would harm me shall be powerless, and their evil shall return to them a thousandfold. Be Thou ready and able to place this protection, as I seal it with Thee with the Words: EE-YOTE-EE-YAH-VAW-ARE-ZALL.

I am within Thy protection now and my enemies cannot harm me. So mote it be.

HOW THE INVOCATION FOR PROTECTION FROM EVIL TURNED THE TABLES ON THE MAN WHO WAS TRYING TO HARM BETTY S.

Betty S., a retired seamstress from New York, wrote to me not long ago.

"My landlord is going to evict me from my little apartment," she wrote. "The man in the next apartment hates me for no reason at all. He's sending evil my way, and he's told the landlord I should be put away because I'm crazy. I'm frightened and miserable. Everytime I meet the man in the hallway he says he's put a curse on me. What can I do?"

I wrote to her, enclosing the NAP Ritual and the Invocation for Protection from Evil. I told her to perform the Invocation each evening before she went to bed.

Another letter arrived from Betty just nine days later.

⁶Pronounced GAH-DEE-ELL.

"I did as the instructions advised," she wrote. "At once, I felt a lifting of the evil forces against me.

"I saw the man on the stairs the next day. He pointed a finger at me and opened his mouth to abuse me as he usually does.

"Then he suddenly dropped his hand, and swung away from me without saying a word. He almost ran to his apartment and slammed the door behind him."

Betty's letter went on to say that the landlord passed by that evening and apologized to her for worrying her.

"I was listening to idle gossip and I'm sorry," he said. "Stay as long as you wish, and if there's anything that needs fixing, just give me a call."

At midnight Betty heard shouting and scuffling in the corridor outside her apartment. She climbed out of bed and opened her front door a crack to peep out.

"The man who had threatened me was being marched off downstairs by a big cop," she wrote. "Seems the cops had called on a routine enquiry about the man's car, but the man—for no reason anyone can figure—drew a gun and tried to shoot one of the cops in the leg. He's been locked up for five years. Now I can look forward to some peace."

CHANT TO EXCITE LOVE

Hear me, Anael and Jazar,⁷ Thou spirits of Venus and love. I desire to excite love and passion in the heart of . . .⁸

Stretch forth Thine hands and pluck the heart strings such that my desire is returned a hundredfold.

I conjure this command thus: HOR-TA-ELL-RACK-AH-MAY. So mote it be.

HOW MARIUS W. FOUND A PERFECT PARTNER AFTER USING THE CHANT TO EXCITE LOVE

Marius W., a divorcee from Los Angeles, was very interested in the part of my lecture course dealing with the chants, invocations, and incantations.

⁷Pronounced AH-NAY-ELL and JAHZ-AIR.

⁸Here, say the name of the object of your desire, if you know his or her identity. If not, say "a partner."

"I'm totally lonely," he confided to me in private. "Will that Chant help me?"

I assured him that it would and asked him if he had a possible partner in mind. Enthusiastically, he described a blonde woman who worked in his office.

"She's everything I've ever dreamed of in a woman," he enthused. "But she's totally indifferent to me. I've tried hard enough to date her, but you'd think I didn't exist. I'm getting desperate, and my nerves are suffering."

One week of performing the Chant to Excite Love daily changed all that.

"That first morning after I named her during the Chant, she smiled at me," reported Marius. "Next day I asked her to join me at coffee. She came along willingly, and would you believe that previously cold woman was pressing her knee against mine under the table?"

On the third day, she agreed to go out for a night on the town with Marius.

"It was perfect," he said. "She just sat and picked at her food, gazing deep into my eyes, hanging on my every word. And when I took her home, she invited me in for coffee without a murmur of opposition."

Marius went on to relate many more intimate details of the perfection of his love life since he began the Chant. After an exciting and perfect three weeks, Marius proposed to his blonde lady. She accepted with fervor and delight.

"Her love for me is almost frightening," said Marius. "There's literally nothing she won't do for me when I crook my finger at her."

"I can never say I'm lonely any more. That's all in the misty past."

The couple are now married, and with their combined resources they have set up a luxurious, happy home.

INCANTATION TO REKINDLE A MATE'S INTEREST

I invoke Thee, Pagiel,⁹ to light a flame in the heart of my mate—a flame that will burn ever higher, so that he/she¹⁰ turns to me in fervor and in love, blind to my faults, and desiring only to please me in whatever way he/she can.

⁹Pronounced PA-GEE-ELL.

¹⁰Use whichever pronoun applies.

I command that our companionship shall become perfect, each fulfilling every need and desire for the other. I also demand that any shortcomings, be they physical or mental, be swept aside such that our partnership shall be perfect.

Hear this Word of Power, Thou Pagiel and obey me: VEDGE-EED-OR-AH-MEET-EYE. So mote it be.

HOW ZOE G. USED THE INCANTATION TO REKINDLE A MATE'S INTEREST AND BROUGHT HER HUSBAND TO HER SIDE AGAIN

"I know my husband is running around with other women— young ones who are flattered by the attentions of an older man," Zoe G. told me in her home in Iowa. "After 15 years of marriage he's lost all interest in me.

"If he ever does stay home for an evening, he just watches TV all night and then slumps into bed and goes straight off to sleep. No matter what I do—new hairdos, special meals, seductive clothes—he just won't glance my way anymore. This has been going on for two whole years, and I'm miserable and frustrated. I feel I'm going to have a nervous breakdown if it goes on much longer."

It didn't take long to teach Zoe, an attractive 45-year-old ex-schoolteacher, the NAP Ritual and the Incantation to Rekindle a Mate's Interest.

She called me the very next day.

"Wow!" she said. "He came home early and we spent the evening together. He talked to me—really talked, about old times, and a vacation, and the future.

"That's the first time that's happened for two years!"

Better was to come. Zoe was almost embarrassed to tell me how her husband had grown a new love for her. They resumed a normal marital relationship and her husband took her to shows, to restaurants, and for long drives in the country.

"It's like a second honeymoon, only better," Zoe wrote to me from a plush hotel in the Bahamas where her husband had taken her for an extended vacation. "He's only got eyes for me, and he doesn't even glance at the bikinis on the beach.

"Everything's perfect again, and the past years seem to be like a forgotten nightmare that's fading every day. How can I ever thank you?"

It was not me she should have thanked. Her NAP and Pagiel who helped to work the miracle for her deserve her gratitude.

INVOCATION TO GIVE SECRET KNOWLEDGE

Titanic Kadriel,¹¹ I invoke Thee. I require Thee to transform me to one who can know things that are hidden from others.

I desire to know what will befall in the future. I wish to know the thoughts of others. I demand insight into the comings and goings of my fellow creatures.

All this shalt Thou do for me, placing the knowledge within my mind during both waking and sleeping.

I seal this command thus: EE-BAN-HER-EE-ON-AH-DOH-NIGH. So mote it be.

HOW CHARLES F. MADE $10,000 AND MORE AFTER PERFORMING THE INVOCATION TO GIVE SECRET KNOWLEDGE

Charles F., a technical clerk at an aerospace factory in the mid-West, was one of my keenest students. Yet he was a puzzled man, and much less successful than he would have liked to have been.

"Something's going on at work," he told me. "There's talk of changes, and if I could only find out what's doing maybe I could get out of this low-paid rut where I'm likely to stay until I retire."

I advised him to perform the Invocation to Give Secret Knowledge, and to see what happened. He came to the next lecture relaxed and happy.

"It worked," he said. "The day after I performed the Invocation I suddenly had a flash of inspiration. A voice in my ear told me to be at the water-cooler outside the manager's office at exactly 11:00 a.m."

Charles obeyed the voice, and experienced a fantastic revelation which was to pull him out of the miserable circumstances he was in.

"There was a meeting in the office," he said. "The door was closed tight, and the managers inside were talking quietly. Yet I knew exactly what they were saying, as if I was right there in the room! Yet all you could hear outside that door at the best of times was a confused murmur, even if someone was shouting his head off inside."

Charles was able to hear that the section of his organization where he worked was to be reorganized. The problem holding everything up was that management was at odds concerning what product the section should manufacture. One faction wanted to concentrate on domestic recording devices, while their opponents were all for producing hardware for space probes.

"Like a blinding flash, I suddenly knew what we would build," Charles related. "In my mind, I saw a spacecraft orbiting a planet, and a special apparatus sampling the atmosphere.

"It was so clear that I rushed back to my desk and sketched it, writing a specification for it as well, all in half an hour flat."

That afternoon Charles presented his NAP-inspired brainchild to a team of managers.

"I just looked at them, and I knew without anyone saying a word who was in favor of my invention and who was against it," Charles said. "Words came flooding out of me—which is unusual because I tend to stay in the background most of the time."

The upshot of the affair was that Charles' part of the factory began making his invention. Charles, after being awarded $10,000 for the suggestion, was promoted from a $125 a week clerk to a $50,000 a year sales manager.

Charles' job now is to drive around in a luxury company car, staying at the best hotels at company expense, visiting aerospace laboratories, demonstrating the product he invented.

"It's like living in another world compared to the drabness and hopelessness of my previous life," he told me in his brand-new luxury home on the California coast. "And all because I worked a NAP Invocation a few times."

CHANT TO BRING HEALTH

I call thee Zoroel and Sabriel¹² who hath dominion over physical and mental health. At my command, banish from me¹³ all diseases, ¹²Pronounced ZO-ROE-ELL and SAH-BREE-ELL.

¹³If you wish someone other than yourself to be healed, say his or her name instead of saying "me."

discomfort, sickness, and malfunction of body and mind.

Send down Thy beneficial healing rays, for Thou art able to bring this to pass. During each passing hour Your powers will bring youthfulness and freedom from pain.

I seal this command with the healing words EEM-AHN-YOU-ELL which Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego sang in the fiery furnace and were delivered. Thus shall Your powers dispel this sickness and disease. So mote it be.

HOW KEN N. AVOIDED SURGERY AND CURED HIS CRIPPLING BACK PAINS BY USING THE CHANT TO BRING HEALTH

Ken N., a shoe salesman from Krugersdorp, South Africa, had suffered from back pains as long as he could recall.

He was 56 years old when we began corresponding. His letter to me was filled with the problems he was having with his back.

"I can't pick anything up from the floor without going through agony," he wrote. "Sleeping deeply is out of the question—I wake up every 10 minutes with shooting pains from the base of my spine up to my shoulders and down to my fingers. Even when I sit in a comfortable chair the pains begin after a short while, so I can't think of going to the bioscope (movies) or the theater. And I can't lift anything heavier than a few ounces.

"If I drive more than a couple of miles I have to take pain-killing drugs which are dangerous and are having side-effects on my kidneys. And to add to the problem, my boss is thinking of letting me go because the pain stops me from serving customers efficiently."

Ken underwent a number of tedious and expensive examinations and X rays, and the doctors diagnosed atrophied (withered) muscles in his lower back, plus a displacement of the spine. A lengthy and dangerous operation that would cost him about R2,000 ($3000) would be needed.

By airmail, I sent Ken the NAP Ritual and the Chant to Bring Health.

"Thank you. Thank you a million times," his next letter to me began. "My back started to get better after the first session with the Chant.

"After seven daily sessions, I could sit for a full hour without pain. Within 14 days, I was sleeping like a log all night."

Subsequent letters from Ken told me that after three weeks he went back to his doctor.

"He X rayed me again to see if the condition had worsened as he fully expected," Ken wrote. "Then he had the technician retake the X rays. The doctor was sure he'd been sent the wrong plates because they showed no sign of the spine displacement.

"The muscles in my lower back were also operating normally and had grown back to full strength."

Ken is entirely free from pain and totally well now.

"I can play golf, tennis, squash—anything," he wrote. "I drove the family to Durban (600 miles) last week without a twinge.

"I think I shall burst from happiness. My friends say I'm a new man, and I certainly feel it. My doctor mutters that I had 'spontaneous remission' but I know it was my NAP which cured me.

"Everything is perfect now, and you'll be pleased to know that my boss in the store retired, and they made me the manager. I'd never have handled that a short while back!"

INCANTATION TO GIVE POWER OVER OTHERS

Mightiest Dynamis!¹⁴ There are those over whom I would have ultimate power so that they obey my every word and thought. Bring Thy mystic energy to bear on me, such that I radiate your power.

Impress those that I command to bend to my will at all times.

I command Thee with the Words: AH-GAH-LAH-OH-TEE-MEE-TIE.
So mote it be.

HOW FRED M. CHANGED FROM A MOUSE TO A MAN AND BECAME MAYOR OF HIS TOWN

Fred M. is the mayor of a town in the West of England. I wasn't surprised when the news reached me, but I would have been surprised if I hadn't known how he did it.

¹⁴Pronounced DYE-NAH-MISS.

Fred M. used to be a timid, ineffective mouse of a man. He was scared of the dark, and he was frightened to speak up even when he knew he was being gypped. His life was totally miserable. He worked as a delivery man for a meager wage at a local grocery store.

He had never managed to pass his driving test, so in rain or shine he delivered groceries by bicycle. His customers imposed on him outrageously, and often shortchanged him when they paid for COD orders. They knew that he would always back down when they insisted that they had given him the right money.

Fred came to one of my lectures and crouched at the back of the room, a picture of fear and uncertainty. He jumped when I spoke to him, and I thought he was going to scuttle out of the room.

"Take this," I said, handing him the NAP Ritual and the Incantation to Give Power Over Others. "Try it. You'll find it will help a great deal."

He cautiously took the papers as if they might bite him, mumbled his thanks with his face averted, and crept away.

I never saw Fred again after that, but I certainly heard about him.

"SURPRISE NOMINATION FOR MAYOR" is the banner headline in the clippings from Fred's local paper.

The news item below the headline told how Fred is opposing Sir James B., a powerful local land owner.

"Voting will take place on Thursday," says the clip. "Current opinion polls are overwhelmingly in favour of Sir James, but the undercover grapevine suggests that Fred M. is a dark horse, and may yet spring a surprise.

"He is reported to be swinging much public opinion his way by his forceful proposals on local government. He is personally visiting influential members of the community.

"I am impressed with his outgoing personality," Dr. Stanley J. told this newspaper. "Fred has my vote. He's got good ideas, he's got guts, and he'll obviously fight tooth and nail in the face of opposition for what he believes to be right. This town needs someone like him."

The clip ends with a rundown on previous mayors of the town, and adds: "The mayoralty carries a tax-free stipend of £3,300 ($9,000) a year."

Fred won. He was elected mayor with a landslide majority. Since then his fighting courage has become a by-word in his town.

He wrote to me once. "I did it. Thanks," was all he wrote—but I know, and Fred knows, that his NAP and the Incantation did it for him.

GENERAL PURPOSE INVOCATION

In the powers vested in Thee, Iaoth, Petahyah and Opiel,¹⁵ I command Thine aid. Bring Thy influences to bear on my affairs.

My desire is. . .¹⁶

Thou hast heard, and in the Name of VEE-NOKE-OH-TEE-SEE-AWN, Thou shalt fulfil my will in all things which seem good unto me. So mote it be.

HOW MURIEL U. OBTAINED A FUR COAT, A HUSBAND, AND A FINE HOME BY USING THE GENERAL PURPOSE INVOCATION

Muriel U. didn't earn very much when I first knew her. She was an assistant in a small clothing store in London, England, earning a few weekly dollars, and plugging on each day, just waiting for some nice man to ask to marry her.

I met her in a small café in Old Compton Street, London. It was snowing outside, that wet, cold London snow that seems to creep into the marrow of your bones. Muriel was hunched over her cup of tea, wearing a thin, threadbare coat over a cheap red cotton minidress.

We got to talking and Muriel became interested in my words about NAP, even though she admitted she "thought it was spooky." She remembered that she had seen me on television, and had decided I was talking a lot of hot air. Before she left the café, I gave her a copy of the NAP Ritual and the General Purpose Invocation, telling her how to apply it.

¹⁵Pronounced EE-AH-OAT, PATE-AH-YAH and OH-PEA-ELL.

¹⁶Here, state what you wish to happen. Ask for one thing at a time with this Invocation for best results. If you include a whole string of requests, the Power is spread thinly over all of them, and takes longer. Better to achieve one at a time in order of importance.

I saw her again about a month later, and hardly recognized her. That little mouse-like creature had blossomed into a beautiful woman. She was wearing a mink coat, and she was being helped into a large, expensive car by a handsome man.

As she sank back on the soft seating, she saw me and flashed me a radiant smile as the car rolled smoothly away.

She called me at my office the same day. "It was magic," she said, "although I didn't think so at the time.

"I thought maybe I'd give the Invocation a try. I was pretty far down, and I figured that things couldn't get much worse.

"Then the day after I began working the Invocation, the store where I worked went bankrupt."

That turned out to be a blessing in disguise for Muriel. The store owner had little cash to pay his staff, so he did the best he could for them by offering them the pick of the clothing racks before his creditors descended on him.

Muriel chose a fine fur coat, so that she could at least be warm and cozy as she started the rounds of the employment agencies. Unqualified for anything but a store assistant, her future looked bleak.

"I performed the Invocation again that night," she told me. "Next day I met the manager of an employment agency, and we fell head over heels in love with each other.

"We were married two weeks after we first met, and we live in ----," naming an expensive London suburb. "We have a superb house, two cars—everything I've ever dreamed about."

Muriel's dreams came true with the help of the Incantation. Perhaps it is time you began to turn your future into the luxurious, happy existence it can be with the help of your NAP.

BE A ONE-PERSON SECRET SOCIETY

Keep quiet about the fact that you are developing a power that will startle, amaze, and control people. You are on the path to riches and happiness and when your first miracle happens, you'll probably feel you want to tell everyone about this joyful way of getting the better things of life.

Take a tip from me: Don't say anything about your NAP to anyone for a while.

You will find that most people disbelieve in the Power of the Avatar, or alternatively they are scared out of their heads by it.

So if you begin telling your friends and neighbors what you are doing, at best you will earn yourself a whole raft of grins, sneers, and comments implying that you've lost your marbles.

So carry on as usual, and emulate the Ancient Adepts of Magic who used to say: "Know, Will, Dare, and Keep Silent." The old wizards knew what they were doing when they coined that old saying.

Be secretive about your blossoming NAP and the benefits that are going to come your way. Later, you'll be glad you kept quiet.

HOW TO "COME BACK" FROM THE NEW AVATAR POWER RITUAL

As you practice the Ritual and its spells, you will slip deeper and deeper into a peaceful, relaxed state. Each session will take you further along the path—yet, in an emergency, you will always be able to come back instantly, fully alert, to the real world.

However, provided no one calls you or nothing urgent requires your attention, you should return from the Ritual slowly and peacefully. No harm will come to you if you snap out of it for any reason, but the effects of the Ritual and spells will be more permanent and more immediate if you use the following method of ending your Ritual.

When you have finished working your spell, or carrying out whatever magical business you decided to perform, tell yourself that you are ending the Ritual.

In your mind, say "Coming back . . . I am coming back, slowly and peacefully. As I count slowly from one to five, I shall return to the real world, feeling well, happy and alert, fully awake, and recalling everything that has gone on."

Then count slowly from 1 to 5, feeling yourself drifting back to the reality of your room. At the count of 5, open your eyes, enjoying the feeling of power and relaxation that will be still with you.

Think for a few moments of what you heard, saw and felt during the Ritual, and then record it in your Book of Shadows.

HOW TO KNOW WHEN TO COME BACK

As you begin to drift into the peace and serenity of the Ritual, say to yourself: "I shall return in 15 minutes time. My Inner Mind will keep track of the passing minutes and I shall return when the time is up."

After a few sessions reminding yourself of that, you will find that you automatically return to reality on the 15th minute of the Ritual.

You then repeat your "Coming Back" words, become fully alert, write up your results in your Book of Shadows, and that's it until the next time.

HOW TO CALL A MAGIC MENTOR TO BE YOUR WILLING INVISIBLE SLAVE

Whatever you are trying to accomplish, you know that the job will get done much more easily and efficiently if you can call for assistance. You have already learned how to call on the powers of the Beings in the Planes during the New Avatar Power Ritual and spells, and now you can add another NAP tool for working personal miracles.

You are about to discover how to call a spirit who will be your personal Magic Mentor, and will help you achieve your desires. This personal helper from the Inner Planes will be cooperative, entirely harmless to you, and infinitely helpful.

HOW ANNE R. FOUND A KIDNAPPED CHILD AND RECEIVED $5,000 AND A BETTER LIFE

Anne R., a secretary from Long Beach, California, was desperately in need of money. She was behind with her rent, and she wanted a car but it was beyond her slender means. Her constant worries about money were making her snappish and discontented. Bills seemed to pile higher every day, and try as she might, she could never get ahead.

"There's nothing wrong with hankering after the good things of life," she complained to me, "but I work hard every day, and I can never manage to afford the nice things I want. Is there anything I can do about it?"

Although I knew she could have worked instant and automatic miracles with the spells and incantations, I suggested another method for her to begin with.

"Carry out this Ritual and then call on your Magic Mentor," I said, giving her the necessary instruction leaflets. "He'll tell you how to get straight."

Seven days later Anne was out of trouble. She dropped by to tell me about her miraculous success. She arrived at my home in a Maserati sports car, wearing a superb French-designed dress, and looking the picture of radiant happiness and contentment.

"Did you read about me in the paper?" she smiled. "Thanks to my Magic Mentor, I'm in great shape now."

Anne had gone home and performed the Ritual and contacted her Magic Mentor. She had told him her troubles at length and waited for his reply.

"Tomorrow you will hear of a man whose young son has been kidnapped," she was told. "The boy is being held by two men. You will call the boy's father and tell him to inform the police.

"They will investigate and find my words are true. The men will be arrested, the boy will be returned to his father unharmed, and you will be rewarded in cash."

Anne's Magic Mentor gave her the address where the boy was being held prisoner and told her to do exactly as advised.

"Tell the father that you have discovered this by psychic means," her Mentor said. "He is sympathetic to clairvoyance and magic and he will understand.

"When he finds out that you are telling him the truth, he will do more than reward you with money."

Anne did exactly as she was told, and everything happened as her Mentor had said it would. The grateful parent at once gave Anne $5,000 which enabled her to clear her debts and leave her a healthy little bank balance.

"But I haven't told you the best yet," she went on gaily to me. "The boy's father is very rich and plays the Stock Market. My Magic Mentor is also able to tell me which shares will go up or down.

"So the father is paying me $1,000 a month to spend an hour a week advising him what stocks to buy. I reckon my Magic Mentor will be around a long time—between the two of us, we're an unbeatable team."

THE WORD OF POWER THAT WILL BRING YOUR MAGIC MENTOR TO YOU

You may recognize this word, for it has been around for thousands of years. Yet it still retains all its power and potency.

The word is "AUM." It is pronounced with a fairly long drawn-out vibration of your vocal cords. The closest I can get to it in print is: "OW-OOMMMMMmmmmmmmm."

Open your mouth in a large "O" for the first sound, then purse your lips for the "OO," closing them together to continue the gradually fading "MMMMMMMMmmmmmmmm."

Say the word aloud a few times, so that you can listen to yourself saying it. Then cover your ears with your hands, and say it a few more times. You should hear the hum of the fading "mmmmmm" clearly inside your head and feel it vibrating in your throat.

HOW GEORGE K.'s MAGIC MENTOR HELPED TO FORESTALL A BANK ROBBERY, RESULTING IN A PROMOTION FOR GEORGE

While practicing talking to his Magic Mentor, George K., a bank teller from Oregon, received some startling information.

"Tomorrow, three bandits will hold up your bank," his Mentor said. "You can foil them if you arrange for the police to be on the spot."

This worried George a little. He could hardly tell the police and the bank manager about his secret NAP and his Magic Mentor.

"Call the police anonymously and tell them to surround the bank just before 11:00 a.m.," George's Mentor advised. "They'll believe you, I'll see to that."

George carried out the suggestions. Promptly at 11:00 a.m. the next day, three masked men burst into the bank.

George, ready for them, promptly set off the alarm and then dashed down to the vault which was normally open at that time, slammed the heavy door and spun the lock to seal it.

"When I went back upstairs the police had already grabbed the bandits," George said. "And the bank manager was so impressed with my prompt action that he made me chief of security on the spot. That's worth an extra $200 a week to me.

"With my Magic Mentor helping me, you can bet there's one bank in the U.S. that will never get robbed!"

THE TICKLING OF THE ANT

Here you should know about a sensation that often accompanies the development of your NAP at this stage. I mention it because some people are worried by it until they are told that it is perfectly normal.

As you sit in your New Avatar Power Ritual, or as you are going through one of the chants or invocations, a strong itching or tickling may begin in your brow, just above the bridge of your nose. You will know that you cannot scratch it, for it is well below the skin.

Some Eastern mystic schools call this sensation "The Tickling of the Ant," and it certainly can feel very much as if some small insect is crawling round and round under your skin on a circular route about the size of a quarter.

This is another sign of success and is nothing at all to worry about. "The Ant" is a clear indication that your NAP is waking up certain psychic centers in your mind. The sensation is caused by tiny changes in the blood flow and muscle tone in your brow, in the area traditionally associated with your Third Eye, or Psychic-Seeing Center.

About 6 people out of every 10 experience "The Ant." If you are one of those who do not feel it, you need not be concerned—you will have your own proof of your NAP appearing very shortly, if you have not seen it in action already.

HOW PENNY V.'s MAGIC MENTOR HELPED HER TO CURE HER ALCOHOLIC HUSBAND

Penny V. came to me in despair. Her face was lined with grief, and she told me a heart-breaking tale.

Her husband Ralph was an alcoholic. Every pay day he promptly spent almost all the family's money on liquor. Penny and her three children often went short of food, and their squalid little home was barely furnished. Penny had lost count of the times she had had to persuade the landlord and tradespeople to wait a little longer for her to pay long overdue bills.

"We never go out anywhere, never have anything new," she sobbed to me. "Each week we go deeper and deeper into debt, and the constant struggle to make ends meet is slowly sending me out of my mind.

"Yet Ralph is basically kind and good, and I love him. If he could only get out from the grips of alcohol, we could be happy and reasonably well off."

I told her to place the problem in the capable hands of her Magic Mentor. If anyone could work the miracle for her, he could.

Six months later, Penny came to see me again. She was radiant, smiling, and wearing a snappy new outfit.

"I asked my Magic Mentor, and I was a bit disappointed at first," she related. "He told me to relax and smile whenever I could, and everything else would be taken care of. I had thought I would have to do lots of work on Ralph, maybe taking him to AA, and nursing him along—all that sort of thing.

"I was worrying needlessly. I don't know what magic my Mentor worked, or how he did it, but would you believe that Ralph suddenly stopped drinking just two days after I'd asked for help? He came home sober, and he hasn't touched a drop since. He says he no longer has that terrible craving for alcohol."

Penny's life improved by leaps and bounds from that time onward. She found a perfect togetherness with Ralph; they worked to furnish their little home beautifully and to give the children the combined love they needed.

"We're making up for those lost, sad years," smiled Penny to me recently. "We've got each other and everything else we've ever wanted now."

CREATING YOUR MAGIC MENTOR

Begin now to create your Magic Mentor. To avoid the constant repetition of the phrases "he or she" and "him and her," I will refer to your Mentor as if he were male henceforward. This is not necessarily so—your Mentor may be of the same sex or the opposite sex to you.

HOW A MAN WROTE A BEST-SELLING NOVEL WITH THE HELP OF HIS MAGIC MENTOR

If I mentioned his name, you would recognize the man this Case History is about. You may well have read the best-selling novel he wrote. Certainly you have heard of it, and read in the newspapers of the $500,000 it brought him. You maybe have seen the movie made from the book which netted the author another cool half-million.

I knew Mr. X when he was a nobody. He wanted to be a writer, and he really used to slave at his typewriter. Yet he rarely sold any of his works.

"I think I'll give up," he said to me one day. "I'm obviously not cut out to be a writer. Here I am, almost 40, without a cent. No home, no car, no wife—nothing. Writing has brought me nothing but frustration and loss. I'm totally sad and miserable. I spend so much time at the typewriter, all for nothing, that even my best friends have walked away and left me alone."

I suggested he should carry out the NAP Ritual and call on his Magic Mentor for suggestions. He grudgingly took my advice, and then he seemed to drop out of sight.

Then his book hit the stores. Within a couple of months, money was flooding in to Mr. X. He bought a house, furnished it superbly, met a beautiful girl, and married her.

I met him again in mid-1973.

"What a change," he said as he climbed out of his brand-new Mercedes sports car. "I've got everything I could ever need, and more money in the bank than I can hope to spend in the rest of my life. I'm on easy street, and I'll never ever need to do another stroke of work."

That day, he was leaving on a round-the-world luxury cruise with his vivacious young wife. He had a last word for me.

"Don't ever breathe a word of this to anyone," he whispered to me. "I didn't write that best-seller which has brought me this opulence. I asked my Magic Mentor what to do, and he dictated every word to me. All I had to do was type it up and send it to the publisher my Mentor told me would accept it.

"I wonder why more people don't make a million this way?"

MEETING YOUR MAGIC MENTOR

Perform the NAP Ritual as far as Point A. Say "AUM," the Word of Power three times, slowly, with your eyes closed.

Then, quietly, say:

"ENTER, MAGIC MENTOR, YOU ARE WELCOME.

"YOU SHALL AID ME IN MY WORK. SO MOTE IT BE."

It is unimportant if you forget the exact wording.

What is important is the thought that someone is coming to help you, and you can phrase the invitation in your own words.

Who will appear before you? That I leave you to find out—but he will be a warm, peaceful Being, and you will feel the power thrill through you as you carry out this part of the Ritual.

HOW IVOR D. FOUND SIX WINNING HORSES IN SIX RACES BY LISTENING TO HIS MAGIC MENTOR

Ivor D., from Quebec City, Canada, loves to gamble on the horses. Up until a short while ago, he never had a big win.

"Now and again I'd make a buck or two," he told me, "but most of the time I lost heavily. It's a constant struggle to pay the bookies.

"One week I had to sell my little car when I plunged heavily on a "certainty," and I've never been able to afford to buy another. I love the thrill of the betting game, but it's been bringing me more turmoil than pleasure lately."

Ivor, a keen student of mine, wondered what was the best method for him to turn his losses into wins.

"Ask your Magic Mentor," I advised. "He'll get you on to the winners in no time."

Ivor tried my suggestion. He called me up during the weekend. "You're talking to a rich man. I've just bought a new car, a color TV, a new snowmobile, and a country cottage," he crowed. "And I've paid off every bill which has been worrying me. My Magic Mentor gave me six horses in six races—and every one of them romped home a winner!"

Later on he showed me the names of the horses he had scribbled down in his Book of Shadows on the evening of Thursday, May 10, 1973, for the next day's Montreal races. The names were: Run For John; Grey Champagne; Sir Time; Amstrategic; Glad Par; and Lady Book. As you will find if you consult the record books, they all came home winners.

"Why, my Mentor even picked out the longest odds winners of the day and left the short-priced nags alone," Ivor said. "Want a good tip for Monday? I'm all set to make a good living from the bookies' money."

Ivor was able to do exactly that. He now lives in Westmount, a plush suburb on Montreal island, and he has cars, stereos, televisions, a superb house, a swimming pool—every last luxury he desires.

His Magic Mentor comes across with racing tips every day, and the cash just rolls in, in a golden flood.

"It's a great life," Ivor grinned. "But don't tell too many people, will you, or all the bookies might go broke!"

HOW TO ENSURE THAT YOUR MAGIC MENTOR IS NOT AN EVIL SPIRIT WHO WILL LEAD YOU ASTRAY

When we call spirits from the Inner Planes, which is where your Magic Mentor comes from, it is possible to bring evil spirits through.

Your Magic Mentor is not evil—completely the reverse, in fact. You'll be totally amazed at the miracles he will work for you in the future, and his goodness and benevolence will improve your whole life and environment.

However, to reassure you, and to make absolutely certain that no evil spirit can impersonate your Magic Mentor and lead you to harm, here is a power-packed Ritual that will send any evil influences zapping back where they came from in short order, never to return.

Each time you meet your Magic Mentor, carry out this brief Ritual. It is an assurance that all is good and positive around you.

UNCROSSING RITUAL TO BANISH EVIL INFLUENCES FROM ANY SOURCE

Say the Word of Power: AH-TAY

Without altering the posture of your fingers, bring your right hand and arm straight down in front of your body and point at the floor between your feet.

Say the Word of Power: MALL-COOT

Lift your right arm, bending it at the elbow, and point your two fingers at your right shoulder.

Say the Word of Power: VAY-GAY-VOO-RAH

Say the Word of Power: VAY-GAY-DOO-LAH

Clasp both hands in front of your chest and say: LAY-OH-LAHM-AMEN.

Then in a firm voice announce: "In the Name that is above every other Name, I banish from this place all seeds of evil. I bind them as with chains and cast them into the Outer Darkness where they shall trouble not the Seekers of Truth."

Now repeat the gestures and Words of Power just given. Sit down gently and continue with your magical business.

This shattering Uncrossing Ritual ensures that nothing evil can come anywhere near you. I shall be referring to this Ritual again in Chapter 8 where you will learn to attack and defend yourself from enemies using your awesome NAP.

HOW NINA T. USED THE UNCROSSING RITUAL TO BANISH AN EVIL INFLUENCE THAT WAS HAUNTING HER

Nina T., a secretary from Burlington, was sick with worry when she came to me.

"Ever since I started using an Ouija board, I seem to have had an evil influence around me," she said. "Everything has gone bad on me. I've quarreled with my fiance. I've had influenza, back-aches, head-aches and nausea for days, and nothing will shift it.

"My purse was stolen yesterday, and I find I'm bursting into tears if someone looks crooked at me. I feel terrible. What can I do?"

I accompanied her to her one-room apartment. A sour smell pervaded the air as we opened the door. Even the sun didn't seem to penetrate the dusty windows.

"Where is the Ouija board?" I asked. Mutely, Nina pointed to it, on a coffee table in the center of the room.

"I bought it by mail. The advertisement said it would give me answers from spirits on the Other Side," she said. "But I wish I'd never seen it. I've had nothing but bad luck since I used it, and the bad dreams I have at night wake me up screaming in terror."

She told me that the board had worked for her. The controlling spirit had told her things about her friends, and forecast the future.

"It never said anything nice," Nina said. "Only nasty comments about unpleasant things my friends wanted to keep hidden. And its future forecasts weren't very useful, either."

I told her about the Uncrossing Ritual. "If it's a good spirit, then no harm will be done," I said. "But if the influence here is evil, the Ritual will send it away."

I showed her what she should do. She pushed the coffee table to one side and stood in the center of the room. Firmly, she performed the gestures and spoke the Words of Power.

As she reached the end of the Ritual, a loud report made us both jump. The Ouija board had split into two halves across the center!

"I feel better," Nina said in wonderment, "and it seems to be lighter in here."

I assured her that everything would be fine from then on, but if she felt in the least worried she should carry out the Uncrossing Ritual at any time.

Joyfully, she called me a few days later.

"everything's perfect," she said happily. "My fiance is back with me again. I'm perfectly healthy and full of vigor. I've not felt like crying ever since I did the Ritual, and my dreams have been beautiful and calming.

"And the most amazing thing of all: my purse was returned anonymously through the mail. Inside were my credit cards, driver's license, and all my money. I think NAP is the greatest!"

WHAT TO DO AND SAY WHEN YOU MEET YOUR MAGIC MENTOR

On your first meeting, carry on a conversation in your mind as you sit relaxed in your chair. You have invited your Magic Mentor inside the room and banished any upsetting influences with the Uncrossing Ritual. Pretend that your Mentor sits in a chair across the room from you as you sit in your chair.

Now begin the conversation and at the beginning you will seem to be producing both sides of it. State your problem—any problem.

Then begin the reply, as if your Magic Mentor was thinking the answer for you inside your head.

Start by thinking: "My advice to you is" Now let your thoughts run freely and "listen" to them. Your mental train of thought will give you a startling and clear-cut way of solving your problem.

For example, a typical mental conversation could run like this:

Your mind statement: "Good evening. I am having trouble with my husband. He is drinking too much. He should give me more money and pay more attention to me and the family. What should I do?"

Your mental reply would begin: "My advice to you is"

As your thoughts run on, the reply might continue: "... to relax and smile whenever you can. This problem will now be taken care of, and will be solved within two days from now."

Your mind statement would be: "Thank you. I will relax and try to smile, and expect that miracle."

And it will be so. That example is actually a transcript from her Book of Shadows which Penny V. graciously permitted me to use. We referred to her Case History a little while back.

Keep your first meeting with your Magic Mentor fairly short. State just one major problem and "listen" for the solution. Then say thank you and good-bye to your Mentor.

Come back from your Ritual, write up the event in your Book of Shadows, and carry on normally.

We shall be investigating more fascinating and profitable work with your Magic Mentor in Chapter 4, aimed at turning every one of your fondest dreams into happy reality.

HOW TO KNOW THE FUTURE AND GET AHEAD

You are now well equipped to see into the future, which is what this chapter is all about. Just like world-famous psychics, you are going to see what fate has in store for you, and steer yourself safely and profitably around any problems that may threaten you. You will also see the lucky streaks in your future and know how to take joyful advantage of them.

Also, as I have promised, by the time you reach the end of Chapter 10, you will not only foresee the future, you will also change it into whatever shape you wish.

HOW PETER J. AVOIDED MISERY AND SUICIDE BY SEEING INTO THE FUTURE

Peter J., a carpenter from Tennessee, was so down when I met him that he was thinking about killing himself. His wife had recently died, and he had no purpose in life.

He was unshaven, bleary-eyed from the beer he had been drinking, and he looked a ripe specimen to end up either on Skid Row or on a mortuary slab.

"Do yourself a favor," I said. "Ask your Magic Mentor when the future will get brighter."

It took a while to explain to Peter's befuddled brain what I was talking about, but after a while he unwillingly agreed to give it a try. He called me the same evening, still miserable.

"I don't believe it," he said. "My Mentor says that on July 31st—that's in two week's time—I'll meet a girl who will change my life for the better."

I told him to hang in there for 14 days because his Magic Mentor knew what he was talking about.

Months later, as he luxuriated in his expensive Florida home, delightedly showing me the creature comforts he had acquired, Peter discussed the past.

"I really intended to kill myself the day I met you," he confessed. "If I hadn't waited two weeks as my Mentor said I should, I'd never have had all this."

At that moment, a slim, attractive red-head swung gaily into the sumptuous room.

"Hullo, darling," said Peter. "This is my new wife, Patti."

It was the girl who Pete's Mentor had promised would arrive. The daughter of a wealthy industrialist, Patti had met Peter apparently by chance.

"Luckily, I'd shaved and spruced up a bit on the day my Mentor had told me I'd meet her," Pete grinned. "Lucky I did or she might never have looked at me."

He went on with his story as his young wife lovingly perched herself on his lap, running her bare arms around his neck as she gently kissed his ear.

Pete's life took a sudden upward swing under the vivacious influence of the girl who was to become Pete's second wife. She introduced Pete to her wealthy parents and they liked him at once.

During dinner, Patti's father listened attentively to Pete's ideas for building some new furniture that he thought would sell well.

"Go build it," said the man impulsively. "Here's a blank check. Set up a factory, hire men. Buy machines. I have faith in you."

Pete was gloriously successful. His furniture sold well. As manager of the factory he draws a salary of $65,000 a year.

"I asked Patti to marry me and she said yes," Pete added. "Life is more than perfect now—but it could have been so different if my Magic Mentor hadn't persuaded me to wait a few days."

FURTHER WORK WITH YOUR MAGIC MENTOR

Dreams, intuitions and hunches, pictures and thoughts that will be sent to you during your New Avatar Power Rituals will show you the future with great accuracy, but another excellent method is to call on your Magic Mentor to help you.

FORESEEING THE FUTURE WITH YOUR MAGIC MENTOR

Perform the NAP Ritual and invite your Magic Mentor to join you as usual. As he comes in, pretend that he is carrying a small portable TV set. As he sits down opposite you, imagine that he has put the set on a table, with its back towards you.

Greet him in your mind and think: "I would like to know the future, please." Incidentally, always be polite to your Magic Mentor—you will get superior results that way.

Imagine that your Mentor switches on the TV. Then think, pretending that the thoughts are his: "I see that coming up on the screen of your future is . . ."

Just as when you first met, let your thoughts idle after beginning the thought and see what comes into your mind. A coherent stream of forecasts will promptly start to flow through your head.

If the forecasts are not on the subject you desire, think: "Please try another channel. I wish to know the future concerning . . ." and here mention the people or events that you want to know about.

Again sit quietly and pretend that the train of thoughts going through your head is the commentary from your Magic Mentor. You will be amazed at the sheer clarity of the thoughts—and the accuracy of them when they come to pass later!

When your Ritual time is over, note all the forecasts in your Book of Shadows. Then, later on, check to see how many came true.

When everything is swinging smoothly, you can expect 90 percent of your forecasts to happen in the future.

HOW A FAMOUS SEER SOARED INTO PROMINENCE BY LISTENING TO HER MAGIC MENTOR

The subject of this Case History is a famous British seer who does not want her name revealed. Famous people flock to her from all over the world to pay her for her predictions. She has appeared on several television programs and magazines are always offering her large sums of money for her latest forecasts.

She owns three luxury hotels on the South Coast of England, and she has a costly home in Mayfair, London, as well as a country estate in Sussex.

"Who would think that I was once a poor, forlorn housewife with no money?" she told me. "My husband had left me, and I had two small children to raise. I had no income at all, except for a tiny amount of welfare, and we lived in a sordid little apartment in the East End of London.

"Then I heard about NAP and that soon made all the difference in the world to me."

From her Magic Mentor she received the idea that she should become a psychic and seer, and foretell the future for others.

"I asked how I could do that, for I'm not the least bit psychic," she related. "My Mentor told me not to worry. He would give me all the forecasts."

She began in a small way, but her fame soon spread, as she began giving totally accurate prophecies to her clients. Within months she was prosperous and able to move to a better district.

"I've never looked back," she told me. "I have money to burn now. I work three days a week for about four hours giving forecasts, and my income last year from that was £6,500 ($18,000).

"I have every luxury I need, my children are at high-priced private schools, and I can do as I please. And all I have to do is to listen to my Magic Mentor!"

HOW TO DECIDE WHEN A FORECAST EVENT WILL HAPPEN

One of the most challenging parts of divining the future is putting dates and times to events that you know will happen. You may, for instance, see a chance of a promotion at work which is in your future. If you can place a date to it, you can then be prepared for the event on the day it is going to happen.

There are several ways to attach a time-tag to a coming event. The simplest is to ask your Magic Mentor as he finishes "telling" you the forecast. With luck, your mental conversation will at once include a date and day.

If this fails to take place, pretend that your Magic Mentor is showing you a calendar—a large one, with a separate leaf for each day. Imagine him tearing the pages off, one at a time, in rapid succession. Think the dates in your mind at the same time: "January 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7," and so on.

At some stage in the steady counting you will detect an interruption, or slight hitch, in the flow of numbers. It will come to you as a kind of sudden mental "twitch." When it has happened to you once, you will easily recognize it whenever it happens again.

As soon as the "twitch" occurs, you should check it out.

Assume that the interruption in the flow of numbers occurred as you thought "May 5." At once stop your mental counting and ask: "Is that May 5?" Then think: "That is . . . ," and let your mind wander as you have done before when receiving an answer from your Magic Mentor.

The next thought-word will be either "correct" or "incorrect." If you are correct, all well and good, but if you "hear" the word "incorrect," at once ask; "Is the month May?" (Or whatever other month you believed the date to be in.)

Again think: "That is . . . ," and let your mind wander. If you hear the word "incorrect," ask the same question using the other 11 months in turn, starting the answer as before, and "listening" for the reply.

When you receive a thought-word of "correct," at once ask: "Before or after the 15th of the month?" Then think: "It is . . ." and wait for the word "before" or "after" to form in your mind.

Once you know in which half of the month the event will occur, you can establish which week by asking.

If you have been told that it will happen before the 15th, inquire: "Will it be in the first seven days or the second seven days?"

Alternatively, if you have been advised that the event will occur after the 15th, you should ask: "Will it happen between the 15th and 22nd, or during the rest of the month?"

Whichever of those two questions you ask, answer yourself by thinking: "It will happen . . . ," listening for your thought-words to give you the answer.

Similarly, you can tie the event down to the actual day by framing your questions as you did those for locating which week of the month the event would happen.

Thereafter, morning or afternoon can be identified by asking the appropriate question, framing the beginning of the answer in your mind, and letting your Magic Mentor fill the gap.

You can also see that by splitting the time intervals progressively into sections, you can zero in on the timing of the event as accurately as you wish.

If you were sufficiently persistent, you could get the time of the event to the nearest minute, but this is very time-consuming and is rarely, if ever, necessary.

HOW FRANK F. SAW AN UPCOMING VACANCY AT HIS PLACE OF WORK AND GAINED A BIG PROMOTION

In my files is the story of Frank F., an employee of a large aerospace company in California. He worked hard for not too large a salary, and he was very short on the luxuries that make life worth living. He also wanted to take his wife on a vacation, but lack of funds stood in his way.

"One evening, during the Ritual, my Magic Mentor showed me a picture on his TV screen of a vacant desk in the Research and Development Department. It was the chief's desk," Frank related. "I was not in that department, and I lacked most of the qualifications necessary to fill the job. I asked my Magic Mentor when the event would happen and he showed me a calendar for a date more than a year ahead."

This gave Frank plenty of time to prepare.

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained. So I went back to evening school and in less than a year I had earned a diploma," Frank said. "On the very day forecast for it, the R & D chief was promoted. The personnel office ran a check on who was qualified to fill the vacancy, and after a number of interviews, I was chosen ahead of three other possibles."

Frank's salary was at once boosted to $30,000 a year, almost three times his previous salary. His work is easier and he has been able to schedule the long-delayed vacation with his spouse.

"It'll be much better than I could have managed in my old job," Frank said. "Nothing but the best for us now.

"Not bad for a few evening's New Avatar Power Rituals and a spot of preparation."

HOW TO KNOW WHAT IS HAPPENING ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD

Although most world events happen without really affecting you, sometimes it is useful to know what is happening thousands of miles away.

You can foresee results of elections, for instance, which may affect your status in life. You can, if you wish, preview a horse race in another country to assist you with buying lottery tickets.

The procedure is exactly the same as when you ask your Magic Mentor for personal forecasts. Just frame a clear question on what you wish to know, naming the time when the event is scheduled to happen and let your mind slip into neutral as you await the reply.

Your Magic Mentor will at once generate the answer, and you will once again be a step ahead of the rest of the world.

However, I have found that mapping your own future through life is by far the most satisfactory and profitable way of using your NAP to give you foreknowledge of the future.

Making predictions of world events is good practice for use of your NAP, but you will eventually come closer to home and look at events that are coming in your vicinity.

Concentrate on your own life-path, and let the professional psychics and seers perform their world predictions. If you wish to do that in the future, you may, but ask yourself this question as you sit down to tap the awesome power of your NAP: "Will this do some good, either for me, or for someone else?"

If the answer to the question is in the negative, wonder if you might not be gaining more profit by turning the power onto your own life.

HOW ROGER E. USED HIS NEW AVATAR POWER TO MAKE HIMSELF A PERFECT MARRIAGE TO A GIRL HE HAD NEVER SEEN

Roger E. from Iowa uses his NAP all the time, but his favorite story is how he used it to find his beautiful wife Kathy.

"I was a desperately lonely divorcé," he told me. "My first marriage was a total fiasco. After the break-up, with all my dreams shattered, I was like a ship without a rudder, miserable and grouchy. I just didn't want to pull myself out of the sordid state I was in. There was an aching void in my life which I thought could never be filled. I hated the whole world.

"After I took your NAP course in Montreal, I went back home to practice it. I figured it would give me something to do in the long, lonely evenings."

Almost at once Roger began to get clear indications of his future as he worked with his Magic Mentor.

"One exciting day I got a mind picture of a beautiful, well-built blonde," he said. "My Mentor said she was my future wife. It took me just three days of NAP Rituals to find out her name, the city where she lived, and the fact that she was firmly tied into my future partnership patterns."

Roger asked his Mentor how he would meet this vision of loveliness.

"Drive to Des Moines and let your NAP take over," was the reply. "You will meet her on the 21st of next month, at 1:00 p.m., in a restaurant."

A clear picture of the restaurant then drifted up through Roger's mind. He took a week off from work and drove to Des Moines.

"When I crossed the city limits I just relaxed, keeping an eye on the road. I let my feet and hands drive the car where they wished," he said. "I drove right through the center of the city.

"Then I saw it—the restaurant my Mentor had shown me."

Roger parked and sat himself down at a table just inside the entrance of the restaurant.

"Right on time, she appeared," Roger related. "She caught my eye at once, and we seemed to have met before. She was exactly as my Mentor had shown me."

The rest is history. Roger and Kathy were married a few weeks later after a whirlwind courtship, and they are now blissfully happy together, with a little one on the way. They have a sumptuous home, with an abundance of the good things of life.

"Kathy practices NAP with me now," Roger told me recently. "She says the baby will be a boy, and he's going to be a famous writer."

EVENTUALLY YOU WILL HAVE NO FURTHER NEED FOR YOUR MAGIC MENTOR

Your helpful slave, your Magic Mentor, is with you only as long as you need him. As the conditions of your life improve all around, you will have a quiet confidence in your NAP abilities.

Your Mentor will be there at any time, to help or advise when you feel you need him, but you will find more and more that you can achieve your personal miracles unaided.

You will continue to use your New Avatar Power Ritual to begin your magical workings, but the need for an assistant will gradually recede.

That will be the time when you will be Master over every power you could possibly wish for. The world will be your oyster, to be manipulated as you wish.

HOW TO TEST YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER

You have now reached the stage where you can test the power and accuracy of your NAP. Various simple methods exist for checking out your Power, and as you practice you can watch your NAP going from strength to strength. Your NAP is like a muscle: the more you exercise it, the stronger it grows.

The following 15 methods can be used at various times during your leisure or working day. As you go about your business, you can test your NAP in three totally different ways.

First, you use it to detect existing conditions. Then you use it to detect future happenings. Then, most exciting of all, you use your NAP to begin to "read" what people are thinking—and to make them think what you want them to think!

HOW SAM O. WON $500 ON THE TURN OF A PLAYING CARD BY USING HIS NEW AVATAR POWER

Sam O., a truck driver from Maine, is an avid card player. He is also an NAP student.

Like most of us, Sam is perennially short of money, and any windfall that comes his way is more than welcome to stretch his budget.

"Just before this happy incident I'm going to tell you about, I was in desperate need of several hundred dollars to repair the roof on my house. Unless I could win at cards, I could see no way of stopping the rain from coming in, and the problem got worse with every rainstorm," related Sam. "I'd been practicing the NAP Test No. 6, the Playing Card Test, just before I got into a poker game. I was sitting with three tens in the last hand, I hadn't won more than a couple of bucks, and my roof repair seemed as far away as ever.

"I was betting against Harry J. who was playing them very close to his chest. I felt lucky and raised him on every bet until the game was between only him and me. We carried on bragging, and then Harry tried a big bluff, to try to scare me off. But Harry's a good player, and there was no way I could know for sure if he was bluffing or not."

Harry took four of his cards and laid them face upwards on the table. He was showing a pair of aces and a pair of nines, keeping his fifth card hidden.

"Five hundred bucks says I've got you beat," Harry grinned. "But you'll have to pay to see. Am I holding an ace or a nine?"

Sam knew that if Harry had either one of those cards they would beat Sam's three tens, by making Harry's hand a full house. On the other hand, if Harry's card was some other denomination, then Sam would win.

"I closed my eyes for a moment, relaxed and thought: 'That card is . . . ,' and a red flame floated into my mind," Sam said. "Then a kind of warmth told me it was a heart to confirm the red card which the flame had indicated. Then, as clear as a bell, number four drifted into my mind."

Sam plunged, confident in his NAP. "Five hundred says my three tens beat your two pair," said Sam triumphantly.

Defeated, Harry laid down his fifth card. Sure enough, it was the four of hearts. He paid Sam his $500 like a good sport, muttering that he would win it back soon.

"He never did, and my roof was repaired next day," Sam said. "NAP keeps me a mile ahead of the other card players. Sometimes I have to deliberately play badly, so that my friends don't suspect I'm reading the cards and refuse to play with me.

"But anytime I need a few bucks now, I get into a poker game and use my NAP. It never fails."

USING YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER TO DETECT CIRCUMSTANCES THAT ALREADY EXIST BUT ARE UNKNOWN TO YOU

These six tests can be carried out whenever convenient for you. You will swiftly recognize what useful powers you are growing as you become more adept.

1. Mail-Box Test. If you have a mail-box, you can test your NAP everytime the mailman calls. Before you open the box, close your eyes, relax, and ask yourself: "How many letters are in here?" Then think, "There are . . ." and wait for a number to slip to the front of your mind.

The best thing to do then is to write that number down, and also make a note of the date at the same time.

This serves two purposes: First, you will not be tempted to change your mind, or to change the number after you have peeped into the box. Second, you will have a record of your NAP guesses, and you can watch how your score improves as you practice.

Do not use logic when you are estimating the number of pieces of mail in the box. Just because you are expecting your credit card account, a letter from Aunt Hetty and your telephone bill, do not automatically force yourself to think "Three." Just slip your mind out of gear for a moment, just as you do when you are waiting for an answer from your Magic Mentor.

When you have thought of a number and you have scribbled it down, open the box and check. If you were right, make a check mark against your number. You will soon see the check marks outnumbering the crosses.

When you get pretty good at guessing the number of letters in the box, you can extend the test by telling yourself the colors of the envelopes before you open the box.

Then you can make the test a real challenge by telling yourself whom the letters are from before you see the envelopes.

And that leads directly to the next test.

2. Contents of Letter Test. Once you have your mail in your hands, you can further test your NAP by telling yourself what each letter contains.

Be easy on yourself at first. Hold one envelope in your hands, close your eyes, and say to yourself, "This letter is . . ." Wait for a word to form. Whatever that word is, write it down. It may be "happy," "sad," "complaining," "demanding," "good news," "bad news," or any other simple word or phrase which describes the contents of the envelope.

Then open it up and read the letter. Make a check or a cross against the word or phrase that came to you, depending on whether you were right or wrong.

Once again, you will find that your NAP will soon allow you to know the kind of emotions the letter is going to evoke in you.

Extend this test by telling yourself the subject of the letter before you open it. Hold the envelope as before, and think: "The writer has written about . . ." Let the subject-word form in your mind, write it down, and then open the letter.

Check it off on your word-list and watch how you learn, over the days and weeks, to zero in on what any letter contains.

3. Telephone Caller Test. This is a simple test, but it amazes people a great deal. This is a test where you will be demonstrating your NAP, but you will not tell anyone.

Whenever your telephone rings, relax for a moment, and say to yourself: "This is . . .," and wait for a name to come to you. Scribble it down as you pick up the telephone, and a second or two later as the caller identifies himself, you will know who is calling you. Put the usual check mark or cross beside your NAP guess.

With practice, your NAP will tell you 9 times out of 10 who is calling you. Eventually you will be confident enough to pick up the telephone and at once address the caller by name before he or she says a word.

That naturally throws people. They will invariably say: "How did you know it was me?" On no account say: "My New Avatar Power told me." If you say that, you will be caught up in a long hassle, the least difficult part of which will be answering the question that begins: "What on earth is New Avatar Power?"

You are not ready for that yet, so when your caller expresses surprise, laugh lightly and say: "Lucky guess," or some such phrase.

You will be wrong sometimes. You'll pick up the phone and gaily say, "Good evening, Edna," and a male voice will say, "It's not Edna, it's Bob."

Stay relaxed—you can't win 'em all—not yet! That's your cue to laugh and say: "Sorry—I was expecting her to call at this time." Then go on with your conversation as if nothing had happened.

4. Radio Tune Test. This test needs no help from anyone else and is ideal for use when you have time to spare alone.

Tune your radio to your favorite station, and then switch it off. About ten minutes later, return to the radio, relax as you stand in front of it, and think, "The tune now playing is" Wait, as usual, for a tune title to form in your mind. Scribble it down as you switch the radio on.

With practice, you will second-guess the radio station 9 times out of ten, and your NAP will grow stronger as you do it.

5. News Headline Test. A similar test to No. 4 will allow you to know what headline is on the front page of your daily newspaper.

If you have a paper delivered, wait until the boy has thrown it on to your porch. As it lies there, out of your sight, close eyes and relax. Think, "The main headline reads" As before, let the words drift into your mind, make a note of them, and then check your NAP estimate.

6. Playing Card Test. This is another test you can carry out alone. All you need is a deck of ordinary playing cards.

Sit at a table and shuffle the deck well. Close your eyes, relax, and say to yourself: "I am going to place all the red cards on the left side of the table, and all the black cards on the right."

Then take one card from the top of the deck, and hold it facedown in your hand. Obviously, it will spoil the whole purpose of the test if you peek at it—let your NAP do the peeking for you.

Relax, close your eyes, and think, "This card is" Grab at the first impression that comes. Remember, you merely want to NAP guess the color—black or red.

As soon as the thought of either black or red enters your mind, put the card on the appropriate side of the table.

Note that some people "hear" the word "red" or "black" in their minds. Others get a strong impression of the color, with no words attached to it. Some receive an impression of flames for red and soot for black, or two other colored symbols. And a fourth impression involves touch: some people feel that red cards are hotter or smoother than the black.

Go through the whole deck one at a time, putting the cards into your NAP estimated red pile and black pile. If you just flicked them into two piles at random, without calling on your NAP, you would expect to get about half right and half wrong. So, when you get more than half of either pile as the allocated color, you know your NAP is working.

Note: Do not deliberately count the cards as you pile them up. If, for instance, you put 20 cards in one heap and 32 in the other, it is of no importance.

Pick up the pile you have labeled "red" and count the number of cards in that pile. Then count how many of them are diamonds and hearts, the red cards. Do the same with the "black" pile, counting the spades and clubs. Make a note of your scores. More than half of any pile consisting of the correct color is a victory for you and your NAP.

When you can divide a deck fairly efficiently into blacks and reds, extend the test to the four suits. Allocate four areas of the table, one each for hearts, clubs, diamonds, and spades.

Carry out a similar routine, except that this time, as you relax and think, "This card is . . ." you will get a mental word or picture describing the suit.

Many people find that spades are cold, diamonds are sharp, hearts feel warm, and clubs feel rough. Other people get a mental idea of a coal mine for spades, money for diamonds, warmth or love for hearts, and a battle for clubs. Be alert as you ask your NAP which card you are holding, and find out which way you receive your answers.

When you have placed the 52 cards face down in four heaps, check your score. If you have more than four of the named suit in its own pile, your NAP is working well. As time passes, you will gain greater and greater accuracy.

The ultimate extension of this test is to identify the suit and face value of each card, but that is a feat you should save until later. Realize that when you guess a card from the deck, you are trying to buck odds of 51 to 1.

So if you can correctly name just three cards in the whole pack, your NAP is working 300 percent better than mere chance would allow.

Note that you can also carry out this test during your New Avatar Power Ritual, asking your Magic Mentor to tell you what the cards are.

Keep records of your scores and notice the day-by-day improvements as your NAP swings joyfully into action to fulfill your desires.

HOW EVELYN A. READ THE MIND OF A MAN AND GAINED A RICH HUSBAND

Evelyn A., a typist from Illinois, was one of this world's eternal losers until she began winning with her NAP. She had been practicing the NAP Tests 12 through 15 for reading the thoughts of people and found that she was beginning to do this with startling clarity.

"I was in the worst possible rut," she said. "Each week my small salary went for the necessities of life and luxuries were far away from me. I couldn't afford nice clothes, or to go anywhere interesting. My luck was terrible—everytime I made a move, it was wrong."

Evelyn decided to practice with her NAP at work one day, during a coffee break. "I was sitting at a table alongside Mr. X., a senior salesman with the company," she said. "I hardly knew him more than to say good morning and good night.

"I tried Test 13, saying to myself 'Mr. X. is worrying about . . .,' and suddenly a great flood of sadness came over me. I could read his every thought. His wife had divorced him. He was desperately shy and miserable, even though by sheer strength of will he was keeping up a brave front to the world, and he wanted a companion to love him and share his luxurious, but terribly lonely, home."

Mr. X.'s most intimate thoughts continued to be totally revealed to Evelyn's NAP-inspired mind.

"It was fascinating," she said. "I knew every last thing about him, even down to how much money he had in the bank."

Impulsively, Evelyn smiled at Mr. X. "Everything will be all right," she said. "You shouldn't fret so. Something good will turn up soon."

Mr. X was startled. "Why did you say that?" he queried. "You must have a great deal of insight and compassion to know that something is wrong. In my business, you learn to hide your troubles."

This was the beginning of a beautiful friendship that soon flowered into love.

Mr. X lavished all his affection and wealth on Evelyn. He also told her—although she knew already, having picked it out of his mind—that he had just become heir to $5,000,000 from a rich uncle. He asked her to share it by becoming his wife.

"Even then, I was able to read his innermost thoughts and know that he was totally sincere, and not using me as a crutch or a 'rebound' marriage," Evelyn said. "I agreed to marry him, of course."

Evelyn's life changed from misery to ecstasy. She was able to give up her boring job and enjoy being a gracious hostess for her husband. He bought her the best things in life that money could purchase.

She luxuriated in her new sumptuous home, enjoying the opulence and prosperity of being a person of substance.

"A third car, a swimming pool—I only have to ask," Evelyn smiled. "I have the love of a perfect man, every last desire granted to me, and a life of ease and abundance.

"And all because I practiced reading minds with my NAP!"

USING YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER TO DETECT FUTURE CIRCUMSTANCES

You will notice that the six foregoing tests were all concerned with letting your NAP tell you about facts which, although hidden from your conscious mind, already existed.

Next proceed to flex your NAP by performing simple future forecasts. The next five tests will show you how to do this.

7. Next Automobile Test. Next time you have a few minutes to spare, sit yourself down where you can watch a road junction where cars are passing occasionally.

When there is a break in the traffic, close your eyes, relax, and say to yourself mentally, "The next car to cross my field of vision will be colored" Wait for a color to present itself in your mind and scribble it down on your record pad, just as you did with the previous tests.

Again, you may hear a word in your mind, you may "see" a color, or you may get a mental idea that identifies the color. Your mind tends to use simple pictures, so flames would mean red or orange, sky would mean blue, grass would mean green, and so on.

Wait for the next car to pass and check your note pad. You are now foretelling the future in a small way!

Note one thing here. Your NAP sometimes hops further into the future than you want it to, until you have trained yourself to control it totally. In that case, you may not correctly forecast the color of the next car, but you will foresee the color of the one following the first car. Check on that when you are doing this test.

8. Today's Callers Test. As you awaken in the morning, provided you have not overslept and are late for work, lie there a few minutes longer and carry out this test.

Think to yourself, "The following people will call on me today" Let your mind wander and make a note of the names that float to the surface.

Depending on your daily circumstances, "call" may mean physically calling at your door or desk at work, or calling you by telephone. Use the one which best fits your daily routine: Obviously, if you work in an office where you receive telephone calls all day long, you will do better to restrict your forecasts to the people you feel will drop by your home that evening.

Each night, check your list, and watch it grow in accuracy as your NAP gets the knack of future-telling.

9. Mail Delivery Test. This one is similar to Test No. 1, the previously described Mail-Box Test. But instead of waiting until after the mailman has called, you make your NAP-inspired forecast before he puts the letters in your box.

Just before you fall asleep at night, say to yourself, "Tomorrow I will receive . . ." and just as you did in the Mail-Box Test previously, wait for a number to slip into your mind. Write it down, and check it out after the mailman has called next day.

You can extend this test just as you did in the other one. When you are reasonably proficient at forecasting the number of letters that will arrive, try writing down not only the number of envelopes that will be delivered to you, but also their colors.

The next step is to predict whom the letters will be from. If you are one of those people who has a special knack for being accurate at this challenging part of the test, you may proceed to the ultimate challenge—deciding, as you did in Test No. 2, Contents of Letter Test, not only who will write to you, but also what they will say.

10. Elevator Arrival Test. This is a simple test that you can carry out anytime you are in a department store or office block that has more than one elevator.

As you stand waiting for an elevator to arrive, say to yourself, "This elevator will open its doors first." Decide on one of them, and back your NAP hunch by going over and standing in front of it.

Keep a record of your NAP forecasts and watch your score improve until 9 times out of 10 you can stand in front of the correct elevator and be first aboard almost every time!

HOW WINNIE B. FORESAW A WINNING LOTTERY TICKET AND WON $250,000

Winnie B., a working housewife from New Jersey, always bought several State Lottery tickets, but had never won.

"We sure could use a win," she wrote to me. "Our money luck is terrible. We had to go bankrupt last year, and everything we get in to seems to turn sour on us.

"We're up to our ears in debt. I could use a bit of luck."

I sent her the basics of the NAP course, including these NAP tests. Two months went by, and then a letter reached me written from an address in California, on expensive personal stationery. It was from Winnie.

"We've retired ten years earlier than we expected, and I'm so happy, I feel like I'll burst," she wrote. "We've bought a beautiful ranch-style home overlooking the ocean and mountains. We've got two cars, an ocean-going boat and a 70-foot swimming pool.

"I tried the NAP Tests and exercises and found out how to win the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes."

Winnie had asked her Magic Mentor the winning number on the New Jersey State lottery, and had been promptly told: "You will not win on that. Buy an Irish horse-racing lottery ticket instead."

Winnie asked further questions of her Mentor and was told the name and address of the ticket-seller, the number of the ticket to pick, and how to get her winnings afterwards.

"It was as simple as that," she wrote. "I bought the ticket, we drew a horse, and then the horse romped home first."

"All our worries are over. We've also had big wins at Tahoe and Reno, after asking my Magic Mentor for winning roulette numbers. We're literally rolling in money from wall to wall, and everyone thinks we've got the Midas touch. I guess you could say we have—yet it's only my NAP doing its work, and anyone else could do the same!"

11. Next Tune Test. When you are listening to a radio program of music or a singer on television, you can exercise your NAP by saying to yourself, "The next piece of music will be called" Wait for a title to appear in your mind, and then check it out by waiting for the next tune to begin. With practice you can second-guess a disc-jockey all the way through a one-hour program, and that's perfect training for your NAP.

USING YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER TO READ PEOPLE

These tests should be used with caution. You are moving into other people's minds. You will also need to talk to them to confirm that some of your NAP readings are totally correct, and as some people are suspicious of NAP-type powers, you must keep its development a secret until you are ready to reveal it.

Notice that where most of the preceding tests have been concerned with inanimate objects, you are now progressing to reading people's innermost thoughts, peeking at their most intimate secrets. Also, as you will see, you will also be making them think what you want them to think!

HOW HILDA F. USED HER NEW AVATAR POWER TO FORCE HER BOSS TO GIVE HER A RAISE

Although she had worked at her job as a machine operator for two long years, Hilda F. had never been given a raise. She knew she was efficient, her time-keeping was good, and she felt she was worth more than $75 her employer paid her each week.

"I had asked him for a raise twice, but each time he said the business could not afford it," Hilda told me. "Then I learned about NAP and began on the tests."

When she felt sufficiently confident in her power, Hilda walked into the boss's office.

"I politely told him that I felt I deserved a substantial raise. Then I relaxed and thought to myself, the next thing he will say will be 'I agree, Miss F., you certainly do. I'm going to raise your salary to $295 a week, and I'm also going to put you in charge of the assembly line.' "

Hilda said she almost laughed aloud at the expression on the face of her boss as her NAP-directed thought took root in his mind. "He opened his mouth to say 'No,' frowning like thunder," Hilda recalled. "Then his face cleared, and he repeated the exact words I had sent to him with my NAP."

"I thanked him nicely, and as I turned to go, I heard him muttering to himself, 'Now what made me say that? Still, it's a good idea, and she's an excellent worker.' "

Hilda duly received her raise and promotion, and is a great deal happier in her position of trust.

"I use my NAP a lot," she said. "When any of the girls who work under me are thinking of stepping out of line, I can read their minds and know about it. Then I send an NAP-directed thought to change their minds."

"I'm always being congratulated on the efficiency of my section of the factory."

12. What Did X Do Last Night? This test can be carried out anytime you meet an acquaintance. As you greet each other, relax and think, "Last night this person. . . ." Let the thought continue in your mind, and mentally make a note of what your NAP tells you, as the sentence is completed in your mind.

Chances are you will not have long to wait to prove your accuracy. Your friend should automatically tell you what she did the previous evening. If not, gentle prompting and polite, casual questions will always give you the answer you are seeking.

Just as in the other tests, you will be amazed to find that nine times out of ten you will get a clear idea of what the person has been doing, even though you have no way of knowing it until he or she tells you. Now your NAP is really swinging into action!

You will notice as you practice this test and No. 13 which follows, that having to probe for the answers will gradually become unnecessary. Such is the force of your NAP that soon you will be bending the will of your acquaintances. Then when you say to yourself, "Last night this person . . .," she herself will start telling you what she has been doing, often going into surprisingly intimate details. That is the effect of your NAP impressing itself on her brain.

HOW DIANA T. FOUND OUT THAT HER ENEMIES WERE SAYING UNTRUE THINGS ABOUT HER AND MADE THEM LITERALLY CRAWL TO HER AND APOLOGIZE

Diana T., a middle-aged nurse from Massachusetts, could never understand why the other staff, the patients, and most of the doctors seemed to dislike her.

"I was always sad and tired at the end of a shift, and glad to go home," she said. "No one actually said anything to my face, but I'm sensitive to people's moods.

"I'm as efficient, willing, and well-trained as the next nurse—better than many—but I still ran into this wall of dislike. And I couldn't understand why less-experienced nurses were being promoted over my head."

One morning Diana walked into the nurses' common room a little early. A group of nurses were chatting, with their heads together. As Diana appeared, they stopped talking abruptly, and one of them giggled in embarrassment.

"I figured that was a good time to try out my NAP," Diana said. She was about halfway through my lecture course at the time. "I relaxed and thought 'Before I came in these nurses were . . . ,’ and a loud, clear thought came to me, saying ‘gossiping about me to be catty.’ ”

Diana moved into the group and looked one nurse straight in the eyes.

“I thought, using my NAP, ‘The next thing you will tell me is what you were saying about me,’ ” Diana related. “The girl flushed crimson, but my NAP was too powerful for her.”

“We were just talking about you,” said the nurse, “and Pamela here said what an unfriendly, inefficient person you are. I agreed with her.”

Gasps went up. Diana turned to Pamela, without saying a word, but in her mind Diana thought, “The next thing Pamela will say will be a truthful statement of her remarks about me.”

Pamela fought to keep quiet, but the words just flooded from her. Even as she spoke, she began to cry in chagrin.

“We’ve all done it. We’re jealous of your good looks, experience, and efficiency,” sobbed the nurse. “We’ve been telling the patients that you are stuck-up and untrained, and every time anything goes wrong in the wards, we tell the doctors and the head nurse that it was your fault.”

Diana still stood there without speaking and turned to the senior nurse of the group.

“I just called on my NAP again and thought, ‘You will now go to every doctor, the head nurse, and all the patients and confess that you have been lying about me. You will then return and apologize on your knees to me,’ ” Diana related. “All this went on without me saying a word aloud, and the other nurses were aghast.”

The senior nurse gulped and flushed. “I think we should all go and tell everyone that we’ve been maligning poor Diana,” she said. “Then we should come back and show her how sorry we are.”

Diana’s NAP won the day for her. She spent the next few hours receiving sympathy and apologies for the untrue stories that had been circulated about her.

abjectly begged my forgiveness. It was a great moment for me."

From then on Diana's life took a turn for the better. Patients praised her lavishly and she was soon in charge of a ward, immersed in her ministering work.

"I've never been so happy," Diana said. "And those nurses still wonder why they blurted out their confessions to everybody. Amazing what a little NAP can do!"

13. What Is Worrying Y.? Just as in Test No. 12, as you greet an acquaintance, relax. This time think, "Y is worried about . . .," and let the thought continue, and remember what your NAP tells you.

Proving the test may take a little time. Some people are reluctant to tell others about their problems. But a little gentle questioning will soon produce a flood of response, particularly if you adopt a sympathetic attitude.

Time after time you will find that you have used your NAP to correctly detect the deepest problems of the person to whom you are talking.

14. What Color Am I Thinking of? Use this test at parties and social gatherings. On no account introduce it as a scientific proof of your NAP, or anything else like that. People will only become negative and derisive.

You can easily persuade others to join in, without them realizing that you are testing and strengthening your NAP.

At a convenient point in a conversation, perhaps when the subject is about the occult or the power of the human mind, you can say: "I was reading the other day that if one person thinks of a color, another person can read it with their mind, without either of them saying a word."

That is usually sufficient to start a lively discussion, and that's your cue to suggest that you try it. Here you have the advantage, because your awakening NAP is perfectly capable of impressing your thoughts on someone else's mind at this stage.

Stand in front of the person who has agreed to try the test, close your eyes and relax, and then think about a single bright color. It is easiest at first to attach the color to an object.

You may have a favorite red sweater, so think about the sweater, pretending that you can see it in front of you.

Then say: "What color am I thinking of?" to your partner. He or she should at once speak out the first color that comes to mind. You'll be surprised as you practice how many times the person correctly names the color you have visualized.

If you want to project the color green, you can think about a green field. Blue will project if you think about a clear sky. Thinking of a yellow flower will send yellow into your partner's mind.

After performing this test for a while, you will have taken another giant step forward in using your NAP.

Your partner will be pleased and excited to think that he or she can read your mind—but you will know that what is really happening is that you are forcing that thought into your partner's brain with the impulse of your NAP.

No one is reading your mind—you are influencing your partner to think what you wish—but do not claim to be doing that. Let your partner, and everyone else, believe that they are reading the color from your mind.

In this way, you will grow a powerful ability to influence others, without them having any idea that you are doing it.

15. What Is Z. Going to Say Next? You can carry out this test without anyone knowing what you are doing.

Any time you are with a group of people, fix your attention on one of them. Then relax and think to yourself, "The next thing Z. will say is" Wait for a word, subject, or sentence to appear in your mind. Remember it, and wait to see what your subject decides to say next.

If you are correct, try it again. If your NAP has established a mind-link with your subject you will find that you can correctly forecast what the subject is going to say about five times out of six.

If, on the other hand, you are incorrect after trying the test three times, turn your attention to someone else, and try the test again. Somewhere within the group you will find someone who links easily to your mind under the influence of your NAP.

Once you have proved the NAP link to yourself, carry the test an exciting step further. As you think, "The next thing Z. will say is . . . ," deliberately add a word or a subject in your mind. It can be a simple phrase like "I don't know" or it can be a whole opinion, like "The President is doing a marvelous job."

Whatever you decide to "send," you will find that many people respond to the NAP-enforced mind-link. They will actually break off from one subject of conversation and begin to talk about what you have "told" them to talk about with your NAP.

Eventually, you can impose such wild thoughts into a person's conversation that they will sometimes stop talking, look puzzled, and ask, "Why did I say that? It's not my real opinion at all!"

You will then know that your NAP has fired up to strength perfectly, and the possibilities of the mental manipulation are, of course, endless.

HOW VICTOR Y. FORCED A CAR SALESMAN TO GIVE HIM A BRAND-NEW LUXURY CAR FOR NOTHING

Victor Y.'s old 1961 car had finally given up the ghost. Victor badly needed transport to get to his work as a machinist in Chicago, and to visit his parents on the other side of the state.

"A new car would have crippled me financially, keeping up the payments, so I had resigned myself to buying yet another old heap which would cost me an arm and a leg in repairs each month," he said. "But what could I do? I had very little cash in the bank, and no hope of getting a large loan because my credit rating was terrible."

Victor, a student of mine, decided to try the force of his NAP thoughts against a hard-nosed car dealer.

"I figured if I could manipulate his thoughts and actions I could manipulate anyone," Victor grinned.

Victor went to the local car showrooms and looked with envy at the shiny, brand-new luxury models.

"What can we sell you?" said a smartly-dressed salesman. "The latest Pontiac? Or maybe a brand-new Olds?"

Victor relaxed as he leaned against a blue Cadillac, one which he had dreamed of owning, but knew he never could.

"Then I sent out an NAP thought, saying to myself, the next thing this salesman will say is 'You're a very lucky man, because this week we're giving away that car you're leaning on. All you have to do is to tell all your friends where you got it and carry our firm's name on the trunk and radiator for a month. After that it's yours—no strings attached. It's our latest way of advertising.'

"I formed the words clearly in my mind and waited.

"The salesman's face was a picture of bewilderment. He opened his mouth, closed it again, and then—with the words bursting out of him—he repeated exactly what my NAP had planted in his mind.

"You can bet I had that car signed over to me, and a legal agreement typed up, pretty fast," Victor said. "But the guy couldn't do enough for me. He even filled the tank to the brim with gas and threw in an AM/FM stereo radio and tape-deck as well!"

So Victor now turns up at work in his Caddy, to the intense envy of his workmates. He is also able to take his family to visit his parents in opulent luxury.

"No one was hurt," Victor said. "Last time I saw that salesman, he confided to me that giving me the car had been a spur of the moment flash of inspiration which he said 'just popped into his head out of nowhere.'

"But he also told me that his unique advertising idea had paid off—sales had skyrocketed. So NAP did us both a lot of good—but I can never tell that salesman where his flash of inspiration really came from!"

HOW TO MAKE DIRECT CONTACT WITH THE SOURCE OF YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER

Until you are perfectly sure and confident of the answers your NAP gives to you, you can employ a powerful occult tool that gives you visible evidence that you are in touch with the source of your NAP.

This tool shows you the answers you are seeking so that you have at your command a visible method of checking out the answers you find during your Rituals.

THE SWINGING RING THAT KNOWS ALL THE ANSWERS

As you are now aware, your NAP lies deep within your mind, waiting to serve you.

You will soon have mastered the complete knack of bringing the sparkling flood of NAP to bear on your desires, but in the meantime you can check on the magnificent things to come by using the occult power of a small pendulum.

HOW TO MAKE A PENDULUM

Many stores that deal in occult supplies will sell you a pendulum, consisting of a small clear plastic ball on the end of a chain. Other types are made of white or colored plastic in the shape of an acorn or a cone.

You will get far better results more economically if you make your own pendulum. It is a valid magical tradition that people should make their own occult tools to obtain the best possible effects.

You can make an excellent pendulum from a ring. All you need to do is to tie a piece of sewing thread about 12 inches long to the ring, and your pendulum is made.

Any small, solid object will serve as the weight on the thread, so that it will hang down and swing easily as you hold the other end of the thread.

HOW TO HOLD YOUR PENDULUM FOR NEW AVATAR POWER WORK

Sit at a table, rest your elbow comfortably and hold the thread of your pendulum between your thumb and first finger. Use the hand that you normally write with.

Adjust the length of the thread until the weight of the pendulum is an inch or so above the surface of the table. Your forearm will be almost upright, leaning slightly towards the center of the table.

WHAT YOUR PENDULUM WILL DO FOR YOU

As you sit holding your pendulum, you will notice that even the slightest tremor of movement from your hand or arm will set it swinging. It is this feature of the pendulum that you will use to find your answers.

First, you are going to ask your pendulum questions that can be answered by a straight "Yes" or "No." When you are adept at receiving answers in this way, you can proceed to more complicated ideas and receive startling evidence that your NAP is anxious and willing to help you as soon as it is fully released.

HOW JENNIFER L. DISCOVERED THAT A MAN LOVED HER

I first met Jennifer L. in London, England. She was one of those students who rarely speaks or asks questions. She worked well and hard, but I had little contact with her as she kept herself aloof from the others. I realized that inside herself she was painfully shy, and I hoped that the course would help her to be more outgoing.

Just past the half-way stage in the lecture series I noticed a change in her. Originally, she had looked like a typical middle-aged suburban housewife. Almost overnight she blossomed into a beautiful being, and she seemed to grow years younger. She had a radiant smile for everyone and she attracted attention because of the magnetic personality that had grown like a flower from within her.

Her shyness and fears that had kept her away from other people fell away, and before the lecture series ended she had told the rest of the class of the miracle her NAP had worked for her.

"I used the pendulum," she said simply. "I made one from a gold ring and practiced with it as we were taught.

"It responded wonderfully and within a week I was finding out all kinds of things about myself and the people round me."

As she progressed, Jennifer began to ask her pendulum personal questions that she would never have dared to speak out to anyone else.

"All my life I've been lonely and retiring," she told the class. "Then one evening, when I was feeling very sad, I asked the pendulum if there was anyone in this world who loved me."

To her intense surprise, the pendulum answered in the affirmative.

"I couldn't believe it," she said. "But I persevered, and by using the advanced pendulum techniques, I found out that the person who loved me was a bachelor who worked in the same office as myself.

"I had never even thought that he had noticed me, although I had often wondered if he had a girlfriend."

Jennifer then asked the pendulum why, if the man loved her, he had never spoken more than a few words to her. She learned that her secret lover was as shy and retiring as she was, and he feared that she would find him forward if he spoke of his regard for her.

"What should I do?" Jennifer asked her pendulum. A few minutes later she had her reply: the man would be attending a social gathering that weekend and she should go along also, and let fate take its course.

Her pendulum had told her the truth, and within a few days Jennifer had entered into a new phase of her existence. I met the happy couple a while later. The radiant girl on the handsome, well-dressed man's arm bore ample evidence to their love for each other.

THE PENDULUM RITUAL THAT OPENS THE GATES TO YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER

You are about to begin a powerful piece of occult and magical work. Treat it as a serious piece of business, and do not be tempted to use this power frivolously.

First perform the New Avatar Power Ritual up to Point A, having arranged your chair in front of a table with your pendulum lying ready in front of you.

When you reach Point A, stand up slowly and gently with your eyes closed. Reach out in front of you as if you were about to draw aside a set of drapes.

Move your hands apart, pretending that you are opening the drapes, and say quietly: "I open the Veil." Then sit down again gently and relax for a minute or two.

GETTING YES/NO ANSWERS FROM YOUR PENDULUM

Open your eyes, but stay totally relaxed and quiet. Reach out one hand and pick up your pendulum by its string. Let the weight hang down an inch or so from the surface of the table. Rest your elbow comfortably.

Now stop the pendulum from swinging with the fingers of your free hand. When the pendulum is still, let go of the weight and rest your free hand in your lap.

Make no conscious attempt from now on to make the pendulum swing. On the other hand, on no account grit your teeth and defy the pendulum to move. If at any time, when you are expecting it to swing, it remains totally still, close your eyes and say "Let go" to yourself a few times.

Now quietly ask a question that you know the answer to, a question where the correct answer is "Yes." For example, you could ask: "Is today —day?" naming the day that you know it to be.

As you stay relaxed and watch, the pendulum will begin to swing. Notice whether it swings from side to side, or forwards and backwards. It may even swing around a circle.

Whatever movement it makes, that means "Yes." Reach out with your free hand and stop the weight from swinging.

Check that answer with another query that has an affirmative answer.

Once you have a firm indication of how your NAP swings the pendulum to say "Yes," you can find out how it says "No" in a similar manner.

Ask a question that has an obvious negative answer, such as "Am I in Russia at the moment?" (Unless, of course, you are in Russia at the time, in which case you would name some other country.)

This time you will get a different swing from the pendulum. If "Yes" was backwards and forwards, then "No" will probably be indicated by a side-to-side swing. If the weight swung clockwise in a circle for "Yes," it will most likely swing counterclockwise for "No."

In a very short while, you will have these two important indications clear. After that you need never program your pendulum again. Provided no one else uses it, it will always give the same "Yes" and "No" swings in reply to your questions.

Now you can proceed to get answers to many of the questions that have been baffling you.

WHAT IS HAPPENING WHEN THE PENDULUM ANSWERS?

The pendulum is operating for you to by-pass your conscious mind, and allow your NAP to give you the answers.

You should notice that the answers you receive are being filtered through and from your subconscious mind, which is providing the tiny muscular tremors that make the pendulum swing.

Because of this filtering action, there will be some questions that apparently have no answers. These are the ones that your subconscious mind is censoring, saying something like: "Better not tell you now. Perhaps later on you shall have the answer."

At times like those, you will get a puzzling swing from your pendulum—something different from the clear “Yes” and “No” swings. The weight may hang totally motionless, or it may go into a little figure-8 dance.

If you receive such a signal from the pendulum, note the question that caused the different behavior and ask again later.

Also remember that the more relaxed you are, the closer your NAP is to the surface. Thus if you come rushing in from a frustrating day at work, to flop down and ask your pendulum: “Should I quit now?” you are very likely to get the answer that your conscious mind wants to give, and in times of stress, our conscious minds are notoriously unreliable.

ENDING YOUR PENDULUM RITUAL

Thirty minutes is long enough for your pendulum question period. Terminate the session simply, but definitely.

Lay the pendulum on the table in front of you, and sit back and relax for a full minute. Then stand up as you did at the beginning of the session. Reach out for the imaginary drapes with your arms wide apart, and then bring your hands together just as if you were slowly closing the drapes for the day.

Say quietly: “Thank you for the answers. I now close the Veil.”

Sit down again and stay there for a full minute. Then open your eyes, and that ends the Pendulum Ritual, and you can come back as you normally do from the New Avatar Power Ritual.

HOW OLIVER G. CURED HIS CRIPPLING BACK PAINS USING NEW AVATAR POWER ANSWERS FROM HIS PENDULUM

Oliver G., of Toronto, Canada, had suffered from crippling back pains for over 10 years. He had lost a great deal of time from work, and had lost much money owing to his absence. His family, although sympathetic, felt neglected whenever he had one of his frequent attacks of pain that prevented him from enjoying life.

His attendance at the first six NAP lectures was spasmodic. Oliver never knew from one hour to the next when his back pains would suddenly flare up. Doctors had diagnosed chronic kidney problems, but years of various treatments had failed to cure him.

After the pendulum lecture (and I learned this later from a delighted Oliver), he went home and started asking the little swinging weight questions about his disease.

"Are my pains caused by kidney problems?" Oliver asked.

"Yes," nodded the pendulum.

"Will I find a cure?" "Yes."

With my present doctor?" "No."

"Will the new doctor give me different treatment that I have never had before?" "Yes."

"Just for the kidneys?" Doubtful reply.

"Is my pain caused by something other than my kidneys?" "Yes."

"Liver?" "No."

Oliver carried out an organ-by-organ question period and finally received a firm "Yes" when he asked: "Is it my spine?"

"Should I consult a chiropractor?" "Yes."

Again, by elimination, Oliver established that he would be visiting a chiropractor in Montreal. Then, using the Advanced Pendulum Method which follows, Oliver found the name of the medical man.

"It took just a few minutes to check that there really was a doctor of that name in downtown Montreal," Oliver related afterwards. "I went to him, and after only three visits and an adjustment to my diet, I was cured.

"I can now enjoy my work, spend my leisure time with my family, and my life is ultimately happy and fulfilling."

ADVANCED PENDULUM METHOD USING THE ALPHABETIC SEMICIRCLE

Once you are expert at receiving "Yes" and "No" answers, you can proceed to a more precise method that will spell out specific answers to your questions. You are then no longer restricted to questions that have only affirmative or negative answers.

On page 124 you will find a diagram of a half-circle divided into 26 sections. In each section you will see a letter of the alphabet.

The letters have been arranged in a special order, so that those that are most frequently used are near to the center of the figure, while less used letters are at the ends. You will appreciate why this has been done as you learn how to use this powerful assistance to your pendulum work.

To use the Semicircle, begin by carrying out the Pendulum Ritual (page 120). Before you begin, open up this book on your table so that Figure 1, the Alphabetic Semicircle, is in front of you with the curved part away from you, and the flat side towards you.

Arrange the book so that when you hold your pendulum, the weight hangs just above the center of the Semicircle, where all the dividing lines meet.

When you have completed the Veil opening, sit down and relax. Then pick up your pendulum and begin.

Ask any question, aloud. Then sit quietly waiting for the pendulum to swing. If it stays motionless, close your eyes for a minute. When you open them again, you will find it has started to swing.

Look carefully at the way the weight is swinging and you will discover that it is moving backwards and forwards over one of the divisions of the Semicircle. Make a note of the letter in that division, and then say: "Thank you, I have that. Next letter, please."

At this point you may do one of two things. Either wait for the pendulum to change direction and swing over to another letter, or use your free hand to stop the first swing so that the weight hangs motionless before beginning to move over a new section. Experiment to see which way suits you best and gives the best results.

As soon as you have identified the second letter, thank your pendulum and let it go on to the next letter. In this way it will spell out long and complicated answers to your questions, frequently giving you facts that you have no conscious knowledge of.

HOW URSULA W. FOUND HER LOST CHILD WHO HAD WANDERED AWAY FROM HOME

You may recall reading of young Tommy W. in the U.S. newspapers of April, 1970. He had gone for a walk with the family dog, unknown to his parents.

Late in the afternoon, Tommy's mother, Ursula, was searching desperately for her son, and so were the neighbors, Tommy's father, and the police and forest rangers. The dog had come home, but Tommy was lost in the woods.

The search spread far afield during the night but the little boy had vanished from sight. As the sun rose, Ursula, an ex-student of mine, thought of asking her pendulum where the boy was.

Trembling and exhausted from her sleepless night, she relaxed as best she could and asked her pendulum: "Is Tommy still alive?"

The pendulum swung into a confident "Yes."

"Will he be found today?" "Yes."

Encouraged, Ursula began to use the Alphabetic Semicircle.

"Where is he?"

She anxiously watched the pendulum as it swung over the diagram. Her heart gave a leap as it spelt out:

A-L-I-V-E A-N-D W-E-L-L I-N T-H-E W-O-O-D-S T-O T-H-E N-O-R-T-H
W-E-S-T

"How far from here?" A-L-M-O-S-T F-I-V-E M-I-L-E-S

"Where should we search?" F-I-N-D S-M-A-L-L L-A-K-E F-O-L-

The moment she could contact her husband, Ursula relayed the NAP-inspired pendulum message to him. He pored over a large-scale map, and found a lake five miles into the woods to the north-west.

Promptly, he informed the searching authorities that he was sure he knew where his son was. The police were incredulous, but as their tracker dogs had lost the trail and the helicopters and planes had found nothing, they allowed Mr. W. to board a search helicopter.

Quickly they flew to the lake that Mr. W. had found on the map. As they hovered over it, they could see a glint of water among the trees. A small stream trickled into the lake from the east. A few hundred yards from the lake, a sandy beach was backed by a large white rock.

The chopper swooped down and almost before the skids had touched the sand, Mr. W. had leaped down, calling for his son.

"Here I am, Daddy," a small voice called. "I was sleeping under a tree. I'm all right."

Ursula W. had never been to the lake in her life, and was certainly not aware of the tiny stream to the east. Yet her NAP knew and was able to direct her to her lost child.

THERE IS LITERALLY NO LIMIT TO WHAT YOU AND YOUR PENDULUM CAN ACHIEVE

As well as spelling out messages about the past, present, and future, you can use your pendulum for other startling feats. Your imagination is the only limit to what you and your pendulum can achieve together—and if you run out of ideas, ask your pendulum to give you a few!

You can search for lost objects by spreading a map in front of you after you have performed the Pendulum Ritual. Ask where the lost object is, and slowly move your hand around so that the pendulum weight “searches” every inch of the map. At some point it will begin to swing.

Then call in the use of your Alphabetic Semicircle, and you will be able to zero in on the street, house and room where the object of your search is resting.

People, minerals, gold, water sources, buried treasure, lost wills—anything lost can be located by using your pendulum and the Alphabetic Semicircle.

HOW ROLAND B. FOUND TWO MILLION DOLLARS IN TREASURE WITH HIS PENDULUM

Many of us dream about what we would do if we found a million dollars. Roland B., a mechanic from Florida, also had that same dream, but for him it came true.

As he labored over greasy cars and stripped down rusty assemblies, slaving until he thought his aching back would break, Roland was forever thinking what he would do if he ever had money to burn.

“Not that there was much chance of that ever happening to me. I’d dropped out of school early, and rarely held a job for many months,” he confided to me. “But in my dreams, I placed my own private plane high on the list, plus beautiful girls who would fly anywhere with me. Blondes, brunettes, and red-heads, slim and vivacious, just like James Bond has. I also dreamed of buying an island in the Pacific, and rigging it out with every piece of opulence money can buy.

"Then my dream would shatter as I came back to the reality of my $70 a week job and my second-floor walk-up tenement room, where the roaches chased the mice at night. My dreams of caviar and champagne crumbled into bitter dust before the reality of hamburger and beer—when I could afford them."

Roland was fascinated by the NAP Pendulum Ritual. A practical man, he found that the pendulum was something solid he could believe in.

"To check it, I asked questions about the service station where I worked. The pendulum promptly told me that if I looked under the seat of an abandoned Ford on the back lot, I would find money," Roland said. "I looked where it said and found an old roll of bills. When I counted them, they totaled $582!"

Encouraged, Roland bought a map and started working his way over it.

"The pendulum insisted on swinging over a spot just off the coast," he said. "I used the Alphabetic Semicircle to ask questions, and was told that a Spanish treasure ship had gone down there, loaded with gold to the value of over $2,000,000."

Roland took a week off and went skin-diving. His pendulum was right: in 30 feet of water, the bulk of a wreck showed on the ocean bed.

"We'll never know why it sank there," Roland said. "There are no reefs or rocks, which is why no one has ever dived for treasure or wrecks at that spot."

"When I broke into the hold and came up with 23 gold coins, I knew I was going to be rich."

Secretly, Roland and a friend combed the wreck, using a boat and treasure-hunting gear.

"We brought up enough gold and gems to keep us both in luxury for the rest of our lives," Roland related. "It's not hard to sell ocean treasure for a good price to collectors, and my share—for a month's regular diving—came to a fraction over one million dollars."

True to his dreams, Roland bought his Pacific island. He has his private plane, bikini-clad girlfriends who swim in his private pool, and a mansion with servants to carry out his every whim.

"I'll never have to look at a greasy engine again," Roland said as he lazed in the warm sun. "NAP and the pendulum worked me a miracle-and-a-half!"

LET YOUR PENDULUM SWING YOU INTO A NEW LIFE

Practice with your pendulum and become expert with it. Continue with your Rituals and bring yourself in contact with the ultimate energy of your NAP. You are moving closer and closer to a power greater than the H-bomb: money, love, health, and power over others are literally at your fingertips.

THE TITANIC NEW AVATAR POWER RITUALS THAT BRING HEALTH, WEALTH AND HAPPINESS FLOODING TO YOU

This chapter is one of the most powerful in this book. One feature of NAP is a tremendous manipulative force that compels miracles to happen for you. You will now learn to focus this force with an ancient Ritual and its accompanying Words of Power.

Once you use this practical method, you can renew your body and transform your entire environment. The Powers you are bending to your will are those that keep the Wheels of the Universe circulating smoothly.

The primary step is to feel this force flowing close to you from an inexhaustible reservoir. Next, you bring the force to a peak.

Then you locate five major centers in and around your body. Those centers are the gates to the force that is waiting to pour into your being.

To open those gates you must use five Arcane Names of Invocation. As you begin the Ritual and recite the Names, you will thrill to the feeling of the force pouring through your body. Then having filled yourself with the force, you perform the Control Pillar Ritual which directs the force wherever you wish it to go.

Refinements involve invoking the colors and powers of the seven major planets of the Solar System, drawing on their age-old vibrations as you call on ancient Divine Beings to assist with your desires.

All this is here for you, in step-by-step form. You are on the threshold of working true Magic for yourself to produce money, love, power, success, happiness, and contentment.

This is where much of the previous work with the earlier Rituals begins to knit together. With your basic work already behind you, you are ready to control and direct the limitless flow of your NAP, flooding to you at full strength.

THE FIVE NEW AVATAR POWER GATES

The picture of the male in Figure 2 looks rather as if he is standing behind a pole with five balloons inflated round it. In actual fact, this is how you are going to pretend you are as you usher in the awesome flow of your NAP.

Notice that the five "balloons" are labeled Earth, Water, Fire, Air, and Spirit, from the feet to the head. These are traditional names for the five gates through which your NAP is going to cascade.

These gates are normally almost totally closed, but the Rituals you have already been given have opened some of the gates just a fraction. The Ritual that follows will open the gates fully, flooding you with crackling force.

HOW MIKE P. OPENED HIS FIVE NEW AVATAR POWER GATES AND REGAINED HIS LOST YOUTH

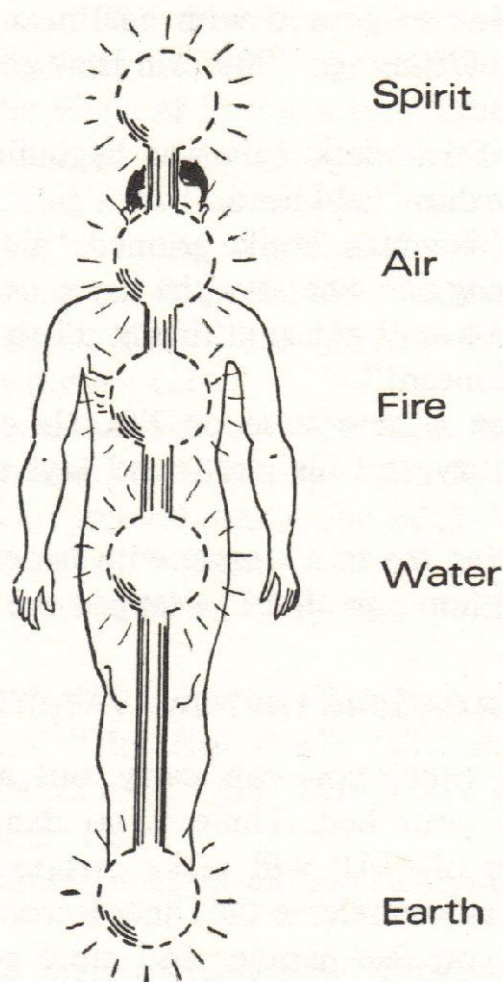

Mike P., an ex-steelworker, used to be proud of his strength and virility, but advancing years inevitably took their toll.

"At 65 years of age, my brain was still clear and I retained many of the desires and urges of a young man," Mike said. "But my body wasn't up to it. I spent much of my time in a rocking chair or in bed. My hands were crooked with arthritis, my lower back was agonizingly pained if I stood too long. My face was seamed and wrinkled, my hair was long gone, and I had no energy for anything.

"I was short of breath if I tried to hurry, and an old injury to my arm prevented me from lifting anything. So sports, social affairs, or any of the other delights of life had vanished into my past forever—or so I thought as I daily became more cranky and bitter.”

Mike took the NAP course and mastered the early Rituals.

“But the true miracle happened when I performed the Ritual for Opening the New Avatar Power Gates,” Mike related. “As I said the Words of Power, I felt a flow of raw energy rush through my body. The pain left my back, and my gnarled hands uncurled and became smooth and supple before my very eyes. I couldn’t believe it!”

Not only did the pain leave, but Mike’s spine grew straighter and he grew two inches taller overnight.

“I jumped out of bed in the morning and rushed to the mirror,” he said. “I thought it was a trick of the light when I saw that the wrinkles and seams on my face had vanished. Looking out of the mirror at me was a young, virile man!"

The best was yet to come. Mike's body grew strong in wind and limb, and he was soon jogging, playing tennis and golf, and enjoying all the social life he had so sadly missed for years.

"I've taken up weight-lifting," Mike said when I saw him last. His ruddy complexion glowed with health, and he looked fitter than many men half his age. "My arm is as good as new—and my hair is growing back."

Sure enough, thick dark hair was beginning to sprout from Mike's previously shiny bald head.

"I'm a totally new man," Mike grinned. "I've also got me a new girl friend—a young one. She says she has a hard time keeping up with me, and she hasn't got anything at all to complain about, if you know what I mean!"

Mike has taken a new lease on life. He expects to live well beyond the century, and his girl friend says that she's taken up NAP now.

"He was wearing me to a frazzle with his energy," she smiled. "But I can match him now that I've tapped the force of NAP."

RITUAL FOR OPENING THE NEW AVATAR POWER GATES

For the first time, you can carry out a Ritual as you lie comfortably on your bed. There is no danger of your falling asleep—the surge of NAP will make certain that slumber is far from your mind as you release the Inner Forces.

Naturally, if you feel happier and more comfortable in your familiar chair, by all means use it. This Ritual is just as powerful whether you are sitting or lying down.

First, carry out the New Avatar Power Ritual to Point A, under all the usual conditions at your usual time, lying out flat on your bed if you wish.

BRINGING IN THE NEW AVATAR POWER

When you reach Point A, start to open the Spirit Gate, just above your head. Pretend that a white, sparkling balloon is hovering just above your scalp. Do not strain to see it or feel it, but just think what it would feel like if that balloon was hovering a scant inch above your skull.

As you are thinking about this white ball, pretend that it has become a ball of white light. Many people pretend that an electric light bulb inside the balloon has been switched on.

As the light comes on, say the First Arcane Word of Power: "EH-HEH-YEH."

That's easy to say. The vowels are short, so that the three sounds of the Word all rhyme with "Oh, yeah!"

Slowly repeat the Word of Power a total of three times as you let the idea of the ball of white light grow in your mind. You will begin to feel a prickling sensation in your fingers and toes.

Now pretend that a round white shaft of light, about three inches thick, is moving out from the lower side of the ball of light. That shaft moves slowly down through your skull until it reaches your throat. This is the Air Gate.

Pretend that a second ball of white light is growing in your throat, opening up and spreading out until it covers your neck, jaws and eyes. You pretend that your head, up as far as your eyebrows, is inside the ball of light.

Say the Second Arcane Word of Power: "YEH-HO-VO-EL-OH-HEEM."

Pronounce the "Yeh" as in the First Word; "Ho" is just the same as Santa Claus' "Ho! Ho! Ho!"; "Vo" rhymes with "Ho"; "El" is said like the letter L; "Oh" like "I owe you a nickel"; and "Heem" rhymes with "team."

Say the Word three times in all and feel your throat begin to glow and tingle.

Pretend that the shaft of light now thrusts on down through your chest to the Fire Gate, on a level with your heart. Pretend that a third ball of light expands within your chest, extending from the front of your body through to the back.

Say the Third Arcane Word of Power: "YEH-HO-VO-EL-OH-VE-DAH-AS."

The first five syllables are exactly the same as those of the Second Word; then "Ve" rhymes with "pay"; "Dah" rhymes with "far"; and "As" rhymes with "pass."

Say the Word twice more, and feel a warmth spreading through your chest cavity.

Pretend that the shaft of light is now thrusting on down to the Water Gate which is located at your genitals. Pretend that a ball of white light expands through your body in that position as you say the Fourth Arcane Word of Power: "SHAD-AI-EL-KAI."

"Shad" rhymes with "had"; "Ai" is spoken like the word "eye"; "El" as before; and "Kai" rhymes with "high."

Say the Word twice more, slowly and experience a comfortable warmth throughout your pelvic region.

Complete this part of the Ritual by pretending that the shaft of light thrusts down between your legs to your feet where a fifth ball of light expands.

Say the Fifth Arcane Word of Power: "AH-DOH-NAI-HA-AH-RETZ." "Ah" as the doctor tells you to "Say Ah!"; "doh" like a female rabbit, "doe"; "Nai" to rhyme with "sky"; "Ha" rhymes with "far"; "Ah" the same as the first one; and finally "Retz" rhymes with "bets." Say the Word twice more slowly.

The picture you have in your mind's eye should be a shaft of fiery white light running from your head to your toes, inside your body, studded with five gigantic, brilliant white gems—three along the center and one at each end.

You are now fully charged with raw NAP and your final tasks are to circulate it and then direct it to carry out its miraculous purposes.

HOW YVONNE N. USED HER NEW AVATAR POWER TO BECOME A PSYCHIC HEALER AND LEAVE A LIFE OF FRUSTRATION BEHIND HER

Yvonne N., of Hillbrow, Johannesburg, South Africa, used to be a clerk in a real estate office. Her life was unutterably boring, and she longed for something which would take her away from her desk forever. She became an avid student during a course of lectures I held in her city.

She was particularly attracted to the Rituals described in this chapter. When she had learned the method, she used her NAP to heal her neighbor, Mrs. Helen D.

"Helen had been suffering agonies with a whiplash for a full year after she was in a car accident on Durban Road," explained Yvonne. "She wore an uncomfortable neck brace and could hardly move the upper part of her body for the pain. Her hands often became numb, and nothing the hospitals and doctors could do gave her more than temporary relief.

"I began radiating NAP healing to her, without her knowledge. Within two days she mentioned that she was feeling better. A week later all pain had left her, she was totally cured, and was able to discard the neck brace. She has never had a relapse."

Yvonne was sufficiently encouraged to form a healing group among her friends. She recorded cures of many maladies, including varicose veins, arthritis, rheumatism, breast malignancies, and diabetes.

Her fame spread. Soon, the sick and ailing were lining up outside her apartment, asking to be healed with her NAP.

"I gave up my clerking duties and concentrated on full-time healing," Yvonne said. "I never asked anyone for money, but many grateful people left me large sums as donations.

"One man who came in on crutches with a paralyzed spine walked away unaided, leaving me his crutches and a check for R10,000 ($15,000)."

Yvonne opened a clinic after that, and now works from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. five days a week, ministering to the sick.

"It's a beautiful feeling, being able to help all those unfortunates with my NAP," she said. "My life is exciting and interesting, and I feel that I am fulfilling myself."

THE NEW AVATAR POWER CIRCULATION RITUAL

As you lie or sit, fully charged with NAP, take the next step toward sending your NAP streaming out to do your bidding.

Bring your attention to the Spirit Gate, where you have created the ball of white light above your head. Pretend that the light turns to a liquid stream and begins to flow down the left side of your body, painting your left shoulder, arm, hip, leg, and foot with white brilliance. As you imagine this downflow, breathe out slowly at your normal, relaxed speed.

When the stream of light reaches the ball of light corresponding to the Earth Gate at your feet, begin to breathe in slowly, and pretend that the stream of light is running up the right side of your body, back to the ball of light at the Spirit Gate. On the way up it bathes your right leg, hip, arm and shoulder with sparkling brilliance, just as it did to your left side on the way down.

Perform this imaginary circulation, down on the left and up on the right, as you take five more deep and easy breaths.

Now you add a second flow to the first. In time with an outgoing breath, pretend that the light from the Spirit Gate is flowing down the front of your body, bathing your face, chest, stomach, thighs, legs, and feet in brilliance.

Then, as you inhale, imagine the flow sweeping under your feet and up at the back of your body, flooding white light over your calves, buttocks, back, shoulders, and neck.

Repeat this second flow five times, breathing in rhythm with the down and up motion of this waterfall of imaginary light.

You have now imagined yourself to be inside a flowing, circulating stream of NAP.

HOW GUY M. CURED HIS FRACTURED LEG BY CIRCULATING HIS NEW AVATAR POWER

I will quote Guy M.'s letter. It states the facts far better than I can.

"I learned the New Avatar Power Circulation Ritual in December, 1972. At the time I was suffering intense pain from a fractured leg which I had sustained while skiing. My left leg was in a cast from hip to ankle, and the bone was refusing to knit together. My doctor had suggested that if the bone did not heal within another week, he would operate and pin the broken ends together.

"The third time I carried out the Power Circulation Ritual, I felt a tremendous comfortable heat flowing through my left leg. It was just as if soft, warm hands were massaging the leg inside and out, and warming it through and through.

"The following day there was a marked diminishing of pain when I walked on the leg.

"I did the Ritual seven times in all, and then it was time for my routine check-up at the hospital. By that time, I could walk with no pain at all. The plaster cast, of course, obstructed normal walking.

"My doctor sent me for X rays, commenting favorably on the ease with which I was moving. When the plates came from the laboratory, my doctor was stunned.

"There is no sign of a fracture here," he said, "and that's totally impossible."

"Meanwhile, I was walking up and down the office, feeling no pain at all now that the cast had been removed. My doctor still insisted that the bone had healed impossibly quickly, and he showed me the X-ray plates of only 14 days previously. The jagged break was clearly visible.

"Nevertheless, the bones had knitted together perfectly. I was able to go skiing again the following weekend, and I've never had a moment's trouble with the leg since."

THE NEW AVATAR POWER FOUNTAIN RITUAL

After taking the twelve breaths and imagining the circulation of your NAP, think about the ball of light at the Earth Gate at your feet. Recall the shaft of light that you pretended was thrusting through the other balls of light.

Imagine that the Spirit Gate has turned into a powerful suction pump which is sucking the white light from the Earth Gate and up the center shaft. Inhale as you pretend that the light is rising in the shaft.

Then pretend that the light bursts out of the top of the shaft like a brilliant fountain. Begin to exhale, and imagine the light showering down all over you from the Spirit Gate over your head.

Take five more deep breaths, sucking the light up the shaft and then imagining it cascading down your body like a waterfall, to be absorbed again by the ball of light at your feet.

You will now feel your NAP physically. With your body relaxed and still, a great calmness will surge through your mind, while your skin will prickle with warmth and a vibrant current of life.

Now is the moment to heal any part of your body that needs mending. If a physical disorder has been troubling you, think about the part of your body that is sick. If your normal mental patterns are not as clear-cut as you would wish, direct your attention inside your head. Think about the point in your brow where you may have felt the Tickling of the Ant described on page 74.

You are now overflowing with the force of NAP and you bring this tide of power to a foaming, glorious peak by reading the following Invocation aloud slowly, with feeling.

INVOCATION TO STRENGTHEN THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER

"Thee I invoke, The Bornless One. Thou art Man made perfect, whom no man has seen at any time. This is He whom the winds fear. Hear me, and make all subject unto me, so that every spell and scourge of the Vast One shall be made obedient to me.

"I am He, the Bornless Spirit, strong and of immortal fire. I am He, the Truth, that lighteneth and thundereth. I am He whose mouth ever flameth. I am He the begetter and manifester unto the Light."

Those words have a mystic power of their own. They are a true Invocation to Hidden Spiritual Beings, and they have been used by powerful adepts for centuries. By saying the words, you are attuning yourself with the power of those adepts, and the still greater powers of the Beings.

HOW WENDY U. MIRACULOUSLY BROUGHT A MAN TO LOVE HER BY PERFORMING THE NEW AVATAR POWER FOUNTAIN RITUAL

Wendy U., an unemployed go-go dancer from Brooklyn, was desperate. Suicide was foremost in her mind. She was lonely, frustrated, sick, starving, and totally destitute.

"I had a squalid little room, infested with bugs, and I was two months late with the rent," she said. "I had no job, no food, no money, and a virus disease was making me too weak to stand. I was constantly vomiting, and I was in agony.

"I could see no way out except to throw myself under a subway train."

She looked so desperate, with her lank hair tangled across her forehead, with unspeakable grief on her lined face, that I spoke to her as she stumbled along the sidewalk, on her way to her self-made appointment with Death.

Even having a total stranger speak to her was a great event in her drab life.

"You're the first person I've talked to this week," she said, shivering as she sipped a coffee in a drug store where I had taken her. "But I won't bore you with my troubles. They'll soon be over for me."

She never spoke a truer word, but things turned out very differently from what she expected. I persuaded her to give life one more try.

"However, strange they may seem, read these papers and perform the New Avatar Power Fountain Ritual," I told her. "Keep in touch—I'd like to know what happens."

Wendy dragged herself wearily back to her shabby room. Standing on the cracked linoleum, she performed the Ritual.

"I was suddenly vibrating from top to toe with health, and my nausea vanished," she said. "The pains left my legs, and I felt a flood of warmth rushing to every corner of my body. The room seemed to light up, and I thought I heard heavenly music, very quiet, coming from all around me.

"Suddenly, I just knew the future was going to be great—and soon."

Hurrying to the washroom, she tidied herself up. The shining face in the mirror was in marked contrast to the lined visage that she had had a few minutes before. As she was putting the finishing touches to her make-up, marveling at the glowing health pouring from her every pore, she heard a knock on the door.

Throwing it wide, she smiled up at a handsome man who stood on the threshold, dressed in an expensive suit. Diamonds sparkled on his fingers as he held out his hands to Wendy.

"I've found you at last," he said. "I saw you dancing a month ago and fell hopelessly for you. I've been searching for you ever since. Some force made me come up here—and I'll never know why."

Wendy recognized the man. She has seen him sitting beside the stage, ordering expensive liqueurs and tipping the waiters lavishly.

"Things moved fast," Wendy said. "I told him I needed a little time to think things over."

Her man, an oil tycoon, set her up in a sumptuous room in a luxury hotel.

"Just order whatever you need and call me later," he said.

"I was too stunned to realize my good fortune for a while," Wendy said. "But I got to know my man better as we visited high-priced night-spots, went to the races and spent a bundle, and visited with the jet set.

"Then he asked me to marry him, and made me the happiest girl in the world."

Wendy is now the lady of the house in an extravagant Southern mansion. A retinue of servants attends to her tiniest need. She takes world trips with her handsome new husband, and as she says, "what with the house, my own airplane, the boats, the cars, the jewelry, the unlimited spending money and the love of a generous, rich man, my life couldn't be more perfect. That's quite a Ritual which gave it all to me."

HOW TO USE THE CENTRAL PILLAR RITUAL TO PERFORM MIRACLES

The whole of the Ritual described so far is known as the Central Pillar Ritual. As you finish reading the invocation, you can proceed directly to the miracle working.

Perhaps there are necessities of life that you need, or maybe some luxury you have been denied. Use your NAP first to bring just what you want to yourself.

Just consider what you desire to have, or what undesirable circumstance you may wish to be rid of. Then add the Power of the Major Planets to bring luxuries flooding to you, or to send the unpleasant parts of your life hurtling out of your affairs forever.

On page 146 you will see a table that lists the Seven Major Planets, the subjects those planets control, the banishing and attracting colors associated with each planet, and the Name of the Mystic Being who controls each planet.

Warning: Treat those Names with care. They are ultimately powerful, and should be respected. Keep them secret from people who do not know about NAP. In particular, refrain from attaching the Names to other people, things, or pets.

Glance through the list of planetary subjects, searching for what you desire. If you have debts to pay or recover, then Saturn is the planet. If you wish to attract a woman and win her love, the Moon should be used. A requirement for a new television will be satisfied by Mercury. If you desire a luxurious home, a second or third car, a swimming pool, four mink coats, or any other outrageous extravagance, Venus will work that miracle for you.

Somewhere within the list is a word or phrase that will describe your need, either specifically or generally.

The only other thing you need to know is that the attracting colors bring things to you, while the banishing colors send things away, or send them to other people.

Thus the blue of Jupiter would help to bring you abundance, while the yellow of Mercury would help you to sell belongings that you no longer need.

So write down your desire in a few words. Then make a note of the name of the appropriate planet and the color you are going to use. Lastly, write the Name of the Mystic Being who controls that planet.

THE SHATTERING NEW AVATAR POWER ATTRACTING AND BANISHING RITUAL

Perform the whole of the Central Pillar Ritual. In your imagination, you are bathed in white light.

Now pretend that the white light is changing to the planetary color that you have selected for your miracle. At the same time, repeat the Name of the Mystic Being three times, aloud.

You are now focusing the Powers of the Universe to bring your desire which you have written down into startling reality. Decide on a convenient time to perform this Ritual and perform it every day until your desire is fulfilled.

On average, your miracles will occur within seven days of starting the Ritual. Some, however, will occur almost instantaneously, while others may take a little longer.

HOW CHRIS S. GOT RID OF AN UNWELCOME RELATIVE BY USING THE NEW AVATAR POWER ATTRACTING AND BANISHING RITUAL

Chris S.'s house was too small for him and his mother-in-law. She had come to stay for a week with Chris and his family in their suburban home in Queens. The week became two weeks, and the weeks ran into several months.

"No hints, words, or outright suggestions would persuade her to go," said Chris. "I was totally frustrated. As well as draining my slender resources, she upset the even tenor of the household.

"My wife and I began snapping at each other, and my mother-in-law took my wife's side. And when I flew into a rage with them both, they both agreed what a bad husband I was."

Chris finally decided to use the Attracting and Banishing Ritual.

"I locked myself in the bedroom, and called on Jehovah Elohim, thinking about the banishing color of indigo, associated with Saturn which rules relatives," he said. "I felt the surge of power rush through me, and I knew the NAP was doing its work.

"As I ended the Ritual, the telephone rang. It was my mother-in-law's husband telling her to come home at once because he was sick of looking after himself. She went like a lamb."

Chris' unwelcome guest was out of the house in 10 minutes flat, and Chris was able to settle back into his harmonious life, alone with his wife.

"I may have called on Jupiter," quipped Chris, "but my NAP certainly made the sun come out for me!"

EXAMPLES OF USING THE ATTRACTING AND BANISHING RITUAL

Obtaining Gold. Let us assume that you desire to receive some gold to boost your bank balance.

Write down: "I wish to receive $10,000 worth of gold." Be careful to specify the amount precisely.

Examining the chart on page 146, you can see that the Sun is concerned with gold, and to bring it to you, the Sun's attracting color of gold needs to be used.

So write down "Sun" and "Gold." Lastly you must write "Jehovah Eloah Ve-Daas."

Perform the Ritual, pretending that the light around you has turned to bright, sparkling gold as you say the Name of the Mystic Being.

Then as you sit for a few minutes enjoying the vibrations of the Ritual, pretend that the gold is already cascading into the room, piling up in a shimmering flood of opulence.

Sending a Present to a Friend. Suppose you wish to do a favor for a friend, and arrange for him to receive some books he has said he needs.

Carry out the Ritual, except that you will use the banishing color of Mercury, which governs books. Write down, "Send my friend the books he needs. Mercury. Yellow. Elohim Tzavoös." As you pretend that the light is changing to brilliant yellow, and call three times to Elohim Tzavoös, pretend that someone, anyone, is giving the required books to your friend. He will receive them shortly.

Gaining the Love of a Partner. Producing an abstract benefit, one which you cannot touch and see, is done in much the same way.

The planet Venus is concerned with love and pleasure. The color that will bring love to you is emerald green. So you would write down "I desire a loving partner. Venus. Emerald Green. Jehovah Tzavoös, and carry out the Ritual using that color and those words and Name.

Debt Repayments. Saturn governs debts. If you wish to get out of debt, you should write down "I wish to be free of debt. Saturn. Indigo. Jehovah Elohim."

Note that you use the banishing color, because you want to send the debts away from you.

Notice that while this will make you free of debt, it will not necessarily bring money to you. The result of the Ritual could be that the person to whom you owe money calls you up and says that he has decided to cancel your debt to him for some reason or another.

Removing Undesirable Character Traits. While you are deciding what miracle you wish to work for yourself, you may decide that some part of your character needs changing. Perhaps you realize with a blinding flash that people have been calling you mean and miserable for years.

So you call on the Mystic Being El and the blue attracting color of Jupiter. Your desire would be written down as: "I wish to be generous."

As you work the Ritual, you will feel yourself change, becoming expansive, happy, lucky, and outgoing.

HOW LOUISE K. BANISHED EVIL INFLUENCES FROM AROUND HER

Louise K. from San Bernardino lived alone. An old woman who lived further down the road had once cursed Louise for some imagined slight.

"Everything I touch crumbles to ashes," Louise wrote to me. "Bad luck haunts me. People stare at me when I go out, and I can hardly sleep for all the strange noises which go on in my house. It's making me a nervous wreck.

"Now my son has run off with some slip of a hippie girl, my husband is dead, I've only got a few dollars welfare coming in and altogether I'm a miserable, penniless old woman."

By mail, I sent her instructions on how to call on Shadai El Chai, using the blue banishing color of the Moon as she performed the NAP Ritual.

"What a relief," she wrote to me two days later. "I slept a full night in my own room last night. All the evil influences have gone. My son came home again this morning. He's left the girl, and he's going to care for me. I'm delighted to get straight so quickly."

CHOOSE YOUR MIRACLE AND WORK IT NOW

A little preliminary work in selecting the correct planet and color will truly work any miracle that you ask for.

Carry out the Ritual, pretending that what you have asked for is rapidly winging towards you, and it will assuredly happen.

You are now fully experienced in the methods of miracle-working. Start at once to change your life, banishing the influences and effects that have been holding you back for so long and making you unhappy. Then start into the joyful task of automatically attracting the luxury and prosperity you have lacked for so long.

HOW TO ATTACK AND DEFEND YOURSELF FROM ENEMIES BY USING YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER

You probably have at least one enemy, whether you realize it or not. Somewhere, someone hates you for what he believes you have done to hurt him. It may have happened long ago, or it may never have happened at all as far as you are concerned—but nevertheless that person is scheming against you.

Then, apart from hidden enemies, you may know well who is opposing you, who hates you, and who would like to see you fall and fail. Enemies do their best to undermine you by telling lies, spreading gossip, performing acts which they know make you angry; and they may even attack you physically or steal your belongings. Frequently, jealousy is the source of enmity. If you have a better home, a more expensive car, or even a happier life than someone else, the canker of jealousy will frequently turn that person into a bitter enemy towards you.

As your NAP works miracles for you, so the good things of life will flow to you in an endless stream of opulent bounty. Yet as your own life improves, so others will become jealous of you. This chapter tells you how you can automatically send your NAP winging out to overthrow those people who are trying to harm you.

Enemies use various methods to ruin others. Some use bitter words, others use angry actions—and a few use occult methods including hexes and the Evil Eye.

But whatever your enemies are trying to do to you, and by whatever means, you need worry no longer. You are about to learn to use the stupendous force of your NAP to smash your enemies, wreck their schemes, and destroy their power over you, so that you can live a happy and serene life, free from evil influences.

ACTIONS TO TAKE AGAINST AN ENEMY

When an enemy is attacking, you can take one of several courses.

First, you can run and hide, but this accomplishes little. Your enemy may be still waiting for you when you come out of your hiding place.

Second, you can build a wall or shield through which your enemy cannot penetrate. This is far better than running, and if your shield is portable, you can go serenely about your business, leaving your enemy cursing and impotent outside your impregnable fortress. However, this is also a stop-gap measure, for your enemy is still alive and well, and anytime you step out of your shield, he may attack you.

Third, and best, you can physically meet your enemy on his own ground and beat him to his knees until he begs for mercy. That is the most permanent of the three courses, but it is not always practical for the average person. Apart from legal entanglements that may result, your enemy may be bigger and stronger than you are.

Take heart. Your NAP gives you a whole arsenal of true secret weapons of terrible force and accuracy. By Ritual means, you can achieve effects as devastating as using a gun, cold steel, or a club—with the added advantage that the process is totally undetectable.

The Rituals in this chapter are designed specifically for your use, in this day and age. They work with dreadful precision, as your enemies will discover to their awe and terror. Yet they will never know, unless you tell them, who it was brought about their painful downfall.

BUILD A RITUAL SHELTER BEFORE YOU FIGHT BACK

Before setting out on an offensive, a wise army commander makes sure that his home base is well guarded and safe. By performing the New Avatar Power Defensive Armor Ritual which follows, you will be doing a similar thing. Little can penetrate the solid screen of NAP that you erect in this manner.

So if you are being attacked with gossip and lies, or annoyed by the actions of people who resent you, or you are in any sort of trouble with an antagonist, perform this Ritual before you fight back with the other formidable Rituals.

THE NEW AVATAR POWER DEFENSIVE ARMOR RITUAL

Carry out the complete Central Pillar Ritual as described in Chapter 7. Then perform the Uncrossing Ritual to Banish Evil Influences which is described in Chapter 3.

Then, as you sit feeling the glow and surge of your NAP, repeat this Invocation three times:

"Thou Beings of vast strength and ultimate power, Mahashiah and Lelahel,¹ I command Thee to surround me.

"Place Thyself by me such that nothing can reach me, nothing can touch me, and nothing can harm me. I command this with the Word of Power: NET-ZAHK-EE-ODE. So mote it be."

You are now protected from evil influences from your foes and can proceed untouched. Come back from the Ritual in the usual manner, and repeat it daily at the same time until your enemy is defeated.

THE ASTRAL BOMB ATTACK RITUAL

Once you are protected from harm by your NAP Defensive Armor Ritual, you can terrorize your enemies with several different offensive Rituals, if you wish.

¹ Pronounced MAH-HAH-SHE-AH and LAY-LAH-ELL.

This Astral Bomb Attack Ritual is extremely effective. It should be used when you know who your enemy is and where he is. Perform it daily until he is crushed.

Carry out the complete Central Pillar Ritual. Say this Invocation once:

"Know this, Yechoel and Lehahiah²

"Mine enemies shall be scattered and dumbfounded. Those who wish to harm me shall be conquered by the Might of Thy Material and Awesome Powers.

"Hear me and obey. I seal this command with the Word of Power: BEEN-AH-HEH. So mote it be."

HOW HAROLD D. USED THE ASTRAL BOMB ATTACK RITUAL TO DESTROY HIS LYING COMPETITORS

Harold D. owned a small general store in Iowa. Trade was poor, and he rarely had money left over to buy any of the luxuries of life.

"I live a desolate existence," he once told me. "Open the store, pray that enough people come to buy so that I can pay the rent and have a little left for food, then close the store—six days a week, 52 weeks a year.

"I can't understand it. I advertise. I give at least as good service as my competitors—better in most cases. My products are good and my prices are right. Yet I work like a slave from morning to night for almost nothing."

Harold became a NAP student, and one of the earliest facts he learned from his Magic Mentor was that Mr. and Mrs. Q., who ran a rival establishment across the road, were spreading lies about Harold's little store.

"That explained a great deal," Harold said. "I found out that they were telling people that my storeroom was filthy and damp.

"They also spread the slander that I shortchanged, overcharged, gave short measure, bought stale stock selling it as if it was fresh, and that my weighing scales were fixed. Yet they did it so cunningly that I knew I'd never make a libel case stick. Not surprisingly, most of the trade went to them, leaving me out in the cold."

Harold at once moved in on his slanderers with the Astral Bomb Attack Ritual, which he carried out in secret shortly after he had put up the shutters one night.

"It began to work almost at once," he said. "Next day Mr. and Mrs. Q. opened an hour later than usual. I found out later that they had been unable to get to sleep until dawn for some unknown reason, and when they finally dropped into exhausted slumber, they overslept.

"That morning I took in an extra $40 from people who usually shopped across the road."

Next day a government health inspector visited the town. He gave Harold a total clearance, but he came down heavily on the Q's for infringements of the health and hygiene laws.

"That cost them a pretty penny in fines," Harold related. "To make up the loss, they failed to renew their insurance policy. I noticed that they both began to look haggard and sick.

"But my NAP hadn't finished with them yet."

One week after Harold first performed the Astral Bomb Attack Ritual, a small dam broke on the hill behind the Q's store. A rush of muddy water swept down on the store during the night, smashing in the rear door and engulfing the basement storeroom.

"It didn't touch another building on the street," Harold reported. "But it wiped out the Q's. With no insurance to pay for the damage, they struggled on for a few days, and then suddenly packed up and left town."

Harold's store promptly boomed. His weekly profit skyrocketed from a wretched $50 a week to an abundant $300. He was able to afford to add a new freezer to his store equipment, and stock many desirable new items.

"Within six months I had $4,000 salted away. The Q's rundown old store was going for a song, so I bought it," Harold said. "I spruced it up, stocked it with merchandise and put a manager in there. Soon I was reaping $750 a week from my two little businesses."

Harold has recently opened a third store on the other side of the town, and he reckons that he's all set to be a millionaire in a few years time.

He has a new luxury car, a great deal more leisure time, money in the bank, and he has moved from near-poverty to moneyed independence.

THE PSYCHIC GUIDED MISSILE RITUAL

Carry out the Central Pillar Ritual. Say this Invocation once:

"My enemy is hidden. Seek him³ out, Keveqiah and Mendial,⁴ no matter if he runs to the ends of the Earth or to the Inner Planes beyond.

"Scourge him with Thy rods of vengeance, conquer his mind. I command this of Thee in the authority of the Word of Power: KESS-SED-HEH. So mote it be."

This potent Ritual can be used when you know who your enemy is, but you are not sure where he or she is lurking.

HOW LIZ R. BEAT OFF AN OLD WOMAN'S CURSE, EVEN THOUGH THE WOMAN HAD DISAPPEARED

Liz R., a filing clerk from Washington, has always been interested in the occult.

"I used to go to readers and psychics to see what the future held for me," she said. "Then I got into the clutches of a woman calling herself Sister M. She promised to reveal wonders to me if I paid her. She said that the spirits had told her to ask for $88 and I was foolish enough to believe her."

Liz scraped up the money by cutting back on her food and foregoing a pretty spring outfit she had wanted.

"I paid the old woman the money and then she said she had to have an extra $800 before she could reveal the 'secrets' to me,"

⁴Pronounced KAY-VAY-KEY-AH and MAIN-DEE-AL.

Liz said. "That was too much, and I told her I couldn't afford it. She went out of her mind, swearing and shouting vile things at me. She scared me half to death by vowing that she had put a Black Curse on me which would bring me evil luck until I paid her the rest of the money she was demanding."

From then on, Liz's life went totally sour on her. Her landlord evicted her from her comfortable little apartment because he had found a tenant who would pay a higher rent.

"I had to move into a much worse place," Liz said, "and at a higher rent, too, which I could ill-afford."

"Then I went down with influenza and lost time from work. When I was well enough to crawl back, they'd filled my place with someone else. If I'd had the money, I would willingly have paid the old woman to take the curse off me, but she'd left town anyway, and I'd lost touch with her."

Unemployed and still suffering the after-effects of her sickness, Liz was in despair. She wrote to her parents for money, and found that they could not help her because her father had just gone bankrupt. Her boyfriend turned his back on her and walked out when she asked him for a temporary loan.

I met Liz when she had just about hit rock-bottom. She was sure that the old woman's curse was coming true. I secretly taught her the Psychic Guided Missile Ritual, assuring her that if she had been cursed, the Ritual would reverse the evil that was being worked.

"I did the Ritual, and the very next day I found a new job which paid me $200 a week—twice as much as I'd received before," Liz reported happily. "Then my landlord called me up and begged me to take my apartment back. His new tenant had been noisy, dirty, and a bad payer. I joyfully moved back into my old apartment, and as it had been left damaged and filthy by the other tenant, I bargained with the landlord and was able to get the rent reduced."

Liz's boyfriend soon came around, full of apologies, and they happily made up again.

"Everything swung back better than before," Liz related. "Then I read in the papers where Sister M. had been arrested in the next state for false pretenses. She went to prison for five years."

"The Psychic Guided Missile Ritual certainly worked some beautiful NAP magic for me!"

THE ETHERIC SHRAPNEL RITUAL

Carry out the Central Pillar Ritual. Say this Invocation once:

"By the Power invested in me, I command Thee, Aniel and Chaamiah,⁵ to close the mouth and eyes of -----⁶ who maligns me.

"Visit him/her⁷ while he/she⁸ sleeps, and plant fright and dread, such that he/she⁹ no longer slanders me.

"Obey me with this Word of Power: GAY-BOO-RAH-VAHV. So mote it be."

Use this Ritual only against an enemy of the opposite sex to you. It is particularly effective against lies, spite, tale-bearing, and slander.

HOW YOLANDE T. BLASTED THE MAN WHO WAS SLANDERING HER BY USING THE ETHERIC SHRAPNEL RITUAL

Everything was going wrong for Yolande T., a Canadian freelance writer. Although she was sure her writing was good, editors continually returned her work with polite rejection slips.

"I couldn't understand it," Yolande told me, "until I found the reason.

"I had once snubbed the editor of a large weekly newspaper. He had had ideas about me which I didn't like, and I had refused to play ball with him. Through a couple of friends, I found out that he was telling all his literary friends that I was unreliable, and I plagiarized—an unforgivable sin in the writing business."

Yolande had never done such a thing in her life, but the story was sufficient to prevent her from selling a word. When she told me this, I decided it was time she used the Etheric Shrapnel Ritual, and taught it to her.

"I commanded Aniel and Chaamiah to work on that editor and

⁵ Pronounced AH-KNEE-ELL and KAH-AH-ME-AH.

⁶ Here, say the name of your enemy.

⁷ Use whichever pronoun applies.

⁸ Ibid.

my command was obeyed," she said. "On the grape-vine I heard that my editor enemy was looking sick from lack of sleep, and was so nervous that he jumped out of his skin every time the telephone rang.

"I met him at a party, and he regaled me with a long tale of what terrible nightmares he was suffering, and how he was spending a fortune on psychiatric treatment which wasn't doing any good."

Soon the editor was in such a highly nervous state that he was fired from his lucrative job. Yolande met him one month later.

"He looked old and beaten," she recalled. "If it hadn't been for the nasty things he had done to me, I would have felt sorry for him.

Yolande told him she would forgive him only if he told his influential friends that his story had been a malicious lie.

"He was so broken he did just that," Yolande said. "I began selling my stories. Then a big U.S. magazine serialized a novelette of mine.

"After that everything clicked for me. I've got money in the bank, all the luxury I could possibly want, and I'm successful and happy."

Yolande relented enough to perform the Attack Cancellation Ritual. The editor promptly found himself a job, and his lot improved somewhat.

"But he's never been quite the same," Yolande said. "That's taught him not to lie about people, even if he'll never know that it was the Etheric Shrapnel Ritual which did it to him."

THE SPIRIT SENTRY RITUAL

Carry out the Central Pillar Ritual. Repeat this Invocation three times:

"Mighty Mibahia and Pooyal,¹⁰ Thou shalt guard me and repel those who come by stealth to take my goods and gold.

"Rout them, slash them, terrorize them. Enter into their minds to do Thy fearful deeds, as they would make me fear. This command I seal with the Word of Power: GAY-BOO-RAH-HEH. So mote it be."

¹⁰ Pronounced ME-BAH-HE-YAH and POO-EE-AL.

This Ritual, carried out each night, will repel burglars, thieves, and physical attackers from your home by working on their minds if they try to intrude.

HOW ANDY G. SAW A POWERFUL THUG TURN TAIL AND RUN FOR NO VISIBLE REASON

Johannesburg, South Africa, has many burglaries. Even though the houses and apartments have iron bars and shutters at the windows, the thieves boldly break in. Frequently they carry knives and think nothing of slitting the throat of a householder who tries to interrupt their nefarious tasks.

Andy G., a musician, had a neat ground floor apartment on Kruis Street, and he was proud of his stereo set and other luxurious furnishings.

"I woke up one night just before dawn to hear stealthy noises in my room," he told me. "Against the window I could see the huge hulk of a man. He was rifling the chest where I kept my gold cuff links and other valuables.

"I knew if I made a sound he would very likely kill me."

Lying there, Andy performed the Spirit Sentry Ritual, mouthing the words silently. As he reached the end of the Invocation a scream of sheer terror echoed through the room.

"Take it away. Don't let it touch me."

Andy flicked on the light to reveal the burglar frozen with fear, pointing at the center of the room.

"A monster," quavered the thug. "Call him off."

There was nothing there. Andy's Ritual had planted the horror in the burglar's mind by the sheer force of his NAP.

"Run, man, before he slashes you," yelled Andy. "Drop those things and go."

The thug turned in a spasm of dread. Then he closed his eyes, lowered his head and tried to dive from the window. The glass shattered, but the steel burglarproofing held tight.

The thug slammed into the unyielding steel, and then fell senseless and bleeding to the floor.

"I called the police and they came and carted him away, still babbling about the monster in my room," Andy said. "The cops thought he'd gone crazy. He'd been wanted for a long time, and I bought myself a new car I badly needed with the R2,000 ($3,000) reward they paid me."

THE OCCULT JUDO RITUAL

Perform the New Avatar Power Defensive Armor Ritual, but in place of the Invocation, say this Incantation:

"Go forth Dambayah and Menqal¹¹

"Seek out the one who torments me.

"Intercept the evil and return it whence it came, such that the vile parent of this sin shall writhe in agony, scream in dread, and trouble not the upright.

"Go with the Word of Power: MAL-COOT-VAHV. So mote it be."

This Ritual will return curses, Evil Eye spells and other similar sorcery to the person sending them. He or she will then experience whatever was sent out at you.

HOW KATE E. BROKE THE EVIL INFLUENCE OF A HYPNOTIST WHO HAD HER IN HIS POWER

Kate E., from Los Angeles, thought she was joining an ESP club when she paid her $10 to become a member of Mr. Q.'s organization.

"His advertising leaflets promised to teach telepathy, clairvoyance, and ESP by self-hypnosis," Kate said. "It wasn't until I was deep into his hypnotic power that I realized he was a fiend who was manipulating people—particularly pretty girls—to do as he commanded.

"I met a girl who had had a nervous breakdown because of the unspeakable things Q. had done to her while she was in a trance, and he'd also planted a hypnotic command which prevented her from going to the police and revealing his vile tricks."

Kate tried to break away from Q., but his hypnotic powers were too strong for her.

¹¹ Pronounced DAM-BAH-YAH and MAIN-CALL.

"I used every ounce of willpower I could muster up, but my body would not obey my mind," she said. "Terror-stricken, I found myself walking up the stairs to Q.'s apartment.

"I knew there was nothing I could do to stop him doing exactly as he pleased with me."

In a final paroxysm of fear, Kate entered the man's apartment and locked herself in the washroom.

"I could hear him calling me and scratching gently on the door," she said. "I closed my ears with my hands, sat on the edge of the bath and performed the Occult Judo Ritual.

"As I said 'So mote it be', a great weight lifted from my mind."

All was quiet outside. Kate knew that the Ritual would make Q. experience whatever evil he had tried to send to her, but she was not sure what form this would take.

"When I walked into the living room he was lying on the carpet, limp and helpless," she said. "His eyes were wide open, filled with fear, and he was mumbling.

"He looked up at me and told me that he was my slave, and would do anything I told him to do."

Kate decided to enjoy herself, in exchange for the terror he had made her suffer.

"I told him to cry like a baby, and he wailed as if his heart would break," she said. "Then I made him eat stale scraps from the floor, down on all fours, and then I had him bark like a dog until his throat was sore.

"Even though he was humiliating himself, he was well aware of what was going on. He just couldn't resist my words."

Finally, Kate made him call up the local police station and make a full confession of what he had been doing to his hypnotized subjects.

"Then, before the police arrived, I sat him down and told him that never again would he be able to hypnotize anyone or have power over them, and any hypnotic suggestions he had planted in me or other girls were canceled," Kate related. "Then I left him and went home to perform the Attack Cancellation Ritual.

"Q. has never bothered me or anyone else since that day."

THE THEURGIC BOOBY-TRAP RITUAL

Carry out the Central Pillar Ritual. Repeat the following Invocation three times:

"Thou Saitel and Olmiah¹²

"Lie in wait for mine enemies.

"Send fire and force into their minds when next they harass me. I seal this command with the Word of Power: TEE-FAR-ATE-YOD. So mote it be."

This Ritual works on the minds of your antagonists. Each time they attempt to torment you, your NAP will generate unrest in them, turning their attention away from you.

HOW STEVE C. USED THE THEURGIC BOOBY-TRAP RITUAL TO REPULSE THE HIPPIES WHO WERE AGGRAVATING HIM

Although Steve C., from Oregon, had a pleasant house, he was constantly tormented by two hippies who lived in an older house next door to him.

"They play music at all hours, rev up their motor-bikes in the drive-way, call me up by telephone during the night, and hammer and bang all the time," Steve told me. "It's driving me out of my mind. They're trying to make me move away so that some of their friends can have my house. Is there anything I can do?"

I knew that the lawless young men would take little notice of the police, so I taught Steve the Theurgic Booby-Trap Ritual.

"Perform that every evening," I told him. "Let me know what happens."

Steve performed the Ritual and contacted me later.

"An hour after I'd completed it, I heard shouting and swearing outside," he said gleefully. "Those two long-hairs were fighting on the sidewalk. They beat each other black and blue, and staggered into their house with cut lips and bleeding noses.

"The next evening after I'd done the Ritual, they began fighting again. One of them came diving out of the house, flung his leg over his bike and started the engine. Then as the second guy came out after him, the biker rode straight at his friend, knocking him down."

That was the start of an all-out war between the two hippies. At the height of the battle, the police arrived and took them both to jail for disturbing the peace.

¹² Pronounced SAY-EAT-ELL and OLE-ME-AH.

"The police found a cache of hard drugs in the house," Steve related, "so I guess those two punks will be away a very long time.

"Life has been much more peaceful since they walked into the Theurgic Booby-Trap."

EXORCISM TO REPEL EVIL SPIRITS

You are extremely unlikely to contact truly evil conditions while you are working with your NAP. Yet a small chance exists that some sinister adept of Black Magic may turn his attention your way, and conjure up his vile minions to send them to you.

You can repel them with contemptuous ease by performing the following Exorcism.

Carry out the New Avatar Power Defensive Armor Ritual. Perform the Dee-Hay-Thooth Evocation which you will find in Chapter 10 of this book.

Then say this powerful Banishing Exorcism:

"I banish from me all influences of wickedness, be they spirit, fiend, or devil. Begone and return whence you came, thou foul beings, in the Names of Power: YOD-HAY-VAW-HAY, AH-DOH-NIGH, EH-HEH-YEH and AH-GAH-LAH. So mote it be."

You will feel an immediate sense of mental and physical well-being as all evil influences are repulsed from you by the shattering power of your NAP and those arcane Words of Power.

THE ATTACK CANCELATION RITUAL

Such is the crushing power of the Rituals, but you will eventually need to cancel them, once your enemy is totally conquered and helpless.

To withdraw the devastating effects of your NAP, carry out the Central Pillar Ritual and then say:

"These forces whom I command,

"Withdraw from the scene of battle.

"Stay with me, and heed my future calls.

"I command Thee with the Word of Power: NEAT-SAHK-HEH. So mote it be."

Your enemy will at once be released from the effects of your Ritual, but you can turn it back on again easily if you find he has not had enough. Carry out the appropriate Ritual, and he is back in your power again.

YOU ARE NOW WELL EQUIPPED TO OVERCOME YOUR ENEMIES

No matter what your enemies are trying to do to you, they can be kept at bay and totally defeated by the force of your NAP.

The Rituals and Incantations in this chapter focus your NAP and attack the minds of your foes at Inner Levels.

You can now choose your spell to work, and find almost immediate peace and harmony, free from hassles, easily and automatically.

HOW TO ASTRAL TRAVEL
INVISIBLY TO BENEFIT YOURSELF AND DISCOVER SECRET KNOWLEDGE

Your NAP gives you the ability to cross vast distances, to listen in to conversations in remote places, and to see what is going on anywhere in the world, even behind locked doors in pitch darkness.

By using the instructions in this chapter, you can become an invisible Astral Traveler, and pick up a great deal of secret knowledge which you can use to your own benefit.

HOW FREDA H. TURNED THE TABLES ON HER RELATIVES WHEN SHE LEARNED THAT THEY PLANNED TO DECEITFULLY PROHIBIT HER WEDDING

Freda H., a keen NAP student from London, England, was worried about the attitude of her family towards her and her fiancé. She planned to marry him, and the arrangements were well advanced, but she was meeting strong opposition from her mother and aunt.

"They were totally opposed to my fiancé, Paul, on religious grounds," Freda told me. "Their negativity was putting us both on edge, and Paul and I began snapping at each other from sheer nervous tension."

"It didn't help matters at all when my father, responding to my mother's nagging, suddenly refused to pay for the wedding."

Freda had a terrible quarrel with her parents and stormed out of the house.

"You'll never marry that rogue," her mother screamed after her as she left. "We'll see to that."

She sounded so triumphantly sure of herself with the threat that it worried Freda deeply.

"I don't usually use Astral Travel to invade other people's privacy, but that night I was determined to find out what they were up to," Freda related. "I moved my astral body off the bed and drifted, invisible and silent, to my parents' home. As I floated into the living room, I found them both sitting at the table with my aunt. They were discussing Paul and me."

Freda stood astrally in a corner, listening to every word that was spoken, and watching the expressions on the faces of her relatives.

"When they have the banns read, and the minister asks if anyone knows why they should not marry, I'll stand up and say I have a reason," Freda's aunt was saying. "Then I'll tell the minister that Paul already has a wife overseas."

"We know that's not true, but it will delay the wedding until they can confirm it, and in the meantime we can spread a few stories to their friends, pretending that they've been slandering each other. The stories will be sure to get back to Freda and Paul, and we'll soon have them hating each other."

Freda was aghast. The unreasoning hatred of her relatives came as a miserable shock to her. She hadn't realized the depths of their opposition. She left as invisibly and quietly as she had arrived.

"Forewarned was forearmed," Freda said. "Before the banns were read, we gave the minister written proof that we were both single, and told him that someone would be committing perjury by lying to him about us. It happened just as I had told him it would."

"Yet even though the first part of their vicious plan had been foiled, my relatives still went ahead and spread wicked lies about the things Paul and I were supposed to have said about each other."

"Freda and Paul already knew that this might happen and had warned their friends. When the slanderous tales were told, the young couple were able to expose them for the lies they were, and also reveal their source.

"My relatives are in total disgrace in the neighborhood," Freda said. "No one will have anything to do with them. Paul and I went ahead with our marriage on schedule, and his relatives made it a royal occasion for us.

"We're ecstatically happy—but we might not have been if I hadn't known how to find secret knowledge with Astral Travel."

WHAT YOU DO WHEN YOU ASTRAL TRAVEL

Simply stated, when you Astral Travel you move your awareness—the real you that hears and sees and feels—out of your physical body as it lies relaxed and comfortable on your bed.

Your body then continues to breathe, with your heart pumping, and your lungs and digestion working normally, while you stroll freely around, floating and flying without your body to weigh you down.

In an astral state you are invisible and weightless, and you can zip from one place to another in an instant. Yet even though your physical body lies apparently sleeping at home, you can see, hear and feel everything around you as you travel—yet no one can either see, hear, or feel you!

Doors and walls are no barrier to you. Floating into bedrooms or locked vaults is simple, and when you return to your physical body you carry a complete memory of what you experienced while you were Astral Traveling.

HOW RON W. FOUND $200,000 WHILE HE WAS ASTRAL TRAVELING

Ron W., from Oregon, is a whiz when it comes to using his NAP. He is forever thinking of ways and means to improve his life with his Power.

"I practiced Astral Travel until I was good at it," he said. "Now I can journey out, eavesdropping on people, watching them go about their private business when they believe they are not observed, and I pick up a great deal of useful information.

"But my most recent success didn't concern people at all."

Ron's grandfather, an ex-pro prospector, died several years ago, leaving no will. His big old house was put up for sale, but no trace was ever found of the thousands of dollars the old man insisted he had salted away over the years, in cash because he didn't trust banks.

"I was flying high above the town one day, Astral Traveling for the fun of it, when I found myself looking down on Grandad's old home," Ron said, "In a dip in the roof I saw a dusty window which I had never noticed before, as it was invisible from ground level.

"I swooped down and drifted through the roof to find myself in a dusty old room which no one had visited for years."

Ron saw a chest in the middle of the floor and using his Astral Powers, he glided inside it.

"It was stacked tight with money," he said. "Tens, twenties, hundreds—a whole heap of old bills."

Ron at once flew back to his sleeping body at home, and returned to physical reality. Hurrying to the real estate agent who was handling the sale, Ron borrowed the key of his grandfather's house.

"I went in and climbed the stairs to where I knew the disused room to be," he said. "There was no door to be seen, but now that I knew it was there, I could see that the room was cunningly concealed in the angle of two bedrooms.

"Then I tapped on the rear wall of a closet in one of the rooms and realized that it was a door which had been papered over."

Moments later Ron was in the room he had astrally visited a short while before. There was the chest, and after some hard work with a screwdriver, Ron lifted the lid.

"Over $200,000 was in there," he said. "My parents were overjoyed. We split the money three ways, and I received about $70,000 as my share.

"I've set myself up with everything I need now—a car, TV, stereo—you name it. My parents have bought themselves a better home, and we're all very happy at the results of my Astral Traveling."

ASTRAL TRAVEL IS ENJOYABLE AND HARMLESS

You are about to learn how to travel invisibly, safely, and easily. Despite anything you may have heard or read to the contrary, there is not the slightest danger that you will become marooned away from your body while you are Astral Traveling.

Although some writers who mastered the art of Astral Travel in other ways have unpleasant things to say about it, the method described in this chapter is efficient, automatic, and totally safe. In fact, when you first practice this fascinating ability, your primary challenge will be to stay out of your body.

If anything disturbs your reposing body at home, you will automatically return instantly, as quickly and easily as you wake up from a restful night's sleep.

Astral Traveling is one of the finest ways of exercising your NAP to the full, and it is physically restoring also.

However, should you have the least worry about harm befalling you when you are out of your body, I advise you to perform the New Avatar Power Defensive Armor Ritual before you start your astral journeying. That will positively ensure that you will be able to profitably and happily enjoy your Astral Trips without worrying about any outside influences.

HOW CONNIE L. PASSED A VITAL EXAMINATION BY EMPLOYING ASTRAL TRAVEL

Connie L., a probationary nurse, was about to take an examination. Provided she gained a passing mark, it would make every difference to her poverty-stricken life-style and that of her aging mother.

"Mom can't work and her welfare check hardly provides basic living for her," Connie explained. "I've been helping her out as best I can, but keeping two of us on a probationary nurse's salary isn't easy.

"We both know what it is to be hungry, and I can't recall the last time I bought myself a new outfit. Our little apartment is clean and neat, but it lacks anything in the way of luxuries. My mother spends her time listening to the little radio we have, and I always longed to give her a television to entertain her."

Connie studied hard for her examination. She sat up far into the night, studying medical books until her eyes ached.

"One night I was relaxing by Astral Traveling when I found myself in a strange house, in the study of a man who was writing at a desk," Connie related. "I floated invisibly forward until I could peep over his shoulder. He had a medical book open at his elbow and I realized with a thrill that he was writing down the questions for the examination I was going to take.

"I fought a battle with my conscience. Would it be cheating to note down the questions and study up on the answers? I finally decided that NAP is given to us for our benefit, and anyone else who worked with it could do the same as me. I also recalled how urgent it was for me to pass the exam, so I read the question papers as the man drafted them. After all, who would believe if the examiners accused me of cheating?"

Not surprisingly, Connie passed the examination with flying colors, using her Astral foreknowledge of the questions she would be asked.

"My Mom has her television set now," Connie said. "She's also got a few more luxuries now that I can provide them from my larger salary. I feel I did no wrong, for only good came from it."

SEEING BY THE ETHERIC LIGHT OF YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER

You will recall that Ron W. was able to see inside a locked trunk while he was Astral Traveling. He was able to do that by utilizing the Etheric Light which streams from your finger tips at all times.

It is this light that enables you to astrally travel into a room in pitch darkness and still be able to see every detail of what is going on in there. Your Etheric Light also permits you to see through the covers of closed books, or through clothing or bedsheets and blankets. Thus nothing can be hidden from you when you are astrally traveling.

This Etheric Light is very real, and you can see it in operation any time you wish—now if you like.

Darken the room until you can still distinguish the walls and furniture, but it is too dark to read this printed page.

Sit down on a chair and take two or three deep breaths. Now hold your arms out at full length in front of you.

Open your fingers and bring your hands together so that your left fingers and thumb are touching the fingers and thumb of your right hand

Look between your fingers at the wall beyond them. A dark-colored wall gives the best effect.

Now separate your hands a little until your finger tips are about quarter of an inch apart. Don't look at your fingers—continue to look past and through them at the wall.

Between your fingers, after a very little practice, you will see a bluish-gray haze, a little like cigarette smoke. That is your Etheric Light, and when you are astrally traveling, that light is bright enough to read the finest print or to light up a whole city block.

Mastering that simple knack will make certain that you will always have plenty of light when you are Astral Traveling, even at night, so that you miss no details that may aid you in your search for happiness and wealth.

HOW OWEN A. TRAVELED INVISIBLY TO HIS GIRL FRIEND'S ROOM AND PROVED THAT SHE WAS DECEIVING HIM

Owen A., a draftsman from New Jersey, was sure that his fiancée was two-timing him. She was always very attentive to him when he scraped up enough cash to take her on the town, but Owen still had his niggling doubts.

"She seemed to make the excuse that she couldn't come out because she was washing her hair a few too many times a month, and I had to know what she was doing," Owen recounted. "So one evening, when she had said she was too busy to see me that night, I lay down on my bed and Astral Traveled across town to her apartment.

"I drifted through the closed door and found the living room empty. Then I heard the shower running, and floated into the bathroom."

Owen enjoyed the view as the girl, blissfully unaware that Owen was watching her closely, completed her shower, towed herself dry and put on her make-up.

"Then she went into the bedroom, and I followed her, sitting on the bed while she slipped into a pretty dress," Owen said. "Then I heard the door buzzer."

Owen drifted outside to see who was at the door. Standing in the corridor was a dark-haired, well-dressed man holding a bunch of carnations.

"She opened the door and flew into his arms," Owen said. "I sat furiously on a chair as they kissed passionately. Then they went out together to a show, and ended up in a plush, dim cocktail lounge."

Next day Owen faced his fiancée with what he knew.

"She flew into a rage and accused me of having her followed by a private eye," Owen said ruefully. "I didn't tell her that I had a cheaper and easier way of keeping an eye on her movements."

"I broke it off, of course, and found myself a much more faithful girl friend. I know she's faithful to me because I'm forever Astral Traveling in and out of her room."

HOW TO ASTRAL TRAVEL

Your NAP will boost you into Astral Travel very simply and easily. Carry out this exercise first:

Place a colored picture on a table, or pin it on the wall where you can sit and look at it. The picture should be located at least six feet away from your bed, where you are going to do your Astral Traveling from. The picture can be of anything that attracts you, perhaps cut from a magazine or a book.

Sit down, relax, and look at the picture for five solid minutes. Try to engrave every detail on your mind. Notice the colors and the shapes until when you close your eyes you have a clear memory of what the picture looks like.

Now move to your usual Ritual chair and carry out the New Avatar Power Ritual to Point A.

Then announce:

"In the names of Those who control the Astral Planes, I intend to enter Your domain. I come with this Word of Power: SHEM-HAM-FOR-ASS. Thou shalt permit me free entry and access. So mote it be."

Stand up, relaxed and calm, walk to your bed and lie down flat on your back with your hands at your sides.

Close your eyes and remember how it felt to sit in front of the picture you were studying. Call up the memory of it, and pretend you can see the picture in front of you, even though your eyes are closed. Do this for three minutes.

Now pretend that you are sitting up. Then pretend that you have slid your feet on to the floor and you are standing up.

Next pretend that you are walking across the room. No matter that you are well aware that you are not physically moving. Just pretend you are doing it.

Finally, pretend that you have sat yourself down in front of the picture and you are studying it again.

Practice this daily, taking about 10 minutes for the whole procedure. If possible make your Astral Travel practice at the same time each day.

One startling day, you will suddenly realize that you are no longer pretending. You will feel the floor under your feet, or the chair under you if it happens during your picture examination pretence.

Turn around and look at the bed. You will see your own physical body lying there, apparently fast asleep.

This will probably startle you so much that you will zip back from your first brief Astral Trip and find yourself in your body again. Don't worry—you've done it: you've Astral Traveled a short distance.

From then on you can extend your journeys to infinity, moving wherever you please, silently and unseen, listening and watching, to help you along your NAP-inspired path to riches.

HOW MARGARET U. WAS ABLE TO RECOVER $10,000 OWED TO HER WHICH SHE THOUGHT SHE WOULD NEVER GET BACK

Margaret U., from Michigan, is not rich. In fact, she was desperately in need of money a short while ago. Bills had piled up, her rent was overdue and she was deeply worried.

"The agonizing thing was that a man owed me $10,000 from several years back," she explained. "At that time I'd received a legacy from an aunt who died, and this man and I were engaged to be married. I loaned him every penny I had gladly, in good faith."

The man ultimately refused to marry Margaret, saying he had decided they were unsuited to each other. Although she was upset, Margaret had the good sense to make the man sign a paper admitting that he owed her $10,000.

"But the months rolled by, and he always said he was broke," Margaret said. "In the end I became exasperated and took him to court. He produced a bank statement showing a zero balance and evidence that he was unemployed. There was nothing I could do against that. My lawyer advised me to cut my losses and forget about the money, because legally the man appeared to be destitute."

Yet Margaret knew that the man must have money somewhere. He drove a car, maintained a large apartment and was often out on the town, living it up in style.

"And there I was eking out a bare living on a tiny salary," Margaret said. "I vowed I would find the source of his income and get my money back."

As soon as she had mastered the simple knack of Astral Travel, Margaret moved in on her debtor.

"I waited until I knew he would be at home and then lay on my bed, astrally drifting to his living room," Margaret related. "There he was, with a bottle of brandy beside him, relaxing in a comfortable chair. He had some papers on his lap which he was shuffling through."

Silently, Margaret leaned over and looked at the papers. They were from a branch of a bank on the other side of the city.

"Acting on a hunch I flew across the dark streets to the bank," Margaret said. "The burglar alarms and locked doors were no obstacle to me, of course. I floated into the clients' record department and shone my Etheric Light on the files.

"I found the man's statement, and was startled and pleased to see it showed a credit balance of roughly $30,000."

The rest was routine. Margaret told her lawyer to proceed against the debtor again, but this time to bring the bank manager into court to question him about the defendant's assets.

"My lawyer was against it, saying we had no proof," Margaret said. "But I persuaded him, by using a little NAP manipulation on his mind, to proceed.

"I won the case, of course, and was paid my $10,000 and interest, plus all my legal costs to date. The man barely escaped going to jail for lying about his financial status before."

WHAT YOU WILL SEE AND FEEL ON YOUR FIRST EXTENDED ASTRAL JOURNEY

Astral Traveling is much the same as getting about in the normal mundane world, with a few important differences.

You see and hear exactly as if you were there in your physical body, but no one can see, hear, or touch you. You need no transport—you can think yourself from one place to another in the flick of an eyelid, and you can go literally anywhere, flying freer than any bird.

A minor drawback is that you cannot move any physical objects while you are in the astral state. Thus if Margaret's debtor had placed those all-important papers face down she would not have been able to read them directly.

What she would have done would have been to look at them with her Etheric Light, or, more excitingly, used her NAP influence to force the man to turn the papers face up.

You retain all your NAP abilities when you are in your astral body. In fact, if you wish, you can perform any of the Rituals while you are out of your physical body. They are just as effective when performed that way.

HOW JEFF B. PERFORMED AN ASTRAL RITUAL TO GAIN THE LOVE OF A WOMAN

Jeff B., an advanced NAP student from California, regularly combines Rituals with his Astral Travel.

"I won my wife that way," he explained. "Linda is a slim, attractive red-head, and all the men around were trying to win her. She was going steady with a rich older man, enjoying herself in his luxurious car, being taken everywhere, flying in his private airplane. It was a thrilling life for her, and I couldn't blame her for indulging in it.

"But I swore I would capture her love, and make her my own."

Jeff decided to perform the Chant to Excite Love while he was astrally in Linda's room.

"I think it gave the Chant more power," Jeff said. "It also gave me a thrill to be beside her, even if she wasn't aware I was there, and naturally couldn't hear a word of the Chant."

Late one night, Jeff was ready. He lay down and went out astrally to Linda's room.

"I was a bit startled," he said. "She was doing Yoga exercises, totally nude, on a tiger-skin rug."

"Just for fun, I sat in the Lotus position in front of her, about a foot off the ground, and stared her straight in the eye. She couldn't see me, but it gave me a kick."

Then Jeff got to work on the Chant. He later reported that it was amazing to see love dawning in the girl's green eyes.

"She suddenly climbed to her feet in a flash of white limbs and took the photograph of her present lover and tore it to shreds," Jeff said. "I knew the Ritual had worked, and I traveled quickly back to my body at home."

As Jeff stood up, relaxed and happy, the telephone rang. It was Linda.

"Can you come over and see me, please, Jeff?" she queried urgently. "I have something I want to talk to you about. Come quickly, please, it can't wait."

Happily Jeff went to Linda, this time in his normal physical body. She let him into her room. Jeff was a bit taken aback to see that the only thing she'd put on was a diaphanous negligee.

"She couldn't understand why she had suddenly developed an uncontrollable passion for me," Jeff said. "I knew why, and I naturally took full advantage of the situation my NAP had created."

From then on, everything came Jeff's way. By judicious use of the Invocation for Money, he made sure that he could provide Linda with everything she needed.

"When I had enough money to buy a luxurious house overlooking the ocean and mountains, with all the necessary furnishings, I asked her to marry me," Jeff said. "Previously I'd been pretty well penniless, spending my money as soon as I got it, but Linda gave me the incentive to make a lot more."

“She married me willingly, and she never even glances at another man. Her ex-boyfriend just didn’t know what hit him when I moved in with NAP.”

YOU CAN NOW GO ANYWHERE, SEE AND HEAR
ANYTHING, SECRETLY AND INVISIBLY

Practice the knack of Astral Travel. Like any other NAP ability, it may take a few attempts to get the hang of it. But when you’ve done it once, you’re on your way.

No matter what puzzles you, or what is standing in your way, you can confidently use Astral Travel to get ahead of the opposition, watching their every move, and listening to their plans and thoughts.

Astral Travel is one more powerful NAP-produced ability that can combine fun and profit for you. Practice it—you’ll be glad you did, for it is your Open Sesame! to areas of experience that you could never have in the normal way.

HOW TO USE YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER TO REVITALIZE YOURSELF, AND TO CONTROL EVERYONE AND EVERYTHING AROUND YOU

The preceding nine chapters have given you ways and means of calling on your NAP to change your life of frustration, poverty, and loneliness into a sumptuous extravagant existence where you can pull wealth to you until you are rolling in it, hurl your enemies from you, control and steer the emotions and actions of others so that you need never be lonely again, and bring your wildest dreams into happy reality.

HOW VICKY P. USED HER COMBINED NEW AVATAR POWER ABILITIES TO CHANGE HER LUCK FROM BAD TO SUPERBLY GOOD

"I am completely fed up, sick and tired and totally disgusted with forever having nothing but rotten luck, and never having anything good happen to me," wrote Vicky P. from New York State. "It has been a long-standing dream of mine to receive a lot of money so that my son and I can move out of this horrible place we are living in which we both hate and are unhappy in. We want desperately to move, but cannot afford to as I have no income at all.

"The Welfare Board won't help us, and I am sick with worry as to how I am going to pay the rent and also how I am going to get any food. My son and I have never known what happiness is, we've never had anything nice, such as furniture, or decent clothing instead of patched-up rags. We rarely have enough food, and have to live in this dump where we constantly have uncalled-for trouble and harassment from the landlord and the downstairs tenants.

"I firmly believe I have been jinxed and cursed because nothing good has ever happened to me, and I have nothing but worry, unhappiness, and uncertainty."

That was quite a despairing tirade. I met Vicky and instructed her in the NAP Rituals and exercises.

"What a difference. My NAP worked like clockwork. A new home in a superb neighborhood. New clothes, New furniture. A car and color television. Money to burn. I can't believe it," Vicky wrote to me from Colorado two months later. "The first thing I did was to ask my Magic Mentor how to get out of trouble. He told me where to sit at the bingo hall, and I turned our last two bucks into $200.

"Then I did the Incantation for Winning Contests and bought a State lottery ticket. It won! $15,000 in crisp, new bills!

"What next? Why NAP-up a loving partner for my son and me, of course. I performed the Chant to Excite Love and it worked within a week. I met a rich, handsome man with a superb house. He fell for me, I fell for him, and he moved us to his house here in Colorado. It's beautiful, with a heated swimming pool and everything.

"My son is very happy at his private school, and I figure I'm not jinxed after all. Or if I was, my NAP soon scooted it away!

"My husband recently had a little trouble with a local competitor who was trying to beat my man with unfair business tactics. I did the Astral Bomb Attack Ritual and the opposition went bankrupt three days later.

"I can't really begin to tell you how life has changed for me. It's like being born again, into Heaven, after being in hell for so many sad years."

THE DEE-HAY-THOOTH EVOCATION THAT PUTS THE SEAL OF TOTAL SUCCESS ON ALL YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER ENDEAVORS

Anytime you feel like putting a triumphant emphasis on to a Ritual, or you wish to make absolutely certain that a particular piece of NAP work is totally successful, perform this brief Evocation.

It is designed to connect you and your NAP directly with the most awesome Power in the Universe, and it will add that final fillip of force and direction to your efforts.

You can perform this anywhere when you are alone, at any time, and you will literally feel the vibrant power rush through you as you do it. Many NAP students say this is their favorite Evocation because it makes them feel so good.

Stand up with your feet together and your hands hanging limply at your sides. Close your eyes.

Raise the hand you use for writing with the fingers as you held them for the Uncrossing Ritual to Banish Evil Influences.

Reach up and forward with your arm straight as if you were trying to touch a book on a high shelf in front of you.

Bring your hand vertically downwards until your arm is level, then in a sweeping continuation of that movement, swing your hand across your body, keeping your arm straight, until your hand is opposite your other shoulder.

As you make that gesture, down and along, breathe out and say "DEE-HAY."

Now swing your hand diagonally upward so that it is back up at the high point where you began. As you slowly make this slanting, upward gesture, breathe in.

Now pretend that someone is standing in front of you, facing you, and he is at least a foot taller than you are. Swing your arm across your body until you are pointing at his right ear.

Make a U-shaped gesture in the air, as if you were moving your hand and fingers from the ear of the person who is facing you, down around his jaw line, under his chin and back up to his left ear. As you make the U-shape, start to breathe out, saying "THOO." That sound is exactly as a person with a bad lisp would pronounce the name "Sue."

Now move your fingers across until they point between your visitor's eyes. Swing your hand right down to waist-level, still breathing out and prolonging the "OO" sound of "THOO."

At the lower end of the downsweep, swing your hand slightly left and draw a small circle in the air, and close off the continuing "OO" sound by saying "TH."

This has taken far longer to spell out in detail than it does to perform. The whole drawn-out word, as you make the full gesture, is: (breathing out) "DEE-HAY" (breathe in)(breathe out) "THOO-O-O-O-O-OOTH."

Return your hand to your side, and feel your NAP tingling in your legs and hands, and warming your stomach inside.

After you have practiced this a few times, and found the swing of it, you will find it equally effective if you merely imagine you are making the gestures, while you say the Word aloud.

HOW HUGH V. SAVED HIMSELF FROM CERTAIN DEATH BY MANIPULATING THE MIND OF ANOTHER MAN

Hugh V., a contractor from Louisiana, is alive today because he used his NAP in an emergency.

"I was driving home late one afternoon," he said. "The sun was setting behind me as I drove along at 60 miles an hour.

"I slowed a little as I approached the bridge over the river south of my home town. I saw nothing coming towards me and accelerated again. Then out of the bend ahead of me, hurtling on to the bridge, came a car—on the wrong side of the road."

There was no place for Hugh to go. The rails of the protective barrier were scant inches from the right side of his car. The other car, with a drunken man at the wheel, was roaring down on him, and a head-on smash was seconds away.

"In a flash I mentally performed the DEE-HAY-THOOTH Evocation," Hugh related. "I then thought: 'That driver will swing to his right,' hurling an NAP-directed thought into the other man's mind.

"Even as the thought flicked through my mind, the other car careened crazily away from me. It's tires screamed as it swung to the right side of the narrow road, flashing by and missing me by a coat of paint."

Hugh watched in his rear-view mirror as the other car caught the rails at the end of the bridge, and lurched into the ditch.

"I stopped and ran back," Hugh said. "The driver was unhurt, but he reeked of booze and he could hardly stand. I called the cops and they took him away."

Hugh is convinced that if he had not hurled that NAP thought at the drunken driver, they would both be dead today.

YOU WILL NOW MOVE FROM STRENGTH TO STRENGTH, NOTHING CAN HOLD YOU BACK

The words of this book are now engraved on your Inner Mind. As I told you in the introduction, your NAP has been awakened by the words, phrases, and old Rituals.

From this time onwards, success will come to you. Anything you apply your hand to will turn to gold. Your NAP is now geared to bring you anything you want, and requires only the use of the Names of Power and Mystic Beings to create true miracles for you.

HOW QUEENIE S. WON HER HUSBAND BACK FROM A YOUNGER, MORE ATTRACTIVE GIRL

Queenie S., a shortorder cook from Wyoming, was happy with her husband until he suddenly began to pay less attention to her.

"He was always out at nights, and I felt sure he was running around with another woman," Queenie said. "I asked my Magic Mentor how I could find out for sure. I was directed to be at a certain restaurant on the edge of town at 8:00 p.m.

"On my next evening off, when my husband had said he would be out playing poker with the boys, I caught a bus to the restaurant, and took a table in an unobtrusive corner at the back."

At eight o'clock on the dot, in walked Queenie's husband—with a slim, leggy blonde in a red minidress, clinging to his arm, and gazing up into his eyes.

"They took a cubicle just along from me, and I thought I would die as I heard that little minx giggling and carrying on with my man," Queenie related. "Yet I was afraid to confront them, in case my husband decided to show off in front of his mistress. He's pig-headed enough to have told me to go away and mind my own business, just so as not to look small in front of the girl."

Queenie knew a better way. She went home at once and first performed the Psychic Guided Missile Ritual, directed at her husband's girlfriend. She followed that with the Incantation to Rekindle a Mate's Interest.

"An hour later my husband came home looking very subdued. His eyes lit up when he saw me, and he crossed the room, holding out his arms to me," Queenie said. "He went down on his knees, and buried his head in my lap.

“‘Queenie,’ he said. ‘I’ve been a fool. I’ve been running around with a stupid kid, and leaving you at home by yourself. I never realized until now just how beautiful you are and how much I love you.’”

Queenie hadn’t changed, and she’d be the first to admit that her figure is less than perfect, and the years of hard work have played havoc with her complexion.

“But NAP blinded my husband to my faults. He saw me as his perfect woman again and he’s never left my side since. It’s wonderful to have him so attentive and dedicated,” Queenie said. “Later he told me what had happened between him and that girl on the night he broke up with her.”

Queenie’s husband confessed that he had intended to take the blonde to a motel after they had eaten, but the plans went awry.

“First the waiter spilled a glass of wine down her dress,” Queenie’s husband related. “She went out of her mind with anger, and made a terrible scene. I was embarrassed.

The shock of having the wriggling bug on her tongue sent the girl screaming to the rest room, where she vomited.

“She looked like a washed out dish-rag when she came back,” Queenie’s husband said. “I might have felt sorry for her if she hadn’t been cursing and swearing at the top of her voice.”

The girl announced that she wouldn’t stay another second in “this filthy greasy spoon” and flounced out.

“I was rapidly getting turned off by then,” said Queenie’s husband. “Where before, I’d seen her as a slim, elegant and desirable girl, she now looked thin, snooty and sluttish.”

The girl stepped in a pool of mud as she angrily stamped towards the car park. One of her white kid shoes sank into the slime.

“Then, as she got into the car, she caught the hem of her skirt on the door, ripping it to the waist,” Queenie’s husband related. “At that, she began leading off at me, calling me names, and blaming me totally for the ruined evening.

"Then she began belittling me, calling me ugly, childish, and immature."

That was the last straw. He drove the girl to her block and let her out of the car, telling her to find her own way home, and also to find another sucker to take around with her.

Queenie and her mate are now totally together again, and her husband can't do enough to please her.

"He treats me as if I'm 20 all over again," Queenie said. "It's a beautiful feeling."

YOU WILL NEVER COME TO HARM WITH ANY OF THE RITUALS, CHANTS, AND INCANTATIONS, EVEN IF YOU MAKE UNINTENTIONAL ERRORS

You have many spells to choose from in this book. All are equally effective for their purposes, but you need never worry if you are unable to choose which one will achieve what you desire.

Your NAP works to your advantage, and for you alone. It is impossible to harm yourself with these spells. If you chance to pick a "wrong" spell, or perform it incorrectly, it will never backfire on you.

At the very worst, nothing will happen when you perform the Ritual. For example, you might work the New Avatar Power Attracting and Banishing Ritual to obtain yourself a much-needed stereo set.

You should, of course, call on Mercury's Elohim Tzavoös, and use the attracting color of Orange. But supposing, in error, you used the banishing color of Yellow, you would still come to no harm.

Certainly you would not find that you had banished all your electronic and electrical appliances, and had them stolen or lost in some other way.

Your NAP will have read your intention, and ignore the slip on your part, and very likely your stereo set would come along in due course. If it did not, you would naturally examine the Ritual, and realize that you had done something incorrectly.

If you are in doubt at any time what Ritual to use for the best results, ask your Pendulum or your Magic Mentor. Either of them will give you the answer you need.

HOW TONY O., AN AGING PRIZE-FIGHTER,
BEAT THE YOUNGER, FITTER CHAMPION AND WON
$153,000 HE DESPERATELY NEEDED

At 42, Tony O., an ex-boxer from Georgia, was really too old to go in the boxing ring against brawny kids half his age.

"You lose your reflexes and your wind as you get older," he said, "and those kids can hurt: you feel punches more as the years pass.

"I'm fairly fit for my age, but nobody can pretend I'm as fast as I was in my prime, and I haven't got the legs for a long fight anymore."

Tony was in trouble. His wife was sick and needed expensive drugs to relieve her illness. His children needed new clothes, and Tony had sold the last piece of spare furniture to meet the rent that month.

"We had a few dollars left over, but I knew there'd be no food in the house by the end of the month," Tony said. "I was desperate. My delivery job had folded. That job, with my wife doing cleaning a few days a week, brought in just enough for us to scrape by on, but we never knew what luxury was."

Downtown in the gym where he delighted in watching the up-and-coming boxers training, Tony picked up the news that a newcomer would be fighting in town at the weekend.

The sportswriters were hailing the young man as a future world champion, and his manager was carefully matching him against less-experienced opponents.

"The young guy could fight, no doubt about that," Tony said. "I could maybe have beaten him 20 years ago, but not now. He had a 17-fight unbeaten record, with 14 of them by the knockout route."

As a last resort, Tony called up the young fighter's manager, and issued a challenge.

"I'll meet your boy in the ring, and I'll beat him," Tony said. "If I lose, you don't pay me a cent. If I win, it'll cost you $3,000."

The manager laughed at first. He knew Tony, and he also knew that his boy could beat the aging pro to a pulp with one hand tied behind his back. Yet it promised to be a crowd-pulling match—the old local guy against the newcomer.

“I’ll buy that,” the manager said. “You’ve got yourself a fight.”

Tony had four days to get in shape. Luckily, his delivery job had kept him in trim.

“On the big night I was as fit as I ever was going to be,” Tony said. “The bookies were laying odds of 50 to 1 against my winning, and it looked like no one gave me a chance.

“But I managed to place a credit wager with a bookie. I laid the whole of the $3,000 which I hadn’t yet won, at 50 to 1, giving the bookie a deed of ownership on my little house as surety.”

So if Tony lost, he would have no home to shelter his kids and sick wife. In the unlikely event of him beating the younger man, Tony stood to collect $150,000.

Just before he left his dressing-room, Tony spent a few minutes performing the Chant to Bring Success.

The crowd cheered the old-timer in sympathy as he slid between the ropes into the ring, but they were obviously waiting to see the older man cut to ribbons.

The young champ was relaxed and confident as the bell went for the first round. He came out like a dervish, jolting Tony’s head back with straight jabs which hurt.

“I rode most of them, which annoyed him,” Tony related. “In a clinch I got in a couple to the body which stung him, but most of the time I was just too slow to catch him. It was only a matter of time, and we both knew it.”

Tony survived the first round, and retired to his corner, breathing heavily. The champ hadn’t even raised a sweat. He grinned across the ring at Tony, and then screwed up his mouth and spat derisively at the old-timer. His dirty gesture went unnoticed by the ring officials.

The bell clanged. Round two. Tony walked towards the champ, gloves cocked. The younger man came forward fast, intent on slamming into Tony and finishing the fight then and there.

“I decided to try to get in one big punch to give the crowd a thrill. I was too slow to damage him, and he would block it,” Tony related. “But at least I’d go down like a game fighter.”

The champ came forward. He started a lethal bolo punch, aimed at Tony's jaw.

"I saw it coming, and knew that was the end," Tony said. "My reflexes just weren't fast enough for me to get out of the way.

"Then he suddenly staggered wildly, and exposed his jaw."

With all the force of his work-hardened shoulders, and with all the experience of years of ringcraft, Tony launched his right glove in a blur of motion. It took the champ on the point. His eyes glazed, and he went down like a tree.

"That was it," Tony said. "He didn't stir until after the count was over.

"The reason he went off balance was that his shoe skidded in the saliva he'd spat at me between rounds."

Tony collected his $3,000 purse, and next day he collected his $150,000 from the bookie.

"We live the life of Riley off the fat of the land now," Tony said. "My wife is fully recovered. We've got an expensive car, a new larger house, new clothes for the kids, a pool and a recreation room.

"Funny how that Chant to Bring Success worked out for me—it was as good as having a horseshoe in my glove!"

HOW TO MAKE A COSMIC CHART TO BRING ANY DESIRABLE CONDITION TO PASS

One of the most satisfying uses for your Book of Shadows is to set up a Cosmic Chart in it.

Sit down in the quiet somewhere, and think about what you need to bring yourself, and what parts of your life need improving or eradicating.

Ask your Magic Mentor or Pendulum to fill in any details you may be missing out on. You may be undervaluing yourself, and thinking you'd like a luxury penthouse, when in actual fact a richly appointed ranch-style home on your own private island would suit you better.

When you've decided on what you want to happen, list those things in order of preference.

If you're going to own a Cadillac, for instance, you'll need a garage to keep it in first. And before you get either the car or its garage, a few thousand dollars might be your target—otherwise you may find yourself with a Caddy in the garage, but no way of paying for gas, maintenance, and insurance.

So write down your NAP improvement program in the order which you feel is best for you. Again, question your Magic Mentor or Pendulum to see if you've forgotten anything.

Finally, against each item on your Cosmic Chart which is going to bring your most secret desires into splendid reality, write down which spell, chant or incantation you are going to use to achieve each of the joyous miracles for yourself.

Then go ahead and use your NAP to bring your every whim, desire, and need into glorious existence. As your miracles occur, check them off on your Cosmic Chart, briefly indicating what happened to bring the miracle into reality.

You will have noticed that NAP works its miracles in perfectly natural-seeming ways. There are no sudden puffs of green smoke or flashes of lightning which fiction writers, TV, and the movies would have us believe are necessary when magic is being worked.

What your NAP does is to work on the minds of other people, and to maneuver chance, coincidence, and fate to bring your miracles to pass.

This, you realize, is very convenient. For instance, your neighbors would run screaming from you, and start giving you a very hard time, if a large bag of gold suddenly appeared on your front lawn, complete with rolls of thunder.

But if, instead, you win a lottery, or an unexpected legacy appears, you still get the money, and all your neighbors can say is: "Wonder why he's so darn lucky all the time?"

That's the reason why you keep your NAP a secret. Enjoy your good fortune to the full, and keep its magical sources hidden.

EXAMPLE OF HOW ELAINE F. FOUND HAPPINESS WITH HER COSMIC CHART

Elaine F., a divorcee from Nevada, was almost destitute when she started to use her NAP. The Court had gone against her, and her ex-husband paid her no money.

She was eking out a bare living as a typist, a job she hated and was untrained for, and she dreaded the day when her boss would let her go because she was less efficient than the other girls.

"Everything I owned was going," she said. "I'd sold my rings long since, and I was soon going to have to sell my few sticks of furniture. I was getting thin and haggard from not eating properly. I was suffering from a painful stomach ulcer. No one wanted me. I was lonely, bad-tempered, and unsociable, and I seemed to meet only married men who wanted a good time, or misfits whom I found repulsive."

Elaine turned out to be an ideal NAP student. When she reached the stage where she could fill in her Cosmic Chart, she joyfully wrote it up.

She has given me her kind permission to print it in this book, and you will find it on page 199.

As you read it through, you can see how Elaine's Cosmic Chart gave her NAP a plan to work on, and her life went just the way she had laid it out.

She says that she has almost forgotten the misery of her previous existence as she luxuriates in the warmth and love of her new husband's gaze, and enjoys the opulence which surrounds her.

LET YOUR NEW AVATAR POWER BRING YOUR COSMIC CHART INTO GLORIOUS FULFILLMENT, PRODUCING SUCCESS, MONEY, LOVE, AND POWER FOR YOU, FOREVER

Your NAP is waiting to serve you. Nothing can stop you now from changing misery into ecstasy, poverty into plenitude, taking total control of your life and moving you towards complete contentment.

In this book I have offered you a way to master your NAP in a manner similar to the way you are taught to drive an automobile.

You can successfully drive a car for years without needing to know a thing about the technicalities under the hood. Similarly, you can use NAP with perfect success without any knowledge of the hidden parts of magic.

Consider this book to be a NAP Driving Course. You have, in effect, been shown which pedals to push, how to start the engine, and where to put in gas, oil, and water. But the difference between your NAP and an automobile is that while your car will one day need to be overhauled and repaired by an expert and will one day wear out, your NAP never needs servicing, and is with you for all time.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

GEOF GRAY-COBB is "living proof" of the Miracle of New Avatar Power, which he credits with bringing him fame, fortune, and spiritual fulfillment. Just a few short years ago, Geof Gray-Cobb was working long, hard hours in a factory. His health was poor, he owned little—just a few sticks of furniture in a third-floor walk-up on the wrong side of town. With this secret, he says, "In two brief years I soared from nothing to something. I now run an expensive British sports car . . . have appeared on TV and radio across the U.S. . . . I now live in a luxurious hi-rise apartment. My health is perfect." Formerly Occult Research Editor for the Globe Newspaper Group, Mr. Gray-Cobb's writings have appeared in Midnight, Fate, and The National Examiner. "If New Avatar Power can do all this for me," he asks, "what riches, what rewards, what amazing results can it also bring you?"
